#9 / #11 Virginia (18-6, 7-6 ACC)

VS.

#2 / #2 North Carolina (22-3, 12-1 ACC)

University Hall

Charlottesville, Va.

The Series vs. North Carolina

North Carolina leads the all-time series with the Cavaliers 114-42 in a rivalry that dates back to the 1910-11 season. Virginia lost the first meeting of the 2000-2001 season 88-81 in Chapel Hill (Jan. 24) after sweeping the regular season series from the Tar Heels last year. Last year's sweep by UVa of the regular season series marked the first time that has happened since the 1980-81 season. (UNC, however, won the meeting in the NCAA Tournament's Final Four that year).

Virginia has won seven of the last 12 games in Charlottesville (1989, 1990, 1992, 1994, 1995, 1997, 2000). Since University Hall opened for the 1965-66 season, North Carolina has won 22 of the 35 games between the two teams in the building. North Carolina leads the all-time series in games played in Charlottesville 40-25.

North Carolina has won nine of the last 12 games and 19 of the last 25 games between the two teams.

Shooting Lots of Three-Pointers Against the Tar Heels

Since the 1989-90 season, the Cavaliers attempted an average of 21.3 three-point field goals (596 in 28 games) per game against North Carolina. Virginia made 192 of those 596 attempts (32.2 percent) for 6.9 made threes per game. Since the 1988-89 season, the Cavaliers have attempted 20 or more threes in a game against the Tar Heels 18 times.

Five of Virginia's top eight games in terms of three-point field goals attempted have come against North Carolina (the other three are against Clemson). Prior to attempting a school-record 38 three-pointers against Clemson (Jan. 15, 2000), Virginia's 32 attempts against UNC on February 14, 1990 and March 7, 1997 marked the Cavaliers' all-time high for three-pointers attempted in a game.

Virginia also set its school record for most three-point field goals made in the February 14, 1990 game against UNC with 15. (Virginia equaled the mark of 15 threes made in a game against Hampton on November 25, 1998.)

Keys to the Game

Virginia needs to shoot the ball well today to help its chances to win. Since the 1989-90 season, the Cavaliers are 8-20 against North Carolina, but are 5-2 when they out-shoot the Tar Heels. The Wahoos are 3-18 when the Tar Heels out-shoot them.

Here's a look at the two teams' field goal percentages since the 1989-90 season. The winner is listed in bold.

Earlier This Season vs. North Carolina

After sweeping the season series last year, the Cavaliers fell to the then fifth-ranked Tar Heels 88-81 (Jan. 24) at the Dean E. Smith Center in Chapel Hill, N.C. Virginia led 9-4 early in the game, but North Carolina used a 21-6 run to take a 10-point lead (25-15) midway through the first half. The Tar Heels led by as many as 16 points in the first half.

Sophomore guard Roger Mason, Jr., led the Cavaliers with 17 points. Junior forward Chris Williams and sophomore forward/center Travis Watson each contributed double-doubles as Williams recorded 14 points and 11 rebounds and Watson had 16 points to go along with 10 rebounds. Senior guard Donald Hand just missed a double-double with 10 points and nine assists. Junior forward/guard Adam Hall added 14 points and graduate student guard Keith Friel chipped in 10 points, as all of the Virginia players who scored in the game registered double figures.

The Cavaliers opened the second half with a 16-4 run to cut the Tar Heels' 15-point halftime lead (50-35) down to three (54-51) with 15:30 left to play. The run was highlighted by back-to-back three-pointers by Hand and Williams. UVa was able to close within three on three occasions, but was unable to get any closer as North Carolina responded to each Virginia challenge.

UNC sophomore guard Joseph Forte led all scorers with 33 points, including 19 in the second half.

Head Coach Pete Gillen

Pete Gillen is in his 16th season as a collegiate head coach and sports a 325-162 record for a .667 winning percentage. Gillen is in his third season at Virginia and has posted a 51-34 record (.600 winning percentage). Gillen won the 300th game of his career when Virginia defeated then 21st-ranked North Carolina 87-85 on January 18, 2000 at University Hall.

Gillen has led his teams to postseason play 12 times in 15 seasons (eight NCAA, four NIT). He has been selected as the conference Coach of the Year five times - all while coaching Xavier (Midwestern Collegiate Conference).

Undefeated in Non-Conference Action

The Cavaliers won all 11 of their non-conference games this season, marking the first time since the 1981-82 season Virginia has gone undefeated in non-conference regular season play. In the 1981-82 season, UVa won all 15 of its regular season non-conference games and was 30-4 overall (12-2 in the ACC).

The AP and USA Today/ESPN Polls

The Cavaliers continue to be ranked highly in The Associated Press and USA Today/ESPN Top 25 polls. In the AP poll released February 19, Virginia is ranked ninth and the Cavaliers are 11th in the USA Today/ESPN poll released February 18. The Cavaliers have been ranked as high as sixth in the AP poll, their highest ranking since being ranked fourth in the final AP poll of the 1982-83 season (Mar. 15, 1983). Virginia has been ranked as high as ninth in the USA Today/ESPN poll four times this season - Feb. 4, Dec. 25, Jan. 1 and Jan. 7. The ranking of ninth is UVa's highest ranking since earning the eighth spot in the final poll of the 1994-95 season (April 4, 1995).

For the first time since the 1995-96 season, the Virginia men's basketball team opened a season ranked in both The Associated Press and USA Today/ESPN Top 25 polls. Virginia was ranked 24th in the AP's preseason poll and 25th in the preseason USA Today/ESPN poll.

Before the 1995-1996 season Virginia was ranked 19th in the AP and 14th in the USA Today/ESPN polls. The last time the Cavs appeared in any poll prior to this season came during the 1996-97 season when they were ranked 25th in the AP poll (12/3/96).

Here's a look at Virginia's ranking in the AP and USA Today/ESPN polls this season:

UVa vs. Second-Ranked Teams

UVa is 3-23 all time against teams ranked No. 2 in the AP poll. The Cavaliers are 3-5 against second-ranked teams at home. Virginia is 2-8 all-time against second-ranked North Carolina teams, with both of its wins coming at University Hall. The Cavaliers defeated the Tar Heels 73-71 on Feb. 19, 1995, in their last meeting with a second-ranked UNC team.

Buzzer Beaters

The Cavaliers have won their last two games on last-second, buzzer-beating shots. In Virginia's 69-66 victory at Florida State (Feb. 17), sophomore guard Roger Mason, Jr., buried a three-pointer with one second left in the game to give UVa its seventh ACC victory and second league win on the road. Mason's game-winning shot came just three days after junior forward/ guard Adam Hall laid the ball in with 0.9 second left against third-ranked Duke (Feb. 14) to clinch a 91-89 win in Charlottesville.

Prior to Hall's heroics, the Cavaliers had not scored a buzzer-beating basket since February 22, 1990, when Bryant Stith scored on a last-second shot to cement a 73-71 Virginia win at Georgia Tech.

Three Victories Over Top Ten Opponents

Virginia has defeated three top 10 teams this season for the first time since 1995. The Cavaliers defeated fourth-ranked Tennessee 107-89 on Dec. 19, ninth-ranked Maryland 99-78 on Jan. 31 and third-ranked Duke 91-89 on Feb. 14. In 1995, UVa beat second-ranked North Carolina on Feb. 19, 73-71 in Charlottesville, sixth-ranked Maryland 92-67 on March 5, also in Charlottesville, and fifth-ranked Kansas 67-58 on March 24 in the Sweet Sixteen of the NCAA Tournament.

UVa last defeated four top 10 teams during the 1979-80 season.

Virginia vs. Ranked Teams

UVa is 5-3 this season against teams ranked in the top 25 of the AP poll at the time the game was played. Here's a list of Virginia's top 25 games:

UVa Posts Win Over Third-Ranked Duke

UVa beat third-ranked Duke, 91-89, on Feb. 14 in Charlottesville. It's the highest-ranked opponent Virginia has beaten since toppling second-ranked North Carolina, 73-71, on Feb. 19, 1995 at University Hall.

The victory snapped a number of Duke winning streaks, including the Blue Devils' ACC-record 24-game road winning streak. The win also brought an end to Duke's 12-game winning streak over the Cavaliers, which dated back to Jan. 13, 1996 (the Blue Devils were ranked in the top 10 for the last 11 of those games).

In addition, Virginia held the Blue Devils to less than 100 points for the first time in seven games.

Aside from the broken streaks, Virginia's 91-89 win marked a school-record 44-point turnaround from its earlier 103-61 loss at Duke on Jan. 13. The 44-point turnaround ties for the eighth-largest point turnaround in ACC history. The Cavaliers also became just the second team in ACC history to win the second regular season game after losing the first regular season contest by 40 or more points.

Virginia is now 13-50 all time against ranked Duke teams.

Good Start

Virginia began the 2000-2001 season with 10 consecutive wins before falling to Wake Forest (Jan. 2), marking its best start since the 1992-93 campaign. The 1992-93 team started the season with an 11-0 record. The 10 straight wins to start this season marked the eighth time in the 96-year history of the men's basketball program UVa won 10 games to start a season.

The Cavaliers now stand at 18-6 on the season.

The 1999-2000 Season

Virginia finished the 1999-2000 season with a 19-12 overall record and a 9-7 mark in the Atlantic Coast Conference. The Cavs advanced to postseason play for the first time since receiving a bid to the 1997 NCAA Tournament, but fell to Georgetown in the first round of the 2000 National Invitation Tournament 115-111 in triple overtime.

Two Top Five Wins

The Cavaliers' 107-89 win over fourth-ranked Tennessee (Dec. 19) at the Jimmy V Classic marked the first time since the 1995 season that Virginia defeated a top-five ranked team. Virginia accomplished the feat again with its 91-89 win over third-ranked Duke on Wednesday, Feb. 14.

Prior to this season, the Cavaliers had not defeated two top five teams in the same season since the 1994-1995 campaign. That year, UVa posted a 67-58 win over Kansas in the Sweet 16 of the NCAA Tournament on March 24 in Kansas City, Mo. The Jayhawks were ranked fourth in the AP poll and fifth in the USAToday/ESPN poll at the time. The Cavaliers' first top five win of the 1994-95 season was against second-ranked North Carolina (73-71) on February 19 in Charlottesville.

The last time Virginia defeated a top five team on the road was on January 17, 1993 when UVa defeated third-ranked Duke 77-69 in Durham, N.C.

Three Consecutive ACC Victories

The Cavaliers posted three consecutive ACC wins (Clemson - Jan. 27, Maryland - Jan. 31 and Wake Forest - Feb. 3) earlier this season, which was one victory shy of matching UVa's longest conference winning streak from last season. In 1999-00, UVa posted consecutive ACC wins over Clemson (Jan. 15), North Carolina (Jan. 18), Florida State (Jan. 26) and Wake Forest (Jan. 30).

Back-to-Back-to-Back Wins Over Ranked ACC Teams

Virginia defeated three ranked ACC teams January 31, February 3, and February 14, marking the first time since the 1981-82 season the Cavaliers defeated ranked conference opponents in three consecutive games. UVa posted a 99-78 win over ninth-ranked Maryland (Jan. 31), an 82-71 triumph over 16th-ranked Wake Forest (Feb. 3) and a 91-89 win over third-ranked Duke (Feb. 14). The last time Virginia accomplished the feat was in 1982 when it defeated 18th-ranked Wake Forest 69-66 in Greensboro (Jan. 27), second-ranked North Carolina 74-58 in Charlottesville (Feb. 3) and 18th-ranked Wake Forest for the second time, 84-66 in Charlottesville (Feb. 18).

It Won't Get Any Easier

The Cavaliers have already played six top 16 teams in conference play (and are 3-3), but still have two more ACC games against top 20 competition, including Sunday's (Feb. 25) game against second-ranked North Carolina at University Hall. The Cavaliers travel to Maryland for their other top 20 matchup on March 3.

Home Sweet Home

Virginia has found great success at home this season, but has struggled away from the friendly confines of University Hall. The Cavaliers are 12-1 at U-Hall (5-1 in ACC games) and 6-5 away from home. UVa won its only neutral site game (Tennessee - Dec. 19), and is 5-5 in away contests. The Cavaliers are 2-5 in away conference contests.

The last time the Cavaliers won more than 12 home contests was during the 1994-95 season when UVa had 14 home wins, including a 73-71 win over then-second-ranked North Carolina on Feb. 19, 1995.

A Rare Feat

Senior guard Donald Hand has recorded 1,424 points, 378 rebounds, 502 assists and 171 steals in his career. Hand is just the third UVa player with at least 1,000 points, 300 rebounds, 400 assists and 150 steals in a career. The other two UVa players to accomplish the feat are Othell Wilson (1981-84) - 1,469 points, 375 rebounds, 493 assists and 222 steals, and Harold Deane (1994-97) - 1,763 points, 440 rebounds, 468 assists and 179 steals.
4 • Virginia vs. North Carolina, February 25, 2001

Scoring Lots of Points

The Cavaliers are having an excellent season offensively. Through the first 24 games of the season, UVa is averaging 86.4 points per game which is second among all Atlantic Coast Conference schools. As of Feb. 19, Virginia ranked third in the nation in scoring offense. The school record for the highest scoring average is 89.8 points per game in the 1954-55 season.

UVa is also shooting 46.5 percent (712-1530) from the floor this season. The last time Virginia shot better than 46.5 percent from the field in a season was in the 1986-87 season when it shot 49.6 percent (888-1789) from the floor. The last time UVa shot 50 percent from the field in a season was in the 1985-86 season when the Cavaliers connected on 50.1 percent (838-1672) from the floor.

Big Wins

Thirteen of the Cavaliers' 18 wins this season have been by 16 points or more. Ten of the 18 wins have been by 19 or more points. UVa's two-point win (91-89) over Duke (Feb. 14) is its smallest margin of victory this season. Virginia is outscoring its opponents in its wins by 21.7 points per game (91.9 to 70.2). Overall, UVa is outscoring its opponents by 12.4 points per game (86.4 to 74.0).

Big Leads

One of the reasons for Virginia's success is its ability to build big leads. In 11 of Virginia's wins this season, it built leads of 20 or more points. In two Cavalier victories (VMI - Dec. 4 and UMBC - Dec. 23), they led by at least 18 points. In its wins over Missouri (Jan. 20) and Wake Forest (Feb. 3), Virginia led by as many as 15 points. UVa's smallest lead in a win was six points (Florida State - Feb. 17).

The exact opposite is true in UVa's six losses this season. The Cavaliers' biggest lead in a loss is five points (Georgia Tech - Jan. 9 and North Carolina - Jan. 24). In its loss at Georgia Tech (Feb. 11), Virginia's largest lead was four points, while against N.C. State (Feb. 7), UVa's largest lead was three points. Against Wake Forest (Jan. 2), Virginia's largest lead was two points. UVa never led in its loss to Duke (Jan. 13).

Raining Threes

Virginia turned in three of its best long range shooting performances of the season in January. Against Florida State (Jan. 16), the Cavaliers converted 11 of 23 three-point attempts (47.8 percent) with the 11 threes setting a season high at the time. Against Clemson (Jan. 27), UVa made a season-best 12 three-point field goals on 24 attempts (50 percent). In their win over Maryland (Jan. 31), the Cavaliers made 10 of 20 three-point attempts (50 percent).

After making a total of 22 threes in wins over Clemson and Maryland, UVa was just 12-51 (23.5 percent) from three-point range in its next three games (5-13 vs. Wake Forest - Feb. 3, 4-20 vs. N.C. State - Feb. 7, and 3-18 vs. Georgia Tech - Feb. 11). The Cavaliers broke out of their long-range shooting slump against Duke, going 7-16 from behind the arc (43.8 percent), and continued their hot shooting from long range against Florida State (Feb. 17), making seven of their 14 attempts from three-point range (50 percent).

Being Outshot

Virginia got off to a great start shooting the basketball this season, but has managed to shoot 50 percent only four times in its last 14 games. UVA's opponents have reached 50 percent shooting seven times this year and six times in the last 14 games. On the season, UVA is outshooting its opponents 46.5 percent to 46.0 percent in all games, but the Cavaliers are being outshot 49.8 percent to 44.7 percent in ACC contests.

The Cavaliers are 10-0 on the season when they shoot 50 percent or better in a game and 8-6 when they shoot below 50 percent.

Defense the Key

The Cavaliers got off to a slow start in ACC play as they won only one of their first four and two of six conference contests. Virginia has won five of its last seven ACC games and much of the Cavaliers' recent success can be attributed to better defense. In UVA's last seven ACC games (five wins), the Cavaliers have held their opponent under 50 percent shooting from the field six times. The only team to shoot 50 percent against UVA was N.C. State (Feb. 7) which shot 56.6 percent (30-53) from the floor.

In its seven ACC wins, Virginia is holding its opponents to 47.2 percent shooting (195-413), while in six conference losses, the Cavaliers' opponents are shooting 52.9 percent (184-348).

The Cavaliers are 5-0 when they outshoot their ACC opponent and just 2-6 when they are outshot by their conference foes.

On the season, UVA's ACC opponents are shooting 49.8 percent (379-761) from the field, down from the 55.1 percent the Cavaliers' first six conference opponents shot this season.

Overcoming a Deficit

In addition to being able to build big leads, Virginia showed its ability to overcome a deficit in its 88-81 victory over N.C. State (Jan. 6). The Cavaliers trailed by 11 points (55-44) with 15:54 to go in the game, but outscored the Wolfpack 44-26 the rest of the way to earn an 88-81 victory.

50 Point Halves

Virginia has put together 15 50-plus point halves this season in 24 games (48 halves) - that translates to 31.3 percent of the halves in which UVA has reached 50 points. Last season, the Cavaliers only had seven 50-plus point halves in 31 games (62 halves) - or 11.3 percent.

50 Percent Shooting

After shooting 26.8 percent (19-71) from the field against Duke (Jan. 13) in the teams' first meeting, the Cavaliers more than doubled their shooting percentage against the Blue Devils in their second meeting (Feb. 14). In that game, Virginia shot 53.8 percent from the field, which is a 27 percent increase.

UVA has shot 53.8 percent or better in ACC games three times this year. The first time was against Florida State (Jan. 16). In the win over the Seminoles, UVA shot an impressive 55.7 percent (34-61) from the field - an increase of 28.9 percent from their 26.8 percent showing against Duke in the team's previous game. UVA's 55.7 percent performance also snapped a streak of four consecutive games Virginia shot under 50 percent. During that span, UVA was 88-246 (35.8 percent) from the field.

Against Clemson (Jan. 27) the Cavaliers shot 57.4 percent (39-68), marking the first time since February 14, 1998, UVA has shot better than 50 percent in an ACC contest on the road. In that game, UVA shot 52.2 percent (36-69) but lost to Georgia Tech 105-86 in Atlanta, Ga.

Virginia has shot better than 50 percent in four ACC games this season and the Cavaliers won all of those games.

50 Percent in Back-to-Back ACC Games

In addition to shooting 57.4 percent (39-68) against Clemson (Jan. 27), the Cavaliers shot 52.9 percent (36-68) against Maryland (Jan. 31). It marked the first time in 11 years (almost to the day) that Virginia shot 50 percent or better in back-to-back ACC games. In the 1990-91 season, UVA shot 56.6 percent (43-76) in a 104-72 win over N.C. State (Jan. 29), and then shot exactly 50 percent (33-66) in an 83-80 win over Wake Forest (Feb. 2). Both games were played in Charlottesville.

The Cavaliers defeated both Clemson and Maryland by more than 20 points (UVA won at Clemson 104-76 - Jan. 27, and defeated Maryland 99-78 at University Hall - Jan. 31). The last time Virginia posted back-to-back 20-plus point ACC wins was in the 1993-94 season. In the 1993-94 season, the Cavaliers defeated Florida State 84-64 (Jan. 6, 1994) and then beat N.C. State 79-58 (Jan. 9, 1994). Both games were played in Charlottesville.

Second Half Shooting Surge

The Cavaliers are 7-3 in their last 10 games and a lot of that has to do with UVA's shooting in the second half. In the last 10 games, Virginia shot 55.3 percent (167-302) in the second half and averaged 48 points. In three of the 10 games, UVA has shot better than 60 percent in the second half - Florida State (Jan. 16) - 64.5 percent (20-31), Clemson (Jan. 27) - 66.7 percent (22-33), and Maryland (Jan. 31) - 64.5 percent (20-31).

Conversely, in the first half of the last 10 games, UVA shot 40.2 percent (125-311) and averaged 35.6 points.

Power Outage

UVA scored a season-low 56 points in its 62-56 loss at Georgia Tech (Feb. 11), more than 32 points below its scoring average of 88.4 points per game entering the contest. The Cavaliers' previous season-low for points was 61 vs. Duke (Jan. 13).

In two meetings against the Yellow Jackets this season, Virginia averaged just 62 points per game.

100 Points on the Road

Virginia scored 104 points in its victory over Clemson (Jan. 27) and it marked the first time since the 1982-83 season the Cavaliers reached the century mark in an ACC road game. The last time Virginia scored 100 points in an ACC away game was on March 2, 1983 when the Cavaliers defeated Wake Forest 107-74 at the Greensboro Coliseum in Greensboro, N.C. (Greensboro Coliseum and Memorial Coliseum both served as home courts for the Deacs).

50 Points

Virginia has held three of its opponents to 50 points or less this season. UVa limited Virginia Tech to 48 points in its 64-48 victory (Nov. 24) for its season low. Virginia held Bucknell to 49 points in a 99-49 victory (Dec. 28) and Long Island University to 50 points in a 96-50 triumph (Nov. 17).

When UVa limited Virginia Tech to 48 points, it marked the fewest points the Cavaliers have allowed in a game under head coach Pete Gillen. The previous record for fewest points allowed in a game under Gillen was 50 by Dartmouth last season (Jan. 2, 2000) and Long Island University earlier this season (Nov. 17).

Prior to holding Virginia Tech to 48 points, UVa's opponents were averaging 75.8 points per game during Gillen's tenure. Virginia held the Hokies nearly 28 points below that average.

Virginia's offense was rolling in its victory over Coastal Carolina (Nov. 20). The Cavaliers lit up the scoreboard in the 117-78 victory with the 117 points tying for the fourth highest single game output in school history. UVa also scored 117 points against Baldwin-Wallace (117-83) in the 1972 season. The school record for points in a game is 128 vs. George Mason (128-98) in 1995. The second highest output is 124 points against Johns Hopkins (124-60) in the 1983 season, while the third highest point total is 118 vs. BYU-Hawaii (118-84) in the 1982 season.

The Cavaliers' 117 points are the most the team has scored since a 115-111 triple overtime loss to Georgetown in last season's NIT.

Virginia scored 70 points in the second half of its 117-78 victory over Coastal Carolina (Nov. 20), which is believed to be a school record for points in a half. The previous known high for points in a half was 69 in the second half of UVa's 128-98 victory over George Mason on January 28, 1995. Virginia scored 67 points in the second half of a 124-60 win against Johns Hopkins on November 26, 1982.

Only One Steal

The Cavaliers had just one steal in their 96-73 loss at Wake Forest (Jan. 2). The last time UVa had only one steal in a game was against Duke on March 5, 1998. It wasn't the fewest steals ever in a game against the Deacs, as UVa went without a steal against Wake Forest on January 4, 1998.

Equalling a Foul Record

Virginia committed 35 personal fouls in its loss at N.C. State (Feb. 7) which ties the school record for most personal fouls committed in a game. The Cavaliers also committed 35 fouls against Duke on February 4, 1984. UVa's previous 2000-01 season high for fouls was 28 vs. Tennessee (Dec. 19).

Scoring in Double Figures

All five of Virginia's regular starters are averaging double figures in scoring both in overall and ACC games this season.

Roger Mason, Jr.,	15.1 ppg overall	14.4 ppg ACC
Chris Williams	15.0 ppg overall	15.5 ppg ACC
Travis Watson	13.0 ppg overall	12.4 ppg ACC
Donald Hand	12.6 ppg overall	12.6 ppg ACC
Adam Hall	10.3 ppg overall	10.5 ppg ACC

Consistency

Junior forward Chris Williams has quietly been UVa's most consistent player this season. Williams has reached double figures in scoring in 20 of his last 21 games (the streak was snapped when he scored five points against Georgia Tech - Feb. 11) and in 21 of 24 this season. In addition to his scoring, Williams has also been a consistent rebounder. He has pulled down six or more rebounds in 19 of 24 contests. Williams registered double-doubles in consecutive contests (Missouri - Jan. 20 and North Carolina - Jan. 24). He also had a double-double with 21 points and 12 rebounds in UVa's victory over Duke on February 14.

On the season, Williams is second on the team in scoring with an average of 15.0 points per game (eighth in the ACC) and he averages 15.5 points per game in ACC contests (seventh in the ACC). He is second on the team in rebounds with 6.6 per game (ninth in the ACC). Williams leads the team in field goal percentage (minimum of five made field goals per game) at 52.1 percent (126-242, fourth in the ACC) and is second in steals (34). Williams is also fifth on the team in free throw percentage (76.9 percent, 83-108).

The Shooting Touch

Junior forward Chris Williams, who is shooting 52.1 percent (126-242) from the field this season, has been an excellent shooter throughout his career. He is shooting 51.3 percent (487-950) from the floor in his three years at UVa. Williams has shot better than 50 percent from the field in all three of his collegiate seasons.

Hand Equals Career High in Assists

Senior guard Donald Hand dished out 11 assists in the Cavaliers' 117-78 win over Coastal Carolina (Nov. 20) to tie his career high. He also recorded 11 assists last season against Hampton (Dec. 10, 1999).

Getting Better With Age

Each year senior guard Donald Hand has increased his single season high in assists. He had 99 assists as a freshman in 1997-98 and 123 as a sophomore in 1998-99. As a junior in 1999-2000, Hand increased his single season high to 133. After 24 games this season, Hand has established a new personal single season best with 147 assists which ties for seventh on UVa's single season assists list. Harold Deane had 147 assists during the 1994-95 season. Hand needs just six more assists to overtake Othell Wilson for sixth place. Wilson had 152 assists during the 1982-83 season.

Joining the Millennium Club

Virginia junior forward Chris Williams became UVa's 34th player to score 1,000 career points when he drilled a three-point basket with 6:10 remaining in the first half against Coastal Carolina (Nov. 20). Williams finished the game with 15 points and currently has 1,345 in his career. He is now 18th on UVa's all-time scoring list. Williams joins senior guard Donald Hand as current players reaching the 1,000-point plateau. Hand scored his 1,000th point on Feb. 5, 2000 versus Duke and currently has 1,424 points. Hand is in 15th place on Virginia's all-time scoring list. With three more points, Hand will move into 14th place and with 14 he will be 13th.

Hand and Williams are the first pair of UVa teammates to both have recorded 1,000 career points since Curtis Staples (1,757 points) and Norman Nolan (1,321) played together during the 1997-98 season.

Here's a look at where Hand and Williams stand on Virginia's all-time scoring list:

1. Bryant Stith (1989-92)	2,516
10. Bob McCarty (1954-56)	1,625
11. Richard Morgan (1986-89)	1,540
12. Othell Wilson (1981-84)	1,469
13. Barry Parkhill (1971-73)	1,437
14. Jim Connelly (1965-67)	1,426
15. Donald Hand (1998-pres.)	1,424
16. Lee Raker (1978-81)	1,423
17. Mel Kennedy (1985-88)	1,415
18. Chris Williams (1999-pres.)	1,345
19. Norman Nolan (1995-98)	1,321
20. Cory Alexander (1992-95)	1,286

Hall Sets Rebounding Mark

Junior forward/guard Adam Hall grabbed 17 rebounds against Wake Forest (Feb. 3), including 11 in the second half. Hall's 17 rebounds set not only a career best, but is the most by a UVa player since Junior Burrough pulled down 19 rebounds against Florida State on February 4, 1995.

Hall's previous career best was 12 rebounds against Clemson (Jan. 27) earlier this season. His 17 rebounds also ties for the second most by an ACC player this season. Over the last seven games, Hall has pulled down 58 rebounds for an average of 8.3 per game.

Overcoming Great Shooting

The Cavaliers defeated N.C. State (Jan. 6) 88-81 despite the Wolfpack shooting 61.2 percent (30-49) in the game. Virginia opponents shot better than 60 percent in a game 46 times through the years and UVa has won nine of those contests. The previous time Virginia defeated an opponent that shot 60 percent or better in a game was Missouri (64-62) on February 9, 1986. The Tigers shot exactly 60 percent (30-50) from the field in the game. The previous ACC opponent UVa defeated that shot 60 percent or better in a game was Clemson (77-70) on February 21, 1984. Clemson shot 67.5 percent (27-40) in the game.

Mathis Named ACC Rookie of the Week

Freshman forward J.C. Mathis was selected as the ACC Co-Rookie of the Week for his play in UVa's wins over ninth-ranked Maryland (99-78 - Jan. 31) and 16th-ranked Wake Forest (82-71 - Feb. 3). He shared the award with N.C. State's Trey Guidry. Mathis, who played a career-high 22 minutes, played a crucial role in UVa's win over Wake Forest (Feb. 3). He filled in very well for an injured Travis Watson, who missed the final six minutes of the first half and the first three minutes of the second half before returning to the game. Mathis scored a career-high eight points on three of four shooting from the field and two for two from the free throw line against Wake. His previous career high was seven points versus VMI (Dec. 4). Mathis also equalled his career high with four rebounds.

Eight Double Digit Scorers

In the 24 games of the 2000-2001 season, the Cavaliers have had eight different players score in double figures in a game. Virginia had 11 players reach double figures in scoring last season.

UVa's double figure scorers this season are: (only first double digit performance is listed with the number of times a player reached double figures in scoring in parentheses)

Stephane Dondon (3)	17 vs. Long Island Univ. (Nov. 17)
Travis Watson (21)	16 vs. Long Island Univ. (Nov. 17)
Donald Hand (15)	12 vs. Coastal Carolina (Nov. 20)
Roger Mason, Jr. (18)	28 vs. Coastal Carolina (Nov. 20)
Chris Williams (21)	15 vs. Coastal Carolina (Nov. 20)
Keith Friel (8)	15 vs. Virginia Tech (Nov. 24)
Adam Hall (14)	14 vs. Purdue (Nov. 29)
Maurice Young (2)	10 vs. Bucknell (Dec. 28)

Six Different Leading Scorers

Virginia has had six different players lead the team in scoring in games this season: (only the first time a player led the team in scoring is listed with the number of times a player led the team in scoring in parentheses)

Stephane Dondon (1)	17 vs. Long Island Univ. (Nov. 17)
Roger Mason, Jr. (7)	28 vs. Coastal Carolina (Nov. 20)
Keith Friel (3)	15 vs. Virginia Tech (Nov. 24)
Travis Watson (2)	16 vs. Ohio University (Dec. 6)
Donald Hand (7)	24 vs. Purdue (Nov. 29)
Chris Williams (6)	24 vs. Purdue (Nov. 29)

No Turnovers Times Two

In Virginia's 88-81 loss to North Carolina (Jan. 24), senior guard Donald Hand did not commit a turnover while dishing out nine assists. It marks the second time this season Hand did not commit a turnover in a game and the fourth time in his career. In UVa's 98-79 win over Purdue (Nov. 29), Hand handed out eight assists and did not commit a turnover. The other no turnover games came last season against Clemson (Jan. 15) - 5 assists, 0 turnovers, and Florida State (Jan. 26) - 3 assists, 0 turnovers.

Mason Named ACC Player of the Week

Sophomore guard Roger Mason, Jr., was named the ACC Player of the week for the week ending February 18. Mason led the Cavaliers to a pair of ACC victories during the week. He scored 20 points with eight-of-14 shooting from the field and had seven rebounds and five assists in Virginia's 91-89 victory over Duke (Feb. 14). He added 19 points, including a game-winning three-pointer with one second remaining in the contest, in a 69-66 win over Florida State (Feb. 17). It is the first time a Cavalier player has been named ACC Player of the Week this season.

Truly a Charity Stripe

Sophomore guard Roger Mason, Jr., has made the most of his free throw attempts this season. Mason made 45 consecutive free throw attempts before missing his third attempt against N.C. State (Jan. 6). Mason was just three free throws shy of equalling Jeff Lamp's 1979-80 school record of 48 consecutive made free throws. On the season, Mason has made 102-117 (87.2 percent) free throw attempts, which is second in the ACC.

Against UMBC (Dec. 23), Mason made all 14 of his free throw attempts and his perfect effort tied the second best free throw performance by a UVa player in a game. Bryant Stith made all 14 of his free throws against Georgia Tech on January 21, 1990. Buzzy Wilkinson holds the school record with a perfect 17 for 17 effort against Washington & Lee on January 14, 1955. Mason's 14-14 effort against UMBC ties for the sixth best performance in NCAA Division I this season.

By making all five of his free throw attempts against Florida State (Feb. 17), Mason pushed his season free throw percentage to 87.2 percent (102-117), which puts him just ahead of Jeff Lamp's school record for free throw percentage in a single season. Lamp made 154-178 free throws for 86.5 percent in the 1980-81 season. Mason has made 165-194 free throws in his career for a mark of 85.1 percent, which also edges him ahead of Lamp's UVa career free throw percentage of 84.9 percent (635-748).

Mason's streak of 45 consecutive free throws made began against Purdue (Nov. 29) when he made his last four free throws (he was five for six in the game). Mason was two for two against VMI (Dec. 4), four for four versus Ohio (Dec. 6), and nine for nine against Tennessee (Dec. 19). He was 14-14 against UMBC (Dec. 23), before going three for three against Bucknell (Dec. 28). Against Dartmouth (Dec. 30), Mason was four for four from the line and he made three free throws versus Wake Forest (Jan. 2). He made his first two free throws against N.C. State (Jan. 6) before seeing his streak end at 45.

Mason Sets Career Highs

Sophomore guard Roger Mason, Jr., set career highs for points and assists in a game in UVa's 117-78 win over Coastal Carolina (Nov. 20). Mason tallied 28 points on 10 of 14 shooting from the field, including a two-for-three effort from three-point range, and he also made six of seven free throws. His former career best was 22 points against Duke (Jan. 5, 2000). With seven assists against the Chanticleers, Mason surpassed his previous career best of 8 • Virginia vs. North Carolina, February 25, 2001 four assists on three different occasions.

Mason is currently the Cavaliers' leading scorer with an average of 15.1 points per game (seventh in the ACC) and he is second in the ACC in free throw percentage at 87.2 percent (102-117).

NCAA Statistics

Virginia appears in several categories in the NCAA Division I statistics for games played through February 19.

Individually, guard Donald Hand is 22nd in assists with 6.1 assists per game. Sophomore guard Roger Mason, Jr. is 26th in free throw percentage at 87.2 percent (102-117), while sophomore forward/center Travis Watson is tied for 38th in rebounding with 9.2 per game.

As a team, the Cavaliers are third in scoring offense at 86.4 points per game. Virginia is 17th in the nation in scoring margin at plus 12.4 points per game (86.4 to 74.0) and 18th in rebound margin at +6.3 (38.8 to 32.5)

Taking Care of the Basketball

In 24 games this season, the Cavaliers have committed 333 turnovers for an average of 13.9 per game. UVa has committed more than 15 turnovers in a game only seven times this season - 23 vs. Georgia Tech (Jan. 9), 22 vs. N.C. State (Feb. 7), 21 vs. Duke (Jan. 13), 17 vs. Tennessee (Dec. 19), 17 vs. Duke (Feb. 14), 17 vs. Virginia Tech (Nov. 24) and 16 vs. Florida State (Feb. 17). On the other hand, Virginia's opponents have committed 419 turnovers for an average of 17.5 per game. The fewest turnovers a UVa opponent has committed in a game this season is nine by Wake Forest (Jan. 2).

The Cavaliers committed more turnovers than their opponent in a game just six times this season - and four of those six times UVa has lost.

No Blocks For and Against

The Cavaliers failed to block an opponent's shot in consecutive games against Duke (Jan. 13) and Florida State (Jan. 16), marking the eighth time in school history UVa has not blocked a shot in consecutive games. The last time UVa failed to block a shot in consecutive games was in the 1988-89 season (Georgia Tech - Feb. 6 and Duke - Feb. 8). In the 1986-87 season, the Cavaliers had a streak of three consecutive games in which they failed to block a shot (Rutgers - Dec. 29, Duke - Jan. 3, and Brown - Jan. 5).

The Duke (Jan. 13) and Florida State (Jan. 16) games are the only games this season in which Virginia has failed to block a shot. Last season, the Cavaliers failed to block a shot in three games and the last time that occurred was against Wake Forest (Mar. 2).

N.C. State (Jan. 6) did not block a Virginia shot, marking the first time this season and third in the past two years, a UVa opponent failed to block a shot in a game.

The last Virginia ACC opponent prior to N.C. State that failed to block a UVa shot was Clemson (Jan. 17, 1999).

Shooting the Long Ball

Virginia's current roster features four of the top 11 career three-point field goal leaders in school history. Senior guard Donald Hand is currently in fourth place with 147 three-pointers. Junior Chris Williams, graduate student Keith Friel and junior Adam Hall are also ranked in the top 11 of UVa's three-point field goal list. Friel is currently eighth with 97 career threes (Friel's have come in just two seasons), while Williams is just behind him in ninth place with 96 career threes. Hall is tied with Willie Dersch (1997-00) for 10th place all-time with 72 three-pointers.

In the 2000-2001 season, Friel has made 52 of 121 (43 percent) three-point field goal attempts. In the 1999-2000 season, Friel's first at UVa, he hit 45-109 (.413) three-pointers. Friel's 41.3 percent accuracy from behind the line last season ranks as the fifth best performance by a Cavalier in that category. In addition to his 97 career threes at Virginia, Friel also made 60 three-pointers in two seasons at Notre Dame and has a total of 157 career threes.

Here's a look at Virginia's all-time three-point field goal leaders:

1. Curtis Staples (1995-98)	413 (NCAA record)
2. Harold Deane (1994-97)	237
3. John Crotty (1988-91)	179
4. Donald Hand (1998-pres.)	147
5. Cory Alexander (1992-95)	142
6. Richard Morgan (1986-89)	132
7. Bryant Stith (1989-92)	114
8. Keith Friel (2000-pres.)	97
9. Chris Williams (1999-pres.)	96
10. Willie Dersch (1997-00)	72
10. Adam Hall (1999-pres.)	72

Hand's Free Throw Streak Ends at 33

Senior guard Donald Hand had his impressive streak of consecutive made free throws end at 33 against Wake Forest (Jan. 2). Hand converted his first eight attempts from the line in the game before missing his next two free throws with 5:53 remaining in the contest. Hand's streak dated back to the Purdue game (Nov. 29) when he made his final six attempts (he was nine of 11 in the game).

On the season, Hand has made 104 of 125 free throw attempts for an impressive 83.2 percent, which is fourth in the ACC. He had made his last 21 free throws, including a perfect 11-11 effort against N.C. State (Feb. 7), before missing his third attempt against Georgia Tech (Feb. 11).

Hand has made 435 of 554 (78.5 percent) of his free throw attempts in his career. His 435 made free throws rank sixth all-time at UVa. Hand just passed Ralph Sampson (1980-83), who made 427 free throws. Hand needs five more made free throws to move past Junior Burrough (1992-95) into fifth place.

Hand Among Assists and Steals Leaders

In addition to holding the fourth spot on UVa's career three-point field goal list (147 three-pointers), senior guard Donald Hand ranks in Virginia's top five in both career assists and steals. Hand is in third place on the Cavaliers' all-time assists list with 502. He became just the third Virginia player to dish out 500 assists in a career after handing out three assists against Florida State (Feb. 17). Jeff Jones (1979-82) is second with 598 assists. Hand is also fifth in career steals with 171. He needs seven more to move past Bryant Stith (1989-92) for fourth place. In addition, Hand is 15th on UVa's career scoring list with 1,424 points. With three more points, Hand would jump up to 14th place.

Here's a look at Virginia's all-time assists and steals leaders:

Assists

1. John Crotty (1988-91)	683
2. Jeff Jones (1979-82)	598
3. Donald Hand (1998-pres.)	502
4. Othell Wilson (1981-84)	493
5. Harold Deane (1994-97)	468

Steals

1. Othell Wilson (1981-84)	222
2. Jeff Jones (1979-82)	189
3. Harold Deane (1994-97)	179
4. Bryant Stith (1989-92)	177
5. Donald Hand (1998-pres.)	171
6. Richard Morgan (1986-89)	160

Good Ratio

On the season, senior guard Donald Hand has recorded 147 assists (6.1 assists per game) while committing 80 turnovers for a 1.84 to 1 assist to turnover ratio.

Hand is third among all ACC players with 6.1 assists per game overall and is third with 5.5 assists per game in ACC play. He is fourth on the team in scoring with an average of 12.6 points per game and has led the team in scoring seven times this year, including three of the last six games. Hand has scored at least 20 points in four of the last seven games and five of the last nine. He also leads the team with 39 steals.

Eleven Double-Doubles for Watson

This season sophomore forward/center Travis Watson leads the ACC with 11 double-doubles, including six in conference games. Watson has registered double-doubles in seven of his last 13 games. His double-doubles are listed on page 11 of the notes (along with all of UVa's players' double-doubles).

Watson has recorded 19 double-doubles in his career.

Rebounding

The undersized Cavaliers have been rebounding the basketball very well this season and hold an ACC-leading plus 6.3 margin (38.8-32.5) over their opponents. Through 24 games, Virginia has only been outrebounded four times (VMI 41-39 - Dec. 4, Duke 43-41 - Jan. 13, North Carolina 39-34 - Jan. 24, and Georgia Tech 39-34 - Feb. 11). UVa is 1-3 this season when it is outrebounded. However, the Cavaliers are 16-2 when they outrebound their opponent. In nine games, UVa has outrebounded its opponent by 10 or more rebounds. Last season, UVa averaged 36.3 rebounds per game compared to 38.8 this year. On the offensive glass, the Cavaliers are averaging 15.0 per game (second in the ACC) this year compared to 12.7 per game last season.

Hall Records First Double-Double of the Season

Junior forward/guard Adam Hall tallied 17 points and 12 rebounds in UVa's 104-76 victory over Clemson (Jan.

27), marking his first double-double of the season. It is also the second double-double of his career with his first coming against Georgetown in the 2000 NIT (21 points, 11 rebounds).

On the season, Hall is fifth on the team in scoring with an average of 10.3 points per game overall and an average of 10.5 points per game in the ACC. Hall is leading the team in field goal shooting with an impressive 53.7 percent (102-190) from the field. He is third on the team in rebounding at 5.4 boards per contest, including a career-high 17 rebounds against Wake Forest (Feb. 3).

Watson Ties Career High in Rebounds

Sophomore forward/center Travis Watson tied his career high by pulling down 16 rebounds against UMBC (Dec. 23). His 16 rebounds equalled his career high set against Duke on January 5, 2000.

Watson is third on the team in scoring with 13.0 points per game and is second in the ACC with 9.2 rebounds per game. He has led the team in rebounding in 11 of the last 17 games and 16 times (in 24 games) this season. Watson is shooting 51.0 percent (129-253) from the floor.

Only One Three

Graduate student guard Keith Friel did not play in UVa's game against UMBC (Dec. 23) and consequently, the Cavaliers struggled from beyond the three-point arc. UVa made just one of 13 three-point attempts, marking the fewest three-pointers the Cavaliers have made in a game in the Pete Gillen era.

The Cavaliers entered the game against UMBC averaging 7.7 three-point field goals per game and 43.2 percent (54-125) from beyond the arc, but were just one of 13 against the Retrievers.

Great Second Half

Junior forward Chris Williams had a tremendous second half against N.C. State (Jan. 6) as he scored all 17 of his points, including an eight of eight effort from the free throw line, and added six of his seven rebounds. Williams played just three minutes of the first half and had one rebound and one assist after getting into early foul trouble. Just 21 seconds into the second half, Williams picked up his fourth foul, but stayed in the game.

That's when Williams went to work. He scored seven-straight UVa points in a span of 2:15 and 10 of the next 12.

Williams came out of the game at the 13:19 mark, but returned with 11:36 to play. He drained a three-point field goal at the 11:04 mark to pull UVa within two (60-58). Williams also made four free throws down the stretch as the Cavaliers rallied for an 88-81 victory.

Friel For Three

Guard Keith Friel is having a fine season shooting from three-point range. Friel has made 52 of 121 three-point attempts for an impressive 43.0 shooting percentage. He is fourth in the ACC in three-point field goal shooting. Friel made a UVa career-high five three-pointers on eight attempts against Virginia Tech (Nov. 24) and scored 15 points. Friel made four of five three-point attempts in scoring a then UVa career-high 16 points against Ohio (Dec. 6). He made four of six threes scoring 16 points against Tennessee (Dec. 19). Against Florida State (Jan. 16), Friel established a new UVa career high for points with 22 and equalled his Virginia career high with five threes (on nine attempts). Friel matched his UVa career high with five threes (on eight attempts) and scored 17 points against Maryland (Jan. 31). His overall career best effort from beyond the arc is eight threes against Syracuse (Jan. 21, 1998) while playing for Notre Dame.

Here's a look at Friel's game-by-game three-point field goal shooting in the 2000-2001 season:

The Farther the Better

Guard Keith Friel is shooting better from three-point range than he is from inside the arc. Friel has connected on 52 of 121 three-point attempts for 43 percent, while his two-point field goal percentage is just 30 percent (9-30).

Six in Double Figures

Six Virginia players have scored in double figures in the same game three times this season - all three times against ranked teams.

Against Maryland (Jan. 31), Donald Hand led the way with 20 points, while Chris Williams and Roger Mason, Jr., both had 19. Keith Friel came off the bench to score 17, while Adam Hall had 12 and Travis Watson totaled 10.

The Cavaliers had six players score against North Carolina (Jan. 24) and all six players reached double figures. Mason led UVa's six players in double-digit scoring at UNC with 17 points, while Watson tallied 16 points. Williams and Hall both scored 14 points, while Friel and Hand totaled 10 points. It marked the second time this season UVa had six players score in double figures in a game.

Virginia had six players reach double figures in scoring in its 107-89 win over Tennessee (Dec. 19). Hand led the way with 21, while Mason added 18. Friel and Stephane Dondon tallied 16 points apiece, while Williams and Watson both contributed 11 points.

Prior to the Tennessee game, the last time Virginia had six players score in double figures was December 10, 1999 when Chris Williams (18), Adam Hall (15), Donald Hand (15), Willie Dersch (11), Josh Hare (10) and Travis Watson (10) reached double digits in a 102-56 win at Hampton.

12 Different Scorers Times Three

The Cavaliers had 12 players score points in their 99-49 win over Bucknell (Dec. 28) with nine players scoring seven or more points. It marked the third time this season UVa had 12 players score in a game. The Cavaliers had 12 players score in the first two games of the 2000-2001 season. In their season-opening 96-50 victory over Long Island University (Nov. 17), the Cavaliers had 12 different players score with eight players tallying seven or more points. In UVa's 117-78 win over Coastal Carolina (Nov. 20), nine of the 12 players who scored had six or more points.

Last season, Virginia had 12 players score in a game four times. UVa had 12 players score in wins over VMI (11/21/99), Loyola (12/8/99), Hampton (12/10/99), and Dartmouth (1/2/00).

Seven Players Drain Threes

In addition to the 12 players scoring in the season-opening win against Long Island (Nov. 17), seven of those players connected on three-point field goals. Last season, UVa also had seven different players make threes in a win over Loyola (12/8/99).

This season, 11 different players have connected from beyond the three-point arc. Last season, 11 different UVa players made three-point baskets.

Making Free Throws

Virginia has made the most of its opportunities from the free throw line this season as the Cavaliers are shooting an impressive 74.1 percent (490-661) overall and 75.1 percent (241-321) in ACC play. UVa leads the ACC in accuracy from the charity stripe both overall and in ACC games.

UVa has shot 75 percent or better from the free throw line 14 times in 24 games. The Cavaliers' best performance from the free throw line is 88.6 percent (31-35) against N.C. State (Jan. 6). UVa's lowest effort from the foul line is 46.4 percent (13-28) versus Bucknell (Dec. 28).

The Cavaliers have four players who are shooting 80 percent or better from the free throw line. Here is a list of UVa's 80 percent or better free throw shooters:

Keith Friel	88.5 percent	23-26
Roger Mason, Jr.	87.2 percent	102-117
Donald Hand	83.2 percent	104-125
Stephane Dondon	81.3 percent	39-48

Friel had his streak of 17 consecutive made free throws snapped when he missed his second attempt versus North Carolina (Jan. 24). Hand had streaks of 33 and 21 consecutive made free throws earlier this season. Mason had a streak of 45 straight made free throws, while Dondon made 16 foul shots in a row at one point this season.

2000-2001 Virginia Double-Doubles

Virginia players have registered 17 double-doubles this season with sophomore forward/center Travis Watson leading the way with 11. Here's a list of the UVa double-doubles thus far in 2000-2001:

Adam Hall -17 pts., 12 rebs. vs. Clemson (Jan. 27)
 Donald Hand - 12 pts., 11 asts. vs. Coastal Carolina (Nov. 20)

Young Named ACC Rookie of the Week for Second Time

Freshman forward/guard Maurice Young was selected as the ACC Rookie of the Week for his play in UVa's wins over Bucknell (Dec. 28) and Dartmouth (Dec. 30), marking the second time this season he earned the award. Young scored a career-high 10 points in Virginia's 99-49 win over Bucknell and then equalled his career high with 10 points in the Cavaliers' 102-56 victory over Dartmouth.

Young was named the ACC Co-Rookie of the Week on November 20 after scoring eight points and grabbing four rebounds in his college debut, a 96-50 win over Long Island University (Nov. 17). Young shared the award with Duke's Chris Duhon.

Young Reaches Double Digits in Back-to-Back Games

Freshman forward/guard Maurice Young came off the bench to score 10 points in 14 minutes of action in each of the Cavaliers' wins over Bucknell (Dec. 28) and Dartmouth (Dec. 30). For his efforts, Young was named the ACC Rookie of the Week. Young established a new career high with 10 points in UVa's 99-49 win over Bucknell on four of five shooting from the field, including two for two from three-point range. Young was three of four from the field and four of six from the free throw line in scoring 10 points in Virginia's 102-56 win over Dartmouth.

Virginia Splits a Pair of Exhibition Games

The Cavaliers were 1-1 in their two exhibition games during the preseason. Virginia lost to the London Leopards 89-88 on November 4, but bounced back with a 95-80 win over the Nantucket Nectars Naturals on November 12.

Mason Lifts Cavaliers Over Florida State 69-66

Sophomore guard Roger Mason, Jr., took a feed from senior guard Donald Hand and buried a long distance three-pointer with one second remaining in the game to give Virginia a 69-66 win over Florida State (Feb. 17) in Tallahassee, Fla. Mason poured in a team-high 19 points and scored eight of UVA's final 10 points in the Cavaliers' second road victory in the ACC this season.

Florida State built a five-point lead with 3:14 remaining in the contest after point guard Delvon Arrington rebounded the ball and fed it to Monte Cummings for a slam dunk. A three-pointer by Mason cut the lead to two, 64-62, with 2:54 remaining and a pair of Adam Hall free throws drew the Cavaliers even at 66 with 25 seconds left in the contest.

The Seminoles had a chance to go ahead in the final seconds, but Cummings had a leaner from just inside the three-point arc partially blocked by Mason and Hall grabbed the rebound, giving Virginia the ball with seven seconds left.

Hand drove to the middle of the lane, drawing two Florida State defenders, and kicked the ball to a wide open Mason four or five feet beyond the arc. Mason buried the shot to give UVA a three-point lead.

Florida State missed a desperation heave at the buzzer and UVA gained the 69-66 win.

Junior forward Chris Williams scored 15 points, while sophomore forward/center Travis Watson added 14 and Hall had 10. Arrington led all scorers with 20 points on the strength of eight-of-11 shooting from the field.

Cavaliers Upset Third-Ranked Duke

Virginia won its 12th home game of the season with a 91-89 victory over third-ranked Duke (Feb. 14) at University Hall when junior Adam Hall made a layup with .9 second remaining in the game. The Blue Devils were the highest ranked team Virginia has beaten since UVA defeated second-ranked North Carolina, 73-71, on Feb. 19, 1995 at University Hall. The win also marked Virginia's second triumph over a top five team this season. The Cavaliers beat then-fourth-ranked Tennessee on Dec. 19, 107-89.

Junior forward Chris Williams turned in his third double-double of the season with 21 points and 12 rebounds in Virginia's first win over Duke in its last 13 attempts. Sophomore guard Roger Mason, Jr. added 20 points, seven rebounds and five assists, while sophomore forward/center Travis Watson had 15 points and Hall had 17 points, including his buzzer-beating layup.

Virginia led by as many as eight points in the first half, and took a 46-42 lead into halftime. Duke responded with a 13-1 run starting at the 17 minute mark of the second half to grab a six-point lead with just under 14 minutes left in the game. The Cavaliers mounted a comeback of their own, and had a four-point lead with 1:29 remaining in the contest. The Blue Devils countered once again and drew even after a pair of free throws by senior forward Shane Battier with 14.3 seconds left on the clock.

With 14.3 seconds to work with, Mason took control of the ball and started towards the basket with seven seconds left. He appeared to be stripped from behind, but the ball took a fortuitous bounce to a wide open Hall who layed it in for the winning basket. A desperation length-of-the-court pass from Mike Dunleavy was intercepted by Hall to end the game.

Battier led Duke with 24 points on 8-16 shooting from the field. Freshman Chris Duhon added 20 points for the Blue Devils and made five-of-six shots from behind the three point arc.

UVA Drops 62-56 Decision to Georgia Tech

The Cavaliers lost their second-consecutive game with a 62-56 setback to Georgia Tech (Feb. 11) at Alexander Memorial Coliseum. With the win, the Yellow Jackets swept the regular season series from Virginia.

Sophomore guard Roger Mason, Jr., led the Cavaliers with 17 points, while sophomore forward/center Travis Watson notched his 11th double-double of the season with 12 points and 10 rebounds. He also blocked three shots. Junior forward/guard Adam Hall rounded out UVa's double figure scorers with 12 points.

The Cavaliers fell behind by as many as nine points in the first half, but came back to cut the deficit to four, 27-23, at intermission. Virginia took its first lead of the game 1:14 into the second half, 30-29, on a dunk by Hall. UVa led by as many as four points in the second half, including 50-46 with 6:51 to play. The Yellow Jackets came back to tie the game at 53-53 with 3:12 to go. Hall gave the Cavaliers their final lead of the game, 54-53, with a free throw at the 2:53 mark. Georgia Tech then went on a 9-0 run to break the game open. Halston Lane scored the first five Jacket points in the spurt.

Virginia struggled shooting the basketball as it made just 22-57 (38.6 percent) of its attempts from the floor, including 16.7 percent (3-18) from beyond the arc. UVa also had difficulties from the free throw line as it made just 9-18 attempts (50 percent). The Yellow Jackets held a 39-34 edge in rebounds. Tony Akins led Georgia Tech with 19 points, four assists and three steals.

Virginia Falls to Wolfpack 90-80

Virginia had its three-game ACC winning streak snapped with a 90-80 loss to N.C. State at the Sports and Entertainment Arena (Feb. 7) in Raleigh, N.C. The Wolfpack shot 56.6 percent (30-53) from the field in the game, including a blistering 72.0 percent (18-25) in the second half. The Cavaliers were also plagued by foul trouble and 22 turnovers in the game.

Senior guard Donald Hand poured in a season-high 29 points to lead the Cavaliers. Hand was a perfect 11-11 from the free throw line and added five assists and two steals. Junior forward/guard Adam Hall and sophomore guard Roger Mason, Jr., both scored 12 points, while Hall also added seven rebounds and three steals. Junior forward Chris Williams tallied 10 points and seven rebounds.

UVa jumped out to an early lead, but N.C. State used a 10-0 run to take the lead for good at 18-10 midway through the first half. The Wolfpack increased their lead to as many as 13 points before taking a 36-24 halftime lead. In the second half, Virginia narrowed the deficit to eight points, 42-34, with 16 minutes left to play, but NCSU went on a 10-1 run to take a 52-35 edge with 13:41 to play. The Wolfpack led by double digits the rest of the way.

Virginia was whistled for a school-record tying 35 fouls in the game and had three players foul out. N.C. State connected on 27-38 free throws (71.1 percent). UVa was 24-34 from the line and held a slight 33-31 edge in rebounding. Kenny Inge led N.C. State with 29 points, nine rebounds and five blocked shots.

Virginia Avenges First Loss to Wake With 82-71 Win

After losing its first game of the season by 23 points to the Demon Deacons, Virginia evened the season series with an 82-71 victory over 16th-ranked Wake Forest (Feb. 3) at University Hall. Virginia used a 31-14 run in the second half to take a 15-point lead, 65-50 with 6:20 remaining, that never slipped below nine points the rest of the way.

Junior forward/guard Adam Hall dominated the boards with a career-high 17 rebounds and also contributed four steals in a fine defensive effort. Senior guard Donald Hand led four Cavaliers in double-figures on the other end of the floor with 21 points. Sophomore guard Roger Mason, Jr., added 19 points and four assists without any turnovers. Junior forward Chris Williams reached double figures for the 17th straight game as he scored 14 points.

Sophomore center Travis Watson recorded his 10th double-double of the season with 10 points and 12 rebounds, despite missing several minutes with a hip pointer.

Wake Forest trailed by just three points at the intermission and gained the lead at 36-34 early in the second half. The Cavaliers responded with their 31-14 run to break the game open.

UVa outrebounded Wake Forest 41-37 and held the Deacs to just 39.1 percent (27-69) shooting for the game. UVa also held a huge edge at the foul line as it made 31-39 free throws (79.5 percent), while Wake was only 10-13 from the line (76.9 percent). Craig Dawson and Josh Howard led the Demon Deacons with 14 points apiece.

Virginia Topples Terrapins 99-78

The Cavaliers shot 52.9 percent (36-68) from the field and had six players score in double figures in defeating ninth-ranked Maryland 99-78 (Jan. 31) at University Hall.

Senior guard Donald Hand paced all scorers with 20 points and added seven assists and two steals. Junior forward Chris Williams and sophomore guard Roger Mason, Jr., both totaled 19 points, while graduate student guard Keith Friel added 17 points off the bench. Friel was five for eight from three-point range. Junior forward/guard Adam Hall and sophomore forward/center Travis Watson chipped in with 12 and 10 points, respectively. Watson also pulled down 13 rebounds for his ninth double-double of the season and 17th of his career.

The Cavaliers used two long runs in the contest. Trailing 24-20 with 9:15 to play in the first half, UVa went on a 24-2 run over the next six minutes to take a 44-26 advantage. UVa led 47-35 at halftime. Maryland opened the second half with a 16-5 run of its own to trim the Cavalier lead to one, 52-51, with 13:41 to play. Virginia answered the Terrapin run with a 25-4 spurt to take a commanding 77-55 lead with 7:17 left in the game. Friel drained three three-point field goals in the run.

In addition to shooting 52.9 percent from the floor, the Cavaliers shot 50 percent (10-20) from three-point range, and made 17 of 20 free throws (85 percent). UVa also held a 38-35 edge on the boards.

Terence Morris registered a double-double for Maryland with 14 points and 15 rebounds, while Lonny Baxter scored 15 points.

Cavaliers Run Past Clemson 104-76

Virginia earned its first ACC road win of the season with a 104-76 victory over Clemson (Jan. 27) at Littlejohn Coliseum in Clemson, S.C. The Cavaliers shot an impressive 57.4 percent (39-68) from the field while holding the Tigers to 39.1 percent (25-64) shooting from the floor.

Junior forward Chris Williams paced the Cavaliers with 22 points and added seven rebounds and two blocked shots. Senior guard Donald Hand scored 20 points and dished out nine assists for the second consecutive game. He also recorded three steals. Junior forward/guard Adam Hall registered his first double-double of the season with 17 points and 12 rebounds. Sophomore forward/center Travis Watson tallied 18 points, eight rebounds and two blocked shots.

Clemson took a 2-0 lead, but the Cavaliers tied the game on a pair of free throws by Hall and took the lead for good on a three-point field goal by Williams. UVa led 47-28 at halftime. Virginia shot a blistering 66.7 percent (22-33) from the floor in the second half while outscoring the Tigers 57-48.

The Cavaliers made a season-high 12 three-point field goals (in 24 attempts) while limiting Clemson to 28.6 percent (6-21) from long range. UVa also held a 43-32 edge on the boards, including a 31-20 advantage on the defensive glass. Chris Hobbs led Clemson with 28 points and nine rebounds.

Virginia Posts 85-72 Non-Conference Win Over Missouri

The Cavaliers closed out their non-conference regular season schedule with an 85-72 victory over 20th-ranked Missouri (Jan. 20) at University Hall. UVa won all 11 of its non-conference regular season games, marking the first time since the 1981-82 season the Cavaliers have gone undefeated in non-conference regular season play.

Senior guard Donald Hand led five Cavaliers in double figures with 20 points and also added six assists. Junior forward Chris Williams and sophomore forward/center Travis Watson notched double-doubles. Williams totaled 17 points and 11 rebounds for his first double-double of the season, and added four assists. Watson posted his ACC-leading seventh double-double of the season with 16 points and 10 rebounds. Watson also blocked three shots. Sophomore guard Roger Mason, Jr., scored all 13 of his points in the second half, while junior forward/guard Adam Hall contributed 11 points and six rebounds.

The Cavaliers never trailed in the first half and led by as many as nine points before settling for a 35-32 lead at intermission. Missouri took its first lead in the game at the 18:57 mark of in the second half (36-35). Neither team led by more than four points during the first 17 minutes of the second half. With the Tigers leading by one point, 69-68, at the 4:18 mark, UVa took the lead for good on a dunk by Watson at 4:10. Watson was fouled on the play and converted the free throw to give Virginia a 71-69 advantage. Watson's three-point play began a 12-0 Cavalier run. The Cavaliers outscored Missouri 17-3 in the last 4:10 of the game. Clarence Gilbert led the Tigers with 22 points, while Kareem Rush added 20.

Cavaliers Topple Fourth-Ranked Tennessee 107-89

Six UVa players scored in double figures as Virginia upset fourth-ranked Tennessee 107-89 (Dec. 19) in the Jimmy V Classic at Continental Airlines Arena in East Rutherford, N.J. The win was Virginia's first over a top-five ranked team since the 1995 season.

Senior guard Donald Hand led the Cavaliers with game highs of 21 points and nine assists. Sophomore guard Roger Mason, Jr., added 18 points and a career-high seven rebounds, while senior forward Stephane Dondon registered his first career double-double with 16 points and a career-high 11 rebounds. Graduate student guard Keith Friel converted four of six three-point field goal attempts while scoring 16 points. Junior forward Chris Williams and sophomore forward/center Travis Watson both scored 11 points. Junior guard/forward Adam Hall contributed eight points, six rebounds and a career-high five steals.

The Cavaliers, who never trailed in the game, shot 51.4 percent (19-37) in racing out to a 57-40 halftime lead. Dondon led the way in the first half with 13 points.

Virginia built its lead to 22 points, 79-57 with 11:40 remaining, and 81-59 with 11:04 to go. The Vols fought back to cut the UVa margin to 10 on three occasions with the last coming with 2:32 left (99-89). A layup and three free throws by Mason stopped the Tennessee comeback attempt.

The Cavaliers made 10 of 18 (55.6 percent) three-point field goal attempts and also converted 35 of 44 (79.5 percent) free throws in the game. Isiah Victor led Tennessee with 20 points, eight rebounds and five blocked shots.

Friel Competing as a Graduate Student

Guard Keith Friel received his bachelor's degree in anthropology from UVa in May of 2000 and is competing this season as a graduate student.

Hand, Friel and Williams Elected Captains

Senior guards Donald Hand and Keith Friel, and junior forward Chris Williams have been elected captains of the 2000-01 Virginia basketball team by their teammates.

Hand is the first UVa men's basketball player to serve as a team captain for three consecutive years. He served as a team co-captain last season and as a tri-captain in 1998-99.

Four Starters Return for 2000-2001

The Cavaliers return four starters from last season—Donald Hand, Chris Williams, Adam Hall, and Travis Watson. In addition, UVa also returns Roger Mason, who started 11 games, and all but three members of last year's squad. A total of 11 lettermen (which does not include Greg Lyons) are back to take the hardwood in 2000-2001.

With the return of the 11 letterwinners, it's not surprising that Virginia returns from last season:

- 93.8 percent (255 of 272) of the steals
- 92.7 percent (2,341 of 2,526) of the points
- 91.0 percent (1,024 of 1,125) of the rebounds
- 91.3 percent (5,800 of 6,350) of the minutes
- 90.5 percent (398 of 440) of the assists.

Mapp Out

Sophomore guard Majestic Mapp tore the anterior cruciate ligament in his right knee and underwent surgery during the summer. Mapp injured the knee while playing basketball at St. Raymond's High School, his alma mater, on August 2. He is expected to be out of action four to six months.

Mapp was second on the team in assists last season (2.2 apg) and ranked fourth among all Atlantic Coast Conference freshmen in that category. He averaged 5.3 points a game and was named to the ACC Honor Roll for his academic work and athletic participation.

Studying Abroad

Last summer the Virginia men's basketball team traveled to Europe to compete against several club and professional teams in Germany, Belgium and France. The Cavaliers finished the trip with a 5-1 record and won their five games by an average of 35.4 points per game (527-350).

All 11 of Virginia's returning players from the 1999-2000 team made the trip, as did returning player Greg Lyons from the 1998-1999 squad. Incoming freshmen were not eligible to make the trip.

The trip was a homecoming of sorts for senior forward Stephane Dondon who is from Toulouse, France. Dondon was among several Cavaliers who turned in strong performances during the tour. In the team's win against TSV Breitengussbach, Dondon led the team with 21 points on 9-10 shooting and added nine rebounds.

Senior guard Keith Friel led the team in scoring in wins against Sceaux BBC and Lummen BBC with 23 points in each game.

Several Cavaliers recorded double-doubles during the trip, including sophomore Travis Watson who led the team with four double-doubles. Watson's performances were highlighted by a 22-point, 10-rebound effort in the win over Sceaux BBC. Also recording double-doubles on the trip were Donald Hand, Chris Williams, Adam Hall and Jason Rogers. Rogers had a 10-point, 10-rebound game in UVa's win over TSV Breitengussbach, and a 12-point, seven-rebound performance in a win against Lummen BBC.

The trip was Virginia's first since the Cavaliers compiled a 3-3 record during a 1996 European tour.
