#8 / #9 Virginia (10-0)

vs.

#4 / #4 Wake Forest (11-0)

January 2, 2001 • 7:00 p.m.

Lawrence Joel Coliseum

Winston-Salem, N.C.

The Series vs. Wake Forest

Virginia led the all-time series with Wake Forest entering the 1990s, but the Demon Deacons have had the better of the Cavaliers the last decade and now lead the series 57-53. The Deacs have won 11 of the last 15 meetings and 16 of the 26 matchups since the 1989-90 season. The two teams split a pair of meetings last season with each team winning on the road. Virginia won the first meeting of the 1999-2000 season 76-67 in Winston-Salem (Jan. 30). The victory marked the Cavaliers' second consecutive win over Wake Forest (UVa won the second meeting in the 1998-99 season, 64-54 at University Hall). The Demon Deacons earned a split in last season's games with an 80-75 win in Charlottesville (Mar. 2).

Virginia has not had much luck on the western end of Tobacco Road. The Cavaliers are 3-8 in the Lawrence Joel Veterans Memorial Coliseum and 11-29 all-time in Winston-Salem against Wake Forest. UVa snapped a five-game losing streak to the Deacs at Lawrence Joel Coliseum with a 76-67 win last season (Jan. 30). Previously, the Cavaliers' last victory at Wake was a 61-59 win on January 26, 1994.

Best Start

Virginia's 10-0 start in the 2000-2001 season is its best since the 1992-93 campaign. The 1992-93 team started the season with an 11-0 record. The last time UVa started a season with 12 consecutive wins was in the 1981-82 season.

Winning Streaks

In the 96-year history of the men's basketball program, the Cavaliers have started out a season with a 10-0 record eight times. A win against Wake Forest would mark the seventh time Virginia has started a season with 11 consecutive victories.

A Top 10 Matchup

Tonight's game against Wake Forest marks the first time in nearly eight years that Virginia has played in a game between two teams ranked in the top 10. The last time UVa played another top 10 team was on January 20, 1993, when it lost to North Carolina 80-58 in Chapel Hill, N.C. Virginia was ranked seventh at the time and North Carolina was third (AP poll released January 18, 1993).

Excluding Duke and North Carolina, the last time prior to tonight that two top 10 ACC teams met was on February 12, 1997. Second-ranked Wake Forest defeated seventh-ranked Clemson 55-49 at Littlejohn Coliseum in Clemson, S.C.

Virginia, ranked eighth in the AP poll released December 25 and ninth in the USAToday/ESPN poll released December 31, stands at 10-0 in the 2000-2001 season. In its last game, UVa defeated Dartmouth 102-56 (Dec. 30) at Leede Arena in Hanover, N.H. Wake Forest is ranked fourth in both the AP and USAToday/ESPN polls. The Demon Deacons are 11-0 in the 2000-2001 season and are coming off a 90-58 win over Navy in Winston-Salem, N.C. (Dec. 29).

Television: Tonight's game will be televised by the Regional Sports Network (Fox Sports South, Home Team Sports, Sunshine Network). Paul Kennedy will handle the play-by-play. Mike Gminski is the analyst.

Radio: All UVa games are heard on the Virginia Sports Network originating at WINA/WWV in Charlottesville. Mac McDonald calls the play by play. Jim Hobgood provides the analysis.

Head Coach Pete Gillen

Pete Gillen is in his 16th season as a collegiate head coach and sports a 317-156 record for a .670 winning percentage. Gillen is in his third season at Virginia and has posted a 43-28 record (.606 winning percentage). Gillen won the 300th game of his career when Virginia defeated then 21st-ranked North Carolina 87-85 on January 18, 2000 at University Hall.

Gillen has led his teams to postseason play 12 times in 15 seasons (eight NCAA, four NIT). He has been selected as the conference Coach of the Year five times - all while coaching Xavier (Midwestern Collegiate Conference).

Tough to Shoot Well vs. Wake Forest

Virginia has had a rough time on the offensive end against Wake Forest since Dave Odom took over the Demon Deacons' coaching reins in 1989-90. Odom has built Wake Forest into one of the toughest defensive squads in the nation and the Demon Deacons have been particularly effective against Virginia. The Cavaliers have shot 46 percent or better against Wake Forest just five times in the last 26 games. All five games resulted in Virginia wins. UVa is 10-16 vs. Wake Forest since 1989-90.

Virginia has shot 40.5 percent from the floor and averaged 63.7 points per game during Odom's tenure at Wake Forest.

Similarly, the Cavalier defense has been almost as stingy as Wake's. The Deacons have made 42.4 percent of their field goal attempts over the last 26 meetings and have averaged 65.7 points per game.

Wake Forest topped 50 percent shooting from the floor only twice in the 1990s against Virginia. Those games are—52.1 percent (25-48) in a 74-66 win in Winston-Salem on February 10, 1991 and 55.8 percent (29-52) in an 81-64 win in Winston-Salem on January 24, 1996.

A breakdown of both teams' offensive performance since the 1989-90 season in wins and losses is below.

	UVa FG%	PPG	WFU FG%	PPG
Combined (26)	.405	63.7	.424	65.7
UVa wins (10)	.452	68.4	.399	61.9
UVa losses (16)	.378	60.8	.441	68.1

Free Throws Make the Difference

Virginia has made more field goals than Wake Forest in five of the last eight meetings. That hasn't done much good as the Cavaliers have lost five of eight games with the Demon Deacons in the last four seasons.

One area that has been particularly evident in Wake Forest's ability to offset field goal differential is the Demon Deacons' propensity to get to the free throw line. UVa has attempted more free throws than Wake Forest in a game just twice in the last four seasons (eight games). Last season, in an 80-75 loss at U-Hall (Mar. 2), UVa attempted one more free throw than Wake (27-26), but the Deacs made four more free throws (21-17). In Virginia's 64-54 win over the Demon Deacons on February 3, 1999, the Cavaliers attempted 32 free throws (and made 26), while Wake was 12-13 from the line.

The Deacs have enjoyed a huge advantage in free throws in the last four seasons, especially in close games.

Moving Up in the AP and USA Today/ESPN Polls

The Cavaliers continue to climb in The Associated Press and USA Today/ESPN Top 25 polls. In the AP poll released December 25 Virginia is ranked eighth and the Cavaliers are ranked ninth in the USA Today/ESPN poll released December 26. The AP ranking of eighth is UVa's highest since being ranked seventh in the poll on January 18, 1993. The Cavaliers' ranking of ninth in the USA Today/ESPN poll is their highest since earning the eighth spot in the final poll of the 1994-95 season (April 4, 1995).

For the first time since the 1995-96 season, the Virginia men's basketball team opened a season ranked in both The Associated Press and USA Today/ESPN Top 25 polls. Virginia was ranked 24th in the AP's preseason poll and 25th in the preseason USA Today/ESPN poll.

Before the 1995-1996 season Virginia was ranked 19th in the AP and 14th in the USA Today/ESPN polls. The last time the Cavs appeared in any poll prior to this season came during the 1996-97 season when they were ranked 25th in the AP poll (12/3/96).

Virginia in ACC Openers

Virginia is 19-28 all-time in ACC season openers. UVa is 13-14 in home ACC openers and 6-14 on the road.

Tonight's game is the eighth time in 48 years that UVa has opened the ACC season against Wake Forest. The Cavaliers are 5-2 against the Demon Deacons in those games. Virginia is 2-1 in ACC openers at Wake Forest and 3-1 in home openers against the Demon Deacons.

The last time UVa and Wake met to open the ACC season was in the 1978-79 season with Virginia winning at Wake Forest 88-75.

Virginia is 5-2 vs. Wake Forest, 3-2 vs. Florida State, 1-0 vs. Georgia Tech and South Carolina, 8-13 vs. Duke, 1-7 vs. Maryland, 0-2 vs. North Carolina and 0-1 vs. Clemson and NC State all-time in ACC openers.

The 1999-2000 Season

Virginia finished the 1999-2000 season with a 19-12 overall record and a 9-7 mark in the Atlantic Coast Conference. The Cavs advanced to postseason play for the first time since receiving a bid to the 1997 NCAA Tournament, but fell to Georgetown in the first round of the 2000 National Invitation Tournament 115-111 in triple overtime.

A Top Five Win

The Cavaliers' 107-89 win over fourth-ranked Tennessee (Dec. 19) at the Jimmy V Classic marked the first time since the 1995 season that Virginia defeated a top-five ranked team. UVa's last win against a top five team prior to the Tennessee victory was a 67-58 win over Kansas in the Sweet 16 of the 1995 NCAA Tournament on March 24 in Kansas City, Mo. The Jayhawks were ranked fourth in the AP poll and fifth in the USAToday/ESPN poll at the time.

Only Seven Remain...But One Will Fall

At 10-0 on the season, Virginia is one of seven Division I men's basketball teams that remain undefeated in the 2000-2001 season (as of Dec. 31). The number of undefeated teams will be reduced to at least six after tonight's Virginia - Wake Forest matchup. Here is a list of the remaining undefeated Division I teams with their next opponent:

Baylor (10-0)	vs. Texas Southern (Jan. 2)
Boston College (9-0)	vs. Connecticut (Jan. 3)
Georgetown (11-0)	vs. West Virginia (Jan. 3)
Michigan State (11-0)	vs. Penn State (Jan. 3)
Stanford (11-0)	vs. Arizona State (Jan. 4)
Virginia (10-0)	vs. Wake Forest (Jan. 2)
Wake Forest (11-0)	vs. Virginia (Jan. 2)

Getting the Lead...And Keeping it

Through 10 games and 400 minutes of the 2000-2001 season, the Cavaliers have trailed for just 7:34. The most time UVa has trailed in a single game this season is 2:43 against Virginia Tech (Nov. 24). In that game, the Cavaliers took the lead for good at the 15:49 mark of the first half which is the latest point UVa has trailed in a game this season. Virginia has never trailed in four of its 10 games this season.

The latest point in a game the Cavaliers have been tied with an opponent this season is with 2.8 seconds left in the first half against UMBC (Dec. 23) when Roger Mason, Jr., sank a pair of free throws to break a 40-40 tie and give UVa a 42-40 lead.

A Rare Feat

Senior guard Donald Hand has recorded 1,240 points, 331 rebounds, 424 assists and 154 steals in his career. Hand is just the third UVa player with at least 1,000 points, 300 rebounds, 400 assists and 150 steals in a career. The other two UVa players to accomplish the feat are Othell Wilson (1981-84) - 1,469 points, 375 rebounds, 493 assists and 222 steals, and Harold Deane (1994-97) - 1,763 points, 440 rebounds, 468 assists and 179 steals.

Scoring Lots of Points

The Cavaliers are off to an excellent start offensively in the 2000-2001 season. Through the first 10 games of the season, UVa is averaging 94.7 points per game which leads all Atlantic Coast Conference schools and is second in the nation (as of the NCAA release of December 18). The school record for the highest scoring average is 89.8 points per game in the 1954-55 season.

UVa is also shooting 49.5 percent (332-671) from the floor this season. The last time Virginia shot 50 percent from the field in a season was in the 1985-86 season when the Cavaliers connected on 50.1 percent (838-1672) from the floor.

Big Wins

The Cavaliers have won all 10 of their games this season by 16 points or more. Eight of the 10 wins have been by 19 or more points. Virginia is also outscoring its opponents by 28.8 points per game (94.7 to 65.9).

Big Leads

One of the reasons for Virginia's early season success is its ability to build big leads. In eight of the first 10 games this season, Virginia built leads of 20 or more points. In the only two games the Cavaliers failed to lead by 20 points (VMI - Dec. 4 and UMBC - Dec. 23), they led by at least 18 points.

50 Points

Virginia has held three of its opponents to 50 points or less this season. UVa limited Virginia Tech to 48 points in its 64-48 victory (Nov. 24) for its season low. Virginia held Bucknell to 49 points in a 99-49 victory (Dec. 28) and Long Island University to 50 points in a 96-50 triumph (Nov. 17).

When UVa limited Virginia Tech to 48 points, it marked the fewest points the Cavaliers have allowed in a game under head coach Pete Gillen. The previous record for fewest points allowed in a game under Gillen was 50 by Dartmouth last season (Jan. 2, 2000) and Long Island University earlier this season (Nov. 17).

Prior to holding Virginia Tech to 48 points, UVa's opponents were averaging 75.8 points per game during Gillen's tenure. Virginia held the Hokies nearly 28 points below that average.

This season, UVa has limited its first 10 opponents to an average of 65.9 points per game. Last year, the Cavaliers gave up 75.4 points per game.

Virginia's offense was rolling in its victory over Coastal Carolina (Nov. 20). The Cavaliers lit up the scoreboard in the 117-78 victory with the 117 points tying for the fourth highest single game output in school history. UVa also scored 117 points against Baldwin-Wallace (117-83) in the 1972 season. The school record for points in a game is 128 vs. George Mason (128-98) in 1995. The second highest output is 124 points against Johns Hopkins (124-60) in the 1983 season, while the third highest point total is 118 vs. BYU-Hawaii (118-84) in the 1982 season.

The Cavaliers' 117 points are the most the team has scored since a 115-111 triple overtime loss to Georgetown in last season's NIT.

70

Virginia scored 70 points in the second half of its 117-78 victory over Coastal Carolina (Nov. 20), which is believed to be a school record for points in a half. The previous known high for points in a half was 69 in the second half of UVa's 128-98 victory over George Mason on January 28, 1995. Virginia scored 67 points in the second half of a 124-60 win against Johns Hopkins on November 26, 1982.

NCAA Statistics

Virginia appears in several categories in the NCAA Division I statistics for games played through December 18. The NCAA stats do not include Virginia's games against Tennessee (Dec. 19), UMBC (Dec. 23), Bucknell (Dec. 28), and Dartmouth (Dec. 30). UVa's current stats are also listed.

Individually, guard Donald Hand is ninth in assists with 7.2 per game. He currently is averaging 6.9 per game. Guard Keith Friel is 13th in three-point field goal percentage at 56.7 percent (17-30). Friel is presently shooting 49.0 percent from beyond the arc (25-51).

As a team, the Cavaliers are tied for first in the country in winning percentage at 1.000 (6-0) - and currently stand at 10-0. UVa is second in scoring with an average of 92.3 points per game. The Cavaliers are currently averaging 94.7 points per game. Virginia is fifth in the nation in scoring margin at plus 26.3 points per game (92.3 ppg to 66.0 ppg). That margin is presently 28.8 points per game (94.7 to 65.9). With a shooting percentage of 51.0 percent (199-390), the Cavaliers are 14th among all Division I teams. Currently, UVa is shooting 49.5 percent from the floor (332-671). Virginia is also 26th in the nation in three-point field goal shooting at 41.1 percent (44-107). That percentage is presently 39.1 percent (68-174).

Joining the Millennium Club

Virginia junior forward Chris Williams became UVa's 34th player to score 1,000 career points when he drilled a three-point basket with 6:10 remaining in the first half against Coastal Carolina (Nov. 20). Williams finished the game with 15 points and currently has 1,127 in his career. He is now 31st on UVa's all-time scoring list. Williams joins senior guard Donald Hand as current players reaching the 1,000-point plateau. Hand scored his 1,000th point on Feb. 5, 2000 versus Duke and currently has 1,240 points. Hand is tied for 22nd on Virginia's all-time scoring list with Billy Langloh (1974-77).

Hand and Williams are the first pair of UVa teammates to both have recorded 1,000 career points since Curtis Staples (1,757 points) and Norman Nolan (1,321) played together during the 1997-98 season.

Hand Equals Career High in Assists

Senior guard Donald Hand dished out 11 assists in the Cavaliers' 117-78 win over Coastal Carolina (Nov. 20) to tie his career high. He also recorded 11 assists last season against Hampton (Dec. 10, 1999).

Hand Shines in Big Games

Senior guard Donald Hand seems to play his best against top 10 teams. Over the past two seasons (including 2000-2001), Hand has averaged 22.7 points per game in three games against top 10 teams. He has shot 50 percent (23-46) from the field and made nine of 19 three-point attempts (47.4 percent).

Against non-top 10 teams in the same time frame, Hand averages 13.6 points per game and is shooting 37.3 percent (151-405) from the field and 29.7 percent (54-182) from three-point range.

Eight Double Digit Scorers

In the first 10 games of the 2000-2001 season, the Cavaliers have had eight different players score in double figures in a game. UVa had 11 players reach double figures in scoring last season.

Virginia double figure scorers this season are: (only first double digit performance is listed)

Stephane Dondon	17 vs. Long Island Univ. (Nov. 17)
Travis Watson	16 vs. Long Island Univ. (Nov. 17)
Donald Hand	12 vs. Coastal Carolina (Nov. 20)
Roger Mason, Jr.	28 vs. Coastal Carolina (Nov. 20)
Chris Williams	15 vs. Coastal Carolina (Nov. 20)
Keith Friel	15 vs. Virginia Tech (Nov. 24)
Adam Hall	14 vs. Purdue (Nov. 29)
Maurice Young	10 vs. Bucknell (Dec. 28)

Six Different Leading Scorers

Virginia has had six different players lead the team in scoring in games this season: (only the first time a player has led the team in scoring is listed)

Stephane Dondon	17 vs. Long Island Univ. (Nov. 17)
Roger Mason, Jr.	28 vs. Coastal Carolina (Nov. 20)
Keith Friel	15 vs. Virginia Tech (Nov. 24)
Travis Watson	16 vs. Ohio University (Dec. 6)
Donald Hand	24 vs. Purdue (Nov. 29)
Chris Williams	24 vs. Purdue (Nov. 29)

Shooting the Long Ball

Virginia's current roster features four of the top 11 career three-point field goal leaders in school history. Senior guard Donald Hand currently ranks sixth with 131 three-pointers and needs just two threes to move into the top five. Junior Chris Williams, graduate student Keith Friel and junior Adam Hall are also ranked in the top 11 of UVa's three-point field goal list. Williams is currently eighth with 77, while Friel has surpassed Hall for 10th place with 70 career threes in just two seasons. Hall is 11th all-time with 67 three-pointers.

Friel has opened the 2000-2001 season by making 25 of 51 (49.0 percent) three-point field goal attempts. In the 1999-2000 season, Friel's first at UVa, he hit 45-109 (.413) three-pointers. Friel's 41.3 percent accuracy from behind the line last season ranks as the fifth best performance by a Cavalier in that category. In addition to his 70 career threes at Virginia, Friel also made 60 three-pointers in two seasons at Notre Dame and has a total of 130 career threes.

No Turnovers

In UVa's 98-79 win over Purdue (Nov. 29), senior guard Donald Hand handed out eight assists and did not commit a turnover. It marked the third time in his career that he did not commit a turnover in a game. The other no turnover games came last season against Clemson (Jan. 15) - 5 assists, 0 turnovers, and Florida State (Jan. 26) - 3 assists, 0 turnovers.

Mason Sets Career Highs

Sophomore guard Roger Mason, Jr., set career highs for points and assists in a game in UVa's 117-78 win over Coastal Carolina (Nov. 20). Mason tallied 28 points on 10 of 14 shooting from the field, including a two-for-three effort from three-point range, and he also made six of seven free throws. His former career best was 22 points against Duke (Jan. 5, 2000). With seven assists against the Chanticleers, Mason surpassed his previous career best of four assists on three different occasions.

Mason currently leads the Cavaliers in scoring with an average of 16.2 points per game and is shooting 91.9 percent (57-62) from the free throw line.

Truly a Charity Stripe

Sophomore guard Roger Mason, Jr., has made the most of his free throw attempts this season. Mason has made his last 40 free throw attempts and 57-62 (91.9 percent) attempts this season. The Virginia record for consecutive free throws made is 48 by Jeff Lamp in the 1979-80 season.

Against UMBC (Dec. 23), Mason made all 14 of his free throw attempts and his perfect effort tied the second best free throw performance by a UVa player in a game. Bryant Stith made all 14 of his free throws against Georgia Tech on January 21, 1990. Buzzy Wilkinson holds the school record with a perfect 17 for 17 effort against Washington & Lee on January 14, 1955.

Mason's current streak began against Purdue (Nov. 29) when he made his last four free throws (he was five for six in the game). Mason was two for two against VMI (Dec. 4), four for four versus Ohio (Dec. 6), and nine for nine against Tennessee (Dec. 19). He was 14-14 against UMBC (Dec. 23), before going three for three against Bucknell (Dec. 28). In his last game against Dartmouth (Dec. 30), Mason made all four of his free throw attempts.

Hand Also Hot From Free Throw Line

In addition to Roger Mason, Jr., senior guard Donald Hand has an impressive streak from the free throw line. Hand has made his last 25 free throws with the streak dating back to the Purdue game (Nov. 29). Hand made his final six attempts against the Boilermakers (he was nine of 11 in the game). After not attempting a free throw against VMI (Dec. 4), Hand was four for four against Ohio (Dec. 6), and eight for eight versus Tennessee (Dec. 19). He made both of his free throws against UMBC (Dec. 23) and his only attempt versus Bucknell (Dec. 28). Hand was four for four in his last outing against Dartmouth (Dec. 30).

Taking Care of the Basketball

In 10 games this season, the Cavaliers have committed 127 turnovers for an average of 12.7 per game. UVa has committed more than 13 turnovers in a game only three times this season - 17 vs. Tennessee (Dec. 19), 15 vs. VMI (Dec. 4) and 17 vs. Virginia Tech (Nov. 24). On the other hand, Virginia's opponents have committed 216 turnovers for an average of 21.6 per game. The fewest turnovers a UVa opponent has committed in a game this season is 17 by UMBC (Dec. 23).

Great Ratio

On the season, senior guard Donald Hand has recorded 69 assists (6.9 assists per game) while committing only 27 turnovers for a 2.6 to 1 assist to turnover ratio.

Hand is second among all ACC players with 6.9 assists per game and is ninth in the nation (Dec. 18 NCAA stats). He is sixth in the ACC in assist to turnover ratio (2.6 to 1). Hand is fourth on the team in scoring with an average of 11.8 points per game. He also leads the team with 22 steals.

Hand Among Assists and Steals Leaders

In addition to holding the sixth spot on UVa's career three-point field goal list (131 three-pointers), senior guard Donald Hand ranks in Virginia's top 10 in both career assists and steals. Hand is sixth on the Cavaliers' all-time assists list with 424. He needs three assists to move past John Johnson's (1985-88) fifth place total of 426. Hand is also tied with Bobby Stokes (1976-79) for sixth in career steals with 154. He needs six more to tie Richard Morgan (1986-89) for fifth place. In addition, Hand is tied for 22nd on UVa's career scoring list with 1,240 points. With five more points, Hand will move up to 20th place all-time.

Watson Ties Career High in Rebounds

Sophomore forward/center Travis Watson tied his career high by pulling down 16 rebounds against UMBC (Dec. 23). His 16 rebounds equalled his career high set against Duke on January 5, 2000.

The Farther the Better

Guard Keith Friel is shooting better from three-point range than he is from inside the arc. Friel has connected on 25 of 51 three-point attempts for 49.0 percent, while his two-point field goal percentage is just 28.6 percent (4-14).

Friel on Fire

Guard Keith Friel is off to a great shooting start this season. Friel has made 25 of 51 three-point attempts for an impressive .490 shooting percentage. He made a UVa career-high five three-pointers on eight attempts against Virginia Tech (Nov. 24) and scored 15 points. Friel made four of five three-point attempts in scoring a UVa career-high 16 points against Ohio (Dec. 6). He made four of six threes in equaling his career high with 16 points against Tennessee (Dec. 19). Missing Friel

Graduate student guard Keith Friel did not play in UVa's game against UMBC (Dec. 23) and consequently, the Cavaliers struggled from beyond the three-point arc. UVa made just one of 13 three-point attempts, marking the fewest three-pointers the Cavaliers have made in a game in the Pete Gillen era.

The Cavaliers entered the game against UMBC averaging 7.7 three-point field goals per game and 43.2 percent (54-125) from beyond the arc, but were just one of 13 against the Retrievers.

When Friel does not play in a game, Virginia is 1-13 (7.7 percent) from three-point range. When Friel plays, UVa shoots 41.6 percent (67-161) from beyond the arc.

started 11 games, and all but three members of last year's squad. A total of 11 lettermen (which does not include Greg Lyons) are back to take the hardwood in 2000-2001.

With the return of the 11 letterwinners, it's not surprising that Virginia returns from last season:

93.8 percent (255 of 272) of the steals
92.7 percent (2,341 of 2,526) of the points
91.0 percent (1,024 of 1,125) of the rebounds
91.3 percent (5,800 of 6,350) of the minutes
90.5 percent (398 of 440) of the assists

Cavaliers Welcome Two Newcomers

The 2000-2001 Virginia men's basketball team features two new faces and one returning member from the 1998-99 squad. Joining the 11 returning lettermen from last season, including four returning starters, are first-years J.C. Mathis and Maurice Young, and senior Greg Lyons.

Mathis is a 6-8 forward from John F. Kennedy High School in Brooklyn, New York. He was a first-team All-City selection and led Kennedy to a 28-3 record, and both the Bronx championship and the Public Schools Athletic League (PSAL) title during his senior year.

Young, a 6-4 forward from Mitchellville, Md., started four years for Bishop McNamara High School. He was the team's Most Valuable Player three times and the team captain twice. He finished his high school career as Bishop McNamara's all-time leading scorer (2,125 points) and rebounder (772 rebounds), and was a McDonald's All-American nominee.

Lyons rejoins the Virginia team after not playing last year. He saw limited action during the 1997-98 and 1998-99 seasons. A two-year letterman, Lyons was a high school teammate of former UVa player Willie Dersch.

Mapp Out

Sophomore guard Majestic Mapp tore the anterior cruciate ligament in his right knee and underwent surgery during the summer. Mapp injured the knee while playing basketball at St. Raymond's High School, his alma mater, on August 2. He is expected to be out of action four to six months.

Mapp was second on the team in assists last season (2.2 apg) and ranked fourth among all Atlantic Coast Conference freshmen in that category. He averaged 5.3 points a game and was named to the ACC Honor Roll for his academic work and athletic participation.

Pre-Season Prognostications

Studying Abroad

Last summer the Virginia men's basketball team traveled to Europe to compete against several club and professional teams in Germany, Belgium and France. The Cavaliers finished the trip with a 5-1 record and won their five games by an average of 35.4 points per game (527-350).

All 11 of Virginia's returning players from the 1999-2000 team made the trip, as did returning player Greg Lyons from the 1998-1999 squad. Incoming freshmen were not eligible to make the trip.

The trip was a homecoming of sorts for senior forward Stephane Dondon who is from Toulouse, France. Dondon was among several Cavaliers who turned in strong performances during the tour. In the team's win against TSV Breitengussbach, Dondon led the team with 21 points on 9-10 shooting and added nine rebounds.

Senior guard Keith Friel led the team in scoring in wins against Sceaux BBC and Lummen BBC with 23 points in each game.

Several Cavaliers recorded double-doubles during the trip, including sophomore Travis Watson who led the team with four double-doubles. Watson's performances were highlighted by a 22-point, 10-rebound effort in the win over Sceaux BBC. Also recording double-doubles on the trip were Donald Hand, Chris Williams, Adam Hall and Jason Rogers. Rogers had a 10-point, 10-rebound game in UVA's win over TSV Breitengussbach, and a 12-point, seven-rebound performance in a win against Lummen BBC.

The trip was Virginia's first since the Cavaliers compiled a 3-3 record during a 1996 European tour.
