OFFICIALS

THE GAME

Virginia stands at 14-8 overall and 5-5 in the Atlantic Coast Conference in 2002-2003. The Cavaliers are coming off an 81-67 loss to North Carolina (Feb. 12) in Chapel Hill, N.C. Duke, ranked eighth in both The Associated Press and USAToday/ESPN Top 25 polls, stands at 16-4 overall and 6-4 in the ACC this season. In its last game, the Blue Devils lost to 15th-ranked Wake Forest 94-80 in double overtime (Feb. 13) in Winston-Salem, N.C.

The Series vs. Duke

Duke leads the all-time series with the Cavaliers 99-47. The Blue Devils, ranked number one in the nation at the time, won the first meeting of the 2002-2003 season 104-93 (Jan. 15) in Durham. UVa split the 2001-2002 season series with the Blue Devils. Virginia lost the first meeting last season 94-81 (Jan. 27) in Durham and won at home 87-84 (Feb. 28). The Cavaliers also split the 2000-2001 series with the Blue Devils with both teams winning at home. Duke won the first meeting 103-61 (Jan. 13) in Durham, while UVa posted a 91-89 victory (Feb. 14) in Charlottesville, which snapped a 12-game slide to the Blue Devils.

Duke has dominated the series in the last 20 years, winning 35 of the last 45 meetings since Ralph Sampson's graduation from Virginia in 1983.

In addition to snapping the 12-game losing streak to the Blue Devils with its win in 2001, Virginia broke a six-game streak in which Duke reached triple digits.

During Duke's 12-game winning streak over UVa, the Blue Devils won in convincing fashion, winning by an average of 25.3 points per game. Duke won by more than 40 points on four occasions. Only five of the last 14 games have been decided by fewer than 10 points.

Although Duke owns a big lead in the series, Virginia is 32-32 all-time against Duke on the Cavaliers' various home floors throughout the years. UVa is 19-18 against Duke at University Hall and the Cavaliers have won the last two meetings in U-Hall.

Halftime Recognition

At halftime of tonight's game against Duke, members of the 2002 football team will be recognized for their accomplishments this past season. Quarterback Matt Schaub will be honored for being chosen as the Atlantic Coast Conference Player of the Year as well as a 2003 Heisman candidate. Head coach Al Groh will be recognized as the ACC Coach of the Year. The team (represented by the captains) will be honored for winning the inaugural Continental Tire Bowl.

Virginia vs. Ranked Duke Teams

Tonight's contest is the 15th consecutive game in which the Blue Devils have been ranked in the top 10 when playing the Cavaliers, dating back to the 1996-97 season. After dropping 10 consecutive meetings against ranked Duke teams, the Cavaliers have won two of the last four games, including last season's 87-84 victory at University Hall (Feb. 28). Earlier this season the Blue Devils posted a 104-93 victory (Jan. 15) over Virginia when Duke the top-ranked team in the nation.

The Blue Devils are currently ranked eighth in both The Associated Press and USAToday/ESPN Coaches polls.

In the past six seasons, Virginia has played Duke when the Blue Devils were ranked as the nation's top team seven times. In 1997-98 Duke was ranked #1 at the time of all three meetings. (Virginia became the first team in NCAA history to play the nation's #1 team five times in one season when, in addition to three games vs. Duke, UVa also played North Carolina twice when it was atop the polls). In 1998-99, the Blue Devils were ranked #1 when they defeated UVa 100-54 in Charlottesville (Feb. 11) and 104-67 in the ACC Tournament (Mar. 4). Last season, Virginia lost to #1 Duke 94-81 (Jan. 27) in Durham. This season the Blue Devils were #1 when they recorded a 104-93 win (Jan. 15) in Durham.

Overall, Virginia hasn't fared well against a nationally-ranked Duke squad. The Cavaliers are 14-52 against a ranked Duke team, but are 4-5 vs. third-ranked Blue Devil squads. In its last three meetings vs. a #3 Duke team – UVa knocked off the Blue Devils 87-84 (Feb. 28) last season; defeated the Blue Devils 91-89 (Feb. 14) at home in the 2000-2001 season; and lost 106-86 (Feb. 5) in Durham during the 1999-2000 season.

The Cavaliers are 8-18 all-time against a top 10 Duke team in Charlottesville.

Earlier This Season Against Duke

Virginia played very well against the top-ranked team in the nation, but in the end the Blue Devils' accuracy from the free throw line helped Duke to a 104-93 victory (Jan. 15) over the Cavaliers. The Blue Devils made 37-40 free throws in the game for an impressive 92.5 percent. The 37 free throws made ties the school record for most free throws made by a UVa opponent in a game.

Senior forward/center Travis Watson led the Cavaliers with 26 points, while sophomore forward Elton Brown and junior guard Todd Billet tallied 19 and 18 points, respectively. Sophomore guard Keith Jenifer rounded out UVa's double figure scorers with 12 points. He also registered team highs of six rebounds, five assists and two steals.

The Cavaliers got out of the gates quickly and led by five points (22-17) with 11:52 remaining in the first half. Duke eventually took a 50-45 lead at the intermission.

A three-pointer by J.J. Redick to open the second half extended the Blue Devil lead to eight points, 53-45. The Cavaliers then went on a 9-0 run to take a 54-53 lead with 17:48 to play. Billet capped off the run with a pair of free throws. UVa took its last lead of the game (56-55) at the 17:06 mark on a jump shot by Watson. The game was tied four times after Virginia took the 56-55 edge, but the Cavaliers could never regain the lead. The Blue Devils made 12 of 13 free throws in the final 5:03 to help seal the victory.

UVa shot 50.8 percent (31-61) from the field in the game while Duke was 29-58 (50.0 percent) from the floor, including nine of 15 three-point attempts (60.0 percent). Duke drained 37 of 40 free throws (92.5 percent) and the Cavaliers made 27 of 39 attempts from the charity stripe (69.2 percent). UVa held a 32-31 edge in rebounds.

Redick led Duke with 34 points, while Dahntay Jones added 23.

Gillen Registers 350th Career Win

Virginia head coach Pete Gillen won his 350th career game on December 21 when his Cavaliers posted a 61-57 victory over Rutgers.

Gillen is in his 18th season as a collegiate head coach and sports a 358-185 record for a .659 winning percentage. Gillen is in his fifth season at Virginia and has posted an 84-57 record (.596 winning percentage). Gillen won the 300th game of his career when Virginia defeated then 21st-ranked North Carolina 87-85 on January 18, 2000 at University Hall.

Gillen has led his teams to postseason play 14 times in 17 seasons (nine NCAA, five NIT), including the last three seasons at Virginia. He has been selected as the conference Coach of the Year five times – all while coaching Xavier (Midwestern Collegiate Conference).

Cavalier Captains

Seniors Travis Watson and Jason Rogers, and junior Majestic Mapp are the captains of the 2002-03 Virginia basketball team.

Defeating The National Champion

For the second consecutive year, the Cavaliers have defeated the defending national champion. In 2001, Duke won the national title and UVa beat the Blue Devils the following season (87-84 – Feb. 28, 2002) at home. This year, Virginia defeated 2002 NCAA champion Maryland (86-78 – Feb. 6) in College Park, Md.

'Hoos Starting

The Cavaliers have played 22 games this season and have used 12 different starting lineups. UVa's latest starting lineup (vs. North Carolina – Feb. 12) featured sophomore forward Jason Clark, sophomore forward Elton Brown, senior forward/center Travis Watson, junior guard Todd Billet and freshman forward Derrick Byars. Those five also started UVa's game against Maryland (Feb. 6).

Billet and Watson lead the team with 20 starts apiece, while sophomore guard/forward Devin Smith and sophomore guard Keith Jenifer have drawn 14 starting assignments. Brown and Byars have both started 12 contests, while junior center Nick Vander Laan has started 10 times. Eight different players have started games this season for Virginia and all eight have at least eight starts this season.

Here's a breakdown of UVa's starting lineup in each game this season with the number of different starting lineups in parenthesis:

A Rare ACC Road Win

Against Maryland (an 86-78 win – Feb. 6), the Cavaliers did what many ACC teams haven't been able to do this year – defeat a conference opponent on the road. Entering the UVa-Maryland game on February 6, home ACC teams had won 28 of 35 conference games and the top six teams in the league (Wake Forest, Maryland, Duke, N.C. State, Virginia, and Georgia Tech) were undefeated at home – 22-0. Through games played February 13, UVa is the only ACC team to defeat a top six team in the ACC standings on its home court. The top six ACC teams are 28-1 in home ACC games this season.

Virginia had lost its first four ACC road contests this season and nine consecutive ACC road tilts dating back to 2001-2002.

A Top 10 Victory

In addition to earning its first ACC road win of the season and snapping a nine-game losing streak at Maryland, UVa picked up its first top-10 road victory in 10 years. With the Cavaliers' 86-78 victory over the eighth-ranked Terrapins (Feb. 6), UVa captured its first top-10 road win since defeating third-ranked Duke 77-69 on January 17, 1993 in Durham, N.C.

Community Service

Junior guard Todd Billet is having an influence both on and off the court for Virginia. Billet's on-the-court exploits are apparent, but his off-the-court contributions to the Charlottesville community are even more impressive. Billet organized a minority bone marrow registration and

2002-2003 UVa ACC Players of the Week

Jan. 6 – Travis Watson

Jan. 13 – Todd Billet

Feb. 10 – Travis Watson

Senior forward/center Travis Watson was tabbed the ACC Player of the Week on February 10 after recording double-doubles in UVa's wins over eighth-ranked Maryland (86-78 – Feb. 6) and N.C. State (61-58 – Feb. 9).

Watson, who earned the award for the second time this season, scored 30 points, grabbed 24 rebounds and had eight steals in the two games. He shot 50 percent (13-for-26) from the field and had six assists and one blocked shot. In UVa's win at Maryland, Watson scored 15 points and had 10 rebounds. Against N.C. State, Watson tallied 15 points and 14 rebounds.

blood drive which was held on Saturday, February 15 at The Cage, located in Onesty Hall. Billet organized the event after being involved in the same activity at Rutgers.

The bone marrow registration and blood drive was specifically targeting minorities, but all ethnicities were encouraged to register and/or donate blood.

Billet said that he wanted to start the registration and drive at UVa to spread awareness about the importance of becoming a bone marrow and blood donor, especially for minority groups.

"For someone with leukemia, their only hope may be a bone marrow transplant, which requires a donor. However, minorities face a limited number of possible bone marrow matches because a relatively low number of minorities register.

"We are targeting minorities because they are the largest group in need, but we want everyone to come out to donate and register," said Billet. "By doing so, you might possibly save someone's life."

Home Sweet Home

Like many ACC teams, the Cavaliers are enjoying terrific success playing in front of their home crowd. Ten of UVa's 14 victories this season have been at University Hall. Prior to defeating Maryland (86-78 – Feb. 6), Virginia had lost its last five road games.

The Cavaliers are a perfect 10-0 at U-Hall this season and just 4-8 away from home, including 2-7 in away games.

Since the beginning of the 1999-2000 season, the Cavaliers are:

48-8 (85.7 percent) in all home games
 22-6 (78.6 percent) in all home ACC games
 15-27 (35.7 percent) in all away games
 8-22 (26.7 percent) in all away ACC games
 7-6 (53.8 percent) in all neutral site games

He's Back

After missing 70 consecutive games spanning 1,032 days, junior guard Majestic Mapp made his long anticipated return to the Cavalier lineup against North Carolina (Jan. 11). Mapp entered the game to a standing ovation with 7:23 remaining in the first half and played just over two minutes.

Mapp had been sidelined after tearing the ACL in his right knee on August 2, 2000. He missed the entire 2000-01 and 2001-02 seasons. The last time Mapp had played for UVa was March 15, 2000 against Georgetown in the first round of the National Invitation Tournament.

Here's a look at Mapp's game-by-game statistics:

Jenifer Suspended Indefinitely

Sophomore guard Keith Jenifer is suspended from the team indefinitely for conduct detrimental to the team. He will not practice or play in games during the suspension which began on February 3.

Jenifer started 14 games and played in the first 19 of the Cavaliers' games this season. He leads the team in assists (104) and is averaging 5.6 points and 3.5 rebounds a game.

Billet and Watson Among NCAA Leaders

Senior forward/center Travis Watson and junior guard Todd Billet are ranked among the NCAA Division I leaders in rebounding and free throw percentage, respectively, for games played through February 10.

Watson is 11th among all Division I players in rebounds with an average of 10.6 per game. He is currently averaging 10.8 rebounds per game (226 in 21 games).

Billet is 21st in the nation in free throw percentage at 88.7 percent (63-71). Presently, Billet is shooting 86.8 percent (66-76) from the free throw line.

In-State Winning Streak Snapped

The Cavaliers' had their 15-game winning streak against in-state opponents snapped with a 73-55 loss at Virginia Tech (Jan. 21). Even with the loss to Virginia Tech, UVa's record against in-state opponents in the last 26 seasons (since 1977-78) is 106-15 for an .876 winning percentage.

20/20

Against Wofford (Jan. 2), senior forward/center Travis Watson accomplished what no UVa player has been able to do in 20 years – register 20 or more points and rebounds in the same game. In the Cavaliers' 87-65 victory, Watson scored 21 points and pulled down a career-high 20 rebounds.

The last Virginia player to accomplish the feat was Ralph Sampson on Jan. 12, 1983 when he had 33 points and 21 rebounds against N.C. State.

Fewest Points

Virginia held N.C. State to 58 points in a 61-58 victory (Feb. 9), marking the fewest points scored by a UVa opponent in a conference game since the 1998-99 season. The Cavaliers held Wake Forest to 54 points in a 64-54 win at University Hall on February 3, 1999.

The 58 points ties for the second fewest points allowed in an ACC game during Pete Gillen's tenure at UVa. The Cavaliers also held Clemson to 58 points in a 65-58 win on January 17, 1999. That game was also played at U-Hall.

Five Score in Double Figures

The Cavaliers had five players score in double figures in their 85-72 win over Florida State (Jan. 29), marking the first time this season that has happened. Senior forward/center Travis Watson led the way with 20 points, while freshman forward Derrick Byars had 15. Junior guard Todd Billet and sophomore forward Elton Brown both scored 14 points, and sophomore forward Jason Clark added 12.

The previous time UVa had five players score in double figures in the same game was February 28, 2002 against Duke. Roger Mason, Jr. (22), Adam Hall (21), Chris Williams (14), Watson (12) and Keith Jenifer (10) all reached double figures in the scoring column.

The Cavaliers' 87-65 victory (Jan. 2) over Wofford marked their 200th victory over a non-conference opponent at University Hall since the building opened for the 1965-66 season. Virginia is 200-29 for an impressive .873 winning percentage all-time in University Hall against non-conference opponents.

Billet Scores 1,000th Career Point

Junior guard Todd Billet reached the 1,000 point milestone in UVa's 79-72 win over North Carolina (Jan. 11). Billet scored his 1,000th career point with a three-point field goal with 4:15 remaining in the first half. Billet tallied 24 points in the game against North Carolina. He has scored 1,149 points in his collegiate career. Billet scored 844 points in two seasons at Rutgers and has scored 305 points this season in a Virginia uniform.

Shooting 50 Percent From the Field

The Cavaliers have shot 50 percent or better in five games this season and are only 3-2 in those games (Virginia is 11-6 when it shoots below 50 percent). The two games UVa shot 50 percent and lost, it outshot its opponent (Duke – 50.8 to 50.0 and Clemson – 59.2 to 55.4). Virginia is one of only two ACC schools (Clemson is the other) this year to lose a game when shooting 50 percent or better.

Four Consecutive Double-Doubles

Senior forward/center Travis Watson had his streak of double-doubles in four consecutive games snapped against Duke (Jan. 15). After a "drought" of three games without a double-double, Watson has notched five double-doubles in his last six games, including three consecutive. His third straight double-double and 12th of the season came against North Carolina (Feb. 12) as he had 13 points and 15 rebounds. He has reached double figures in double-doubles three consecutive seasons. See page 6 of the notes for a listing of Watson's double-doubles this season.

Watson has recorded four consecutive double-doubles three times in his career (he did it twice last season). The last Virginia player other than Watson to notch four consecutive double-doubles was in the 1997-98 season when Norman Nolan accomplished the feat. Nolan posted consecutive double-doubles against Clemson (Feb. 21) - 24 pts., 12 rebs., Maryland (Feb. 24) - 26 pts., 15 rebs., Florida State (Feb. 28) - 24 pts., 10 rebs., and Duke (Mar. 3) - 13 pts., 15 rebs.

Ralph Sampson is the last UVa player to have five consecutive double-doubles as he concluded his stellar career with five double-doubles in a row in the 1982-83 season. Sampson's career high for consecutive double-doubles is nine, but interestingly enough, that is not the school record. Norm Carmichael posted a school record 12 consecutive double-doubles in the 1967-68 season.

Watson has led UVa in rebounding in 17 of 22 games this season and is averaging ACC bests of 10.8 boards per game overall and 11.6 in ACC play. He is averaging 13.2 rebounds a game in his last six contests. He leads Virginia in scoring with an average of 14.3 points per game (12th in the ACC). Watson is shooting 51.8 percent (114-220) from the field (2nd in the ACC).

Free Throw Woes

The Cavaliers set a record for free throw futility in their loss to Virginia Tech (Jan. 21). UVa was just 1-6 (16.7 percent) from the free throw line marking their lowest known free throw percentage in a game since at least the 1963-64 season (and very possibly since the 1957-58 season). Virginia's previous known record for lowest free throw percentage in a game was 20.0 percent when it went 2-10 from the line against Kentucky Wesleyan on December 28, 1963.

The one made free throw vs. Virginia Tech ties for the fewest free throws made in a game. The Cavaliers also made only one free throw vs. Duke – 1-2 (Feb. 9, 1977); North Carolina – 1-1 (Mar. 7, 1982); and Wake Forest – 1-3 (Mar. 9, 1984).

UVa's six free throw attempts against the Hokies ties for the 14th fewest free throws attempted in a game. It is the fewest free throws Virginia has attempted in a game since attempting only three (two were made) against North Carolina on February 11, 1998 and six (five were made) against Georgia Tech on February 14, 1998.

Making Free Throws Down The Stretch

The Cavaliers have struggled from the free throw line this season, making just 67.1 percent (318-474) of their attempts from the charity stripe. However, UVa has been more reliable from the charity stripe in the final five minutes of games.

In the first half of games, Virginia is shooting 70.0 percent (112-160) from the line. UVa has made 65.6 percent (206-314) of its attempts in the second half of games. In the final five minutes of games, the Cavaliers have made 117 of 170 attempts for 68.8 percent. (UVa is only 89-144 for 61.8 percent in the first 15 minutes of the second half.) In its last 18 games, UVa has made 106 of 148 attempts from the foul line in the final five minutes of games for 71.6 percent.

Field Goal Percentage Defense

After allowing its last seven opponent's of the 2001-2002 season to shoot 50 percent or better from the field (and nine overall), the Cavaliers have allowed only four teams to shoot 50 percent or better from the field this season.

Last year, UVa opponents shot 44.2 percent from the field compared to 42.6 percent in 2002-2003. In ACC contests last season, Virginia's opponents shot 48.0 percent from the floor, versus 45.9 percent this season.

Cavaliers Finish Second in Maui Invitational

Virginia won two of three games to finish second in the 2002 EA Sports Maui Invitational (Nov. 25-27) at the Lahaina Civic Center in Maui, Hawaii. The Cavaliers defeated Chaminade 86-72 (Nov. 25) and 15th-ranked Kentucky 75-61 (Nov. 26) before falling to 19th-ranked Indiana 70-63 (Nov. 27) in the championship game.

Senior forward/center Travis Watson was named to the All-Tournament team. Watson registered two double-doubles and averaged 12.7 points and 11.0 rebounds in the three games. He also blocked nine shots and added seven assists and five steals.

Billet Unkind to Former Team

He was booed all game long, but it didn't faze junior guard Todd Billet, who was making his return to Louis Brown Athletic Center and Rutgers on December 21. Billet, who played for Rutgers for two seasons before transferring to Virginia, scored a game-high 22 points in leading his new team to a 61-57 victory over the Scarlet Knights. Among his 22 points were a pair of free throws with 14 seconds remaining that broke a 57-57 tie and gave the Cavaliers the lead for good.

5 • Virginia vs. Duke, February 15, 2003

In two seasons at Rutgers, Billet averaged 14.6 points per game, including 16.6 per game in 2000-01. He also established a school record for three-pointers in a season with 82 in 2000-01.

Billet is second on the team in scoring this season with 13.9 points per game (13th in the ACC). He is averaging a team-high 16.6 points per game in ACC play (5th in the ACC). Billet tops the Cavaliers in three-point field goals (61) and is third among all ACC players in free throw shooting (66-76 for 86.8 percent).

Watson 22nd All-Time Among ACC Players in Rebounding

Senior forward/center Travis Watson is 22nd all-time among ACC players in career rebounds. Watson has 1,020 rebounds and needs eight rebounds to move past North Carolina's Antawn Jamison (1996-98) into 21st place. Duke's Mike Lewis (1966-68) is 20th with 1,051 career rebounds.

More Double-Doubles

Senior forward/center Travis Watson has picked up where he left off last season as he has recorded 12 double-doubles this season. With the 12 double-doubles, Watson leads all ACC players in that category. Watson has 50 in his career which trails only Ralph Sampson's school record 84 career double-doubles.

Here's a list of Watson's double-doubles in 2002-03:
 Travis Watson – 26 pts., 13 rebs. vs. Long Island (Nov. 22)
 Travis Watson – 16 pts., 14 rebs. vs. Chaminade (Nov. 25)

6 • Virginia vs. Duke, February 15, 2003

 Travis Watson – 20 pts., 15 rebs. vs. Liberty (Dec. 30)
 Travis Watson – 21 pts., 20 rebs. vs. Wofford (Jan. 2)
 Travis Watson – 10 pts., 12 rebs. vs. N.C. State (Jan. 5)
 Travis Watson – 18 pts., 12 rebs. vs. North Carolina (Jan. 11)
 Travis Watson – 11 pts., 13 rebs. vs. Wake Forest (Jan. 23)
 Travis Watson – 20 pts., 16 rebs. vs. Florida State (Jan. 29)
 Travis Watson – 15 pts., 10 rebs. vs. Maryland (Feb. 6)
 Travis Watson – 15 pts., 14 rebs. vs. N.C. State (Feb. 9)
 Travis Watson – 13 pts., 15 rebs. vs. North Carolina (Feb. 12)

Watson's 50 career double-doubles are the most of any active ACC player. Watson, who recorded an ACC-best 17 double-doubles last year, also had double-doubles in both of UVa's 2002-2003 exhibition games.

Duke Ties a Record

In UVa's game against Duke (Jan. 15), the Blue Devils made 37 of 40 free throws (92.5 percent) with the 37 made free throws tying the school record for most free throws made in a game by a Virginia opponent. St. Joseph's (Pa.) made 37 free throws (43 attempts) against UVa on February 21, 1958.

Raining Threes

UVa set a season-high by making 12 three-point field goals in its 86-78 win over Maryland (Feb. 6). The 12 made threes ties for the 10th-highest single game total in school history.

The Cavaliers made 11 threes in four games this season before draining 12 against the Terrapins. Virginia has made 164 three-pointers this season and is averaging 7.5 per game. The Cavaliers are shooting 37.1 percent (164-442) from three-point land overall and 38.2 percent (79-207) in ACC contests.

Harper Reinstated

Sophomore guard Jermaine Harper was reinstated to the team December 12 after being suspended for a violation of team rules. Harper missed the Cavaliers' first five games of the season. He did not practice during the suspension.

In the 17 games Harper has played he is averaging 4.4 points and 1.4 rebounds per game. He is averaging 13.0 minutes of playing time per game.

In UVa's win at Maryland (Feb. 6), Harper made two critical three-pointers late in the second half to help propel the Cavaliers to the victory. He also made a key three-pointer with UVa trailing by four with just over five minutes remaining in Virginia's 61-58 win over N.C. State (Feb. 9).

Vander Laan Joins Growing List

Junior center Nick Vander Laan became the latest Cavalier to set a UVa career-high in scoring (see notes to follow). Vander Laan poured in 17 points in Virginia's 72-65 win over Gardner-Webb (Dec. 19). His previous UVa best was 10 points against then 19th-ranked Indiana (Nov. 27). Vander Laan's overall career-high is 23 points against Oklahoma in the 1999-2000 season while playing for Cal-Berkeley.

Vander Laan set a UVa career-best in rebounds with 11 vs. Rutgers (Dec. 21). His previous season-high was eight rebounds on two occasions. Vander Laan's overall career best rebounding game is 13 against Washington during the 1999-2000 season while playing for Cal-Berkeley.

He blocked three shots in UVa's win over N.C. State (Feb. 9) to set a career-high in that category.

Byars Joins Career High Club

Freshman forward Derrick Byars became another in a long line of Cavaliers to set a career high in scoring. Byars registered career-highs in back-to-back games. Byars scored 16 points, including 14 in the second half, in UVa's 84-76 win over East Tennessee State (Dec. 17). He then scored a game-high 20 points in the Cavaliers' 72-65 victory over Gardner-Webb (Dec. 19). His previous career high was 11 points against Indiana (Nov. 27).

Byars also registered a career-high five steals against Gardner-Webb. His previous career-best was two steals against Michigan State (Dec. 4).

Billet and Smith Net UVa Career Bests

Junior guard Todd Billet and sophomore forward/guard Devin Smith scored career-highs as Cavaliers in UVa's game against Michigan State (Dec. 4).

Billet poured in 28 points off the bench – including 26 in the second half. His career-high is 37 points against James Madison during the 2000-2001 season while playing at Rutgers University. He is averaging 13.9 points per game this season (second on the team). Billet set a Virginia career-best with eight assists against Maryland (Feb. 6). His overall career high is 11 vs. Pittsburgh (Feb. 11, 2001) while playing for Rutgers.

Smith scored 24 points against the Spartans. He was 9-13 from the floor, including 4-6 from three-point range, and made both of his free throw attempts. Smith is third on the team in scoring at 10.0 points per game.

New Career High for Clark

Sophomore forward Jason Clark scored 12 points – all in the second half – in the Cavaliers' 90-86 win over Long Island (Nov. 22) to establish a new career high. Clark equaled his career high with 12 points against Rutgers (Dec. 21) in his first start of the season. He also scored 12 points versus Florida State (Jan. 29). Clark also blocked a season-high five shots and grabbed a season-best eight rebounds vs. Rutgers. Clark's former career-best was 11 points against Duke (Jan. 27, 2002).

Clark also set a career-high with three assists against N.C. State (Feb. 9).

Brown Nets New Career High for Points

Sophomore forward Elton Brown established a new career high for points in a game when he scored 22 in UVa's 86-72 victory over Chaminade (Nov. 25). Brown, who surpassed his old career best of 20 points against Georgia Tech (Jan. 22, 2002), made eight of 13 shots from the floor and five of seven attempts from the charity stripe.

Not Just a Scorer

Sophomore guard/forward Devin Smith came to Virginia with a reputation as a terrific scorer (19.4 ppg, at Coffeyville Community College), but he has also shown a knack for blocking shots. He has blocked 18 shots in the last 14 games, including a season-high four against Liberty (Dec. 30). With 24 blocks this season (1.1 per game), Smith is second on the team in that category.

Making the Most of His Opportunities

Sophomore forward Jason Clark has only taken 60 shots this season, but he's made 43 baskets for an impressive .717 field goal percentage. He is shooting 75.0 percent (21-28) in ACC games this season. Clark has shot 50 percent or better in every game excluding the four games (Indiana – Nov. 27, East Tennessee State – Dec. 17, Wofford – Jan. 2, and North Carolina – Feb. 12) he did not attempt a field goal. Clark has been perfect from the field eight times this season. He is shooting 64.3 percent (83-129) from the field in his career. In ACC contests during his career, Clark is 48-65 for an amazing 73.8 percent.

Home Cookin'

Freshman forward Derrick Byars is averaging 7.8 points per game this season, however, he is averaging nearly 10 points per contest in games played at University Hall. (His average at home was 12.3 points per game prior to not scoring against North Carolina – Jan. 11. He injured his left shoulder early in

50th ANNIVERSARY OF THE ACC

The Atlantic Coast Conference is celebrating its 50th anniversary this season. Former University of Virginia standouts Jeff Lamp, Barry Parkhill and Ralph Sampson were named to the 50th Anniversary ACC Men's Basketball Team.

Sampson was also recently named as one of the top 50 male ACC athletes of all-time.

Lamp lettered four times for Virginia from 1978-81, and was a first-team All-America selection in 1980 and 1981. He helped lead the Cavaliers to the 1980 NIT Championship and the 1981 NCAA Final Four. He was named the Most Valuable Player of the 1981 NCAA East Regional and was an All-Tournament selection at the 1981 Final Four. A team captain during his UVa career, Lamp ranks second on Virginia's all-time scoring list with 2,317 points. Lamp was a first-round selection by the Portland Trail Blazers in the 1981 NBA Draft.

Parkhill lettered for Virginia from 1971-73 and was a first-team All-America selection in 1972 and 1973. He was selected the ACC Basketball Player of the Year and the ACC Athlete of the Year in 1972. Parkhill earned first-team All-ACC honors in 1972 and was a second-team All-Conference selection in 1971 and 1973. He was also an All-ACC Tournament selection in 1971 and 1972. He holds Virginia's single-game scoring record with 51 points against Baldwin-Wallace on December 11, 1971. Parkhill was a first-round draft selection by both the Virginia Squires (ABA) and Portland Trail Blazers (NBA) after his collegiate career.

Sampson lettered four times for Virginia from 1980-83, and was a three-time National and ACC Player of the Year. He was a four-time first-team All-America selection and a three-time first-team All-ACC selection. Sampson received three consecutive Rupp trophies, two consecutive Eastman Awards and two John R. Wooden Awards. He was the ACC Rookie of the Year in 1980. Sampson helped lead the Cavaliers to the 1980 NIT Championship and the 1981 NCAA Final Four. He was named the Most Valuable Player of the 1980 NIT. Sampson holds Virginia career records for rebounds (1,511), field goals made (899) and blocked shots (462). He led the ACC in rebounding three times and ranks fourth on UVa's career scoring list with 2,228 points. Sampson was selected by the Houston Rockets as the NBA's number one draft choice in 1983 and went on to earn NBA Rookie of the Year honors.

the game against UNC and played only eight minutes). Byars is averaging 9.9 points per game in 10 home games and is averaging only 6.1 points in 12 games away from home. To go one step further, Byars has only scored 44 points (4.9 per game) in UVa's nine games on opponents' home courts. Twenty three of those points (11.5 ppg.) came in UVa's games at Georgia Tech (Feb. 1) and North Carolina (Feb. 12).

Billet Heating Up

In his last 10 games, junior guard Todd Billet has scored 162 points for an average of 16.2 points per game (and 156 points – 17.3 points per game in his last nine ACC games).

Billet has started at point guard the last six games and averaged 4.7 assists per game. He has averaged 6.0 assists per game in the last three games. Billet had a UVa career-high eight assists against Maryland (Feb. 6) and dished out seven assists with no turnovers against N.C. State (Feb. 9).

Billet is averaging 13.9 points per game overall (13th in the ACC) and 16.6 points per ACC contest (5th in the ACC). On the season, Billet has made 61 three-point field goals overall (2.77 per game – 3rd in the ACC) and is averaging a league-best 3.30 three-pointers per game in conference tilts. Billet is shooting 38.6 percent from behind the arc (8th in the ACC). In ACC play, he has made 33 of 76 three-point attempts (43.4 percent – 4th in the ACC).

Billet made seven three-pointers against Clemson (Jan. 18) which ties for the sixth highest single game total in school history.

Single Season Three-Point Field Goal Leaders

Junior guard Todd Billet has made 61 three-point field goals this season and stands 12th on the Cavaliers' single season three-point field goals list.

Here's a look at UVa's all-time single season three-point field goal leaders list:

Watson Sets Single Season Career Highs

Senior forward/center Travis Watson has set single season career highs in two categories this season – but interestingly enough – not in rebounds, points or blocked shots, but in assists and steals. Watson has handed out 48 assists to easily surpass his former best of 31 assists last season. He has come up with 33 steals (including 12 in his last four games) this season. Watson's previous season high for steals was 32 last year.

Brown Finds His Touch

In his last 10 games, sophomore forward Elton Brown has scored 106 points for an average of 10.6 points per game and is shooting 56.6 percent (43-76) from the field. In his last eight ACC games, Brown has made 36 of 62 attempts from the floor (58.1 percent).

Brown is averaging 9.6 points per game overall and 10.8 points per game in ACC play. In ACC games, he is shooting 53.7 percent (44-82) from the field.

Watson Heating Up

Senior forward/center Travis Watson has scored in double figures in 13 of his last 14 games and is averaging 15.1 points per game in those 14 contests. On the season, he is averaging 14.3 points per game overall and 14.4 in ACC games.

Watson is shooting 51.8 percent (114-220) from the field this season and has shot 50 percent or better 12 times (in 21 games). Watson is shooting 50.0 percent (52-104) in ACC games (tie for 3rd in the ACC).

When Watson has shot from inside the three-point arc this season, he is 110-200 (55.0 percent). He is just 4-20 (20.0 percent) from three-point range.

Watson 19th in Scoring

Senior forward/center Travis Watson has moved up to 19th on the Cavaliers' all-time scoring list with 1,402 career points. He needs 14 points to move past Mel Kennedy (1985-88) into 18th place.

Here's a look at UVa's all-time scoring leaders:

1.	Bryant Stith (1989-92)	2,516
2.	Jeff Lamp (1978-81)	2,317

Watson Second in Rebounds

Senior forward/center Travis Watson has grabbed 226 rebounds (10.8 per game) this season in the 21 games he has played. He is second on Virginia's career rebounding list with 1,020.

Here's a look at Virginia's all-time rebounding leaders:

1.	Ralph Sampson (1980-83)	1,511
2.	Travis Watson (2000-pres.)	1,020
3.	Junior Burrough (1992-95)	929
4.	Bryant Stith (1989-92)	859
5.	Steve Castellan (1976-79)	799

All-Time Blocked Shot Leaders

Senior Travis Watson ranks among Virginia's all-time leaders in blocked shots. Watson has 116 career blocked shots and ranks fourth all-time. He blocked a career-high tying five shots against Chaminade (Nov. 25) to jump from seventh to fifth place. He needs 11 blocked shots to move past Kris Hunter (1997-99) for third place.

Here's a look at UVA's all-time blocked shots leaders:

1. Ralph Sampson (1980-83)	462
2. Chris Alexander (1993-96)	148

Transfers Making Big Impact

Virginia's three transfers – junior guard Todd Billet (Rutgers), junior center Nick Vander Laan (California-Berkeley), and sophomore guard/forward Devin Smith (Coffeyville Community College) – have made a big impact on the team in 2002-03. The trio have combined to start 44 times and average 30.0 points and 10.6 rebounds per game. Billet and Smith have made 98 of UVA's 164 three-point field goals this season as well. Billet also leads UVA in free throw percentage (.868 – 66-76) and Smith is second (.794 – 27-34).

Billet and Vander Laan are eligible to play for the Cavaliers during the 2002-03 season after transferring to Virginia prior to the 2001-02 academic year.

Billet, a 6-0 guard from Middletown, N.J., started all 58 games and averaged 14.6 points per game in his two seasons at Rutgers. He is a three-point specialist who established the Rutgers' school record for three-pointers in a season with 82 and tied the school's single-game record when he made eight three-pointers against Lafayette during the 2000-01 season.

Vander Laan, a 6-10 center from Sacramento, Calif., averaged 7.5 points and 6.1 rebounds a game in two seasons at California-Berkeley. He was voted honorable mention Pac-10 All-Freshman following the 1999-2000 season.

The 6-5 Smith averaged 19.4 points and 6.6 rebounds per game while earning first-team Junior College All-America honors as a freshman at Coffeyville Community College in 2001-02.

Tough Early Season Schedule

The Cavaliers played three nationally-ranked teams (Kentucky, Indiana and Michigan State) in their first five games of the season. It is the first time in school history the Cavaliers played three of their first five games of a season against ranked teams. In the 1963-64, 1968-69, 1991-92 and 1996-97 seasons, UVA played two ranked teams in the first five games of the season.

The Cavaliers are 3-3 against nationally-ranked teams this season. Here's a list of UVA's games this season against teams ranked in the Associated Press Poll:

11/26	vs. Kentucky	#15	W	75-61
11/27	vs. Indiana	#19	L	63-70
12/4	at Michigan State	#21	L	75-82
1/15	at Duke	#1	L	93-104

Jenifer Sets Career Highs

Sophomore guard Keith Jenifer became the third returning player to establish a new career high in scoring this season. Jenifer tallied 13 points in UVA's 75-61 victory over Kentucky (Nov. 26). His previous career high was 10 points against Duke (Feb. 28) last season.

Jenifer has also set a new career high for assists. He handed out a career-best seven assists in the season-opener against Long Island (Nov. 22) and then increased his career high to eight against Indiana (Nov. 27). He equaled his career-best with eight assists against Wofford (Jan. 2) and then against Florida State (Jan. 29).

With nine rebounds against Rutgers (Dec. 21), Jenifer set a new career high in that category. His previous career high for rebounds was five on two occasions.

Jenifer Sets Career-High

Sophomore guard Keith Jenifer has handed out 104 assists (5.5 per game – 6th in the ACC) this season and has surpassed his previous career high of 80. Jenifer has a 2.0 to 1 assist to turnover ratio this season (4th in the ACC). He possesses a 2.43 to 1 assist to turnover ratio in ACC play (2nd in the ACC).

Jenifer has had five or more assists in 14 games this season. He has not had more turnovers than assists in any game this season.

Virginia Returns to Postseason Play

The University of Virginia men's basketball team received an invitation to the National Invitation Tournament (NIT) following the 2001-02 regular season. UVa lost to South Carolina 74-67 in the first round of the tournament. It was the Cavaliers' ninth NIT appearance and the team's third consecutive postseason appearance. Following the 2000-2001 season, UVa received a bid to the 2001 NCAA Tournament. UVa lost to Gonzaga 86-85 in the first round of the 2001 NCAA South Region Tournament. The game marked the Cavaliers first NCAA Tournament appearance since 1997. Virginia made the first of three straight postseason appearances with a bid to the 2000 National Invitation Tournament (NIT). UVa lost to Georgetown 115-111 in triple overtime in the first round of the NIT.

Bench Scoring – 48, 47, 46, 43

Virginia's reserves have played a major role in several of the Cavaliers' wins this season. Reserves have combined to score 46 or more points in three victories this season. UVa's bench was also a key factor in UVa's 86-78 victory over Maryland (Feb. 6).

Four Cavaliers off the bench combined to score 48 of UVa's 72 points in a 72-65 victory over Gardner-Webb (Dec. 19). The 48 points are the most this season scored by players off UVa's bench. Freshman forward Derrick Byars and junior center Nick Vander Laan scored 20 and 17 points, respectively.

The previous 2002-2003 high was 47 points in an 86-72 win over Chaminade (Nov. 25). Sophomore forward Elton Brown led the way with 22 points, while sophomore guard/forward Devin Smith added 16 points.

UVa's bench came through again in a 79-75 victory over Georgetown (Dec. 28) as the four players who came off the bench combined to score 46 points. Senior forward/center Travis Watson led the way with 16 points, while Brown tallied 14 points.

Four players came off the bench to scored 43 points – half the team's total – in an 86-78 victory at Maryland (Feb. 6). Smith led all UVa scorers with 17 points, while junior guard Majestic Mapp added 11 points.

Two Busy Weeks After Final Exams

After a 13-day break for final exams, the Cavaliers won three games in a span of five days. UVa won the first two games of the stretch – 84-76 over East Tennessee State (Dec. 17) and 72-65 over Gardner-Webb (Dec. 19) – at home in University Hall. UVa closed out the stretch with a 61-57 victory at Rutgers (Dec. 21).

Virginia then won three home games in a span of six days. UVa began its homestand with a 79-75 victory over Georgetown (Dec. 28) and posted a 77-58 win over Liberty

(Dec. 30). The Cavaliers closed their homestand with an 87-65 victory over Wofford (Jan. 2).

Rod Jensen Joins Coaching Staff

Cavaliers Welcome Six Newcomers

Joining the Cavaliers this season are 6-7 freshman forward Derrick Byars and 6-5 sophomore guard/forward Devin Smith.

Byars, a three-year letterman at Ridgeway High School in Memphis, Tenn., averaged 23.2 points, 10 rebounds and 4.5 assists per game as a high school senior during the 2001-02 season. He shot 37 percent from three-point range and 77 percent from the free throw line. He was a fourth-team Parade All-America selection and the Gatorade Player of the Year in Tennessee as a high school senior.

Smith earned first-team Junior College All-America honors as a freshman at Coffeyville Community College in Coffeyville, Kan., last season. During the 2001-02 season he averaged 19.4 points and 6.6 rebounds a game, shot 51.8 percent (251-485) from the field, including 45.8 percent (108-236) from three-point range, and made 90.2 percent (129-143) of his free throw attempts.

Four additional players joined the Virginia team after participating in open tryouts October 7-8. The players are guard Billy Campbell (6-0, Fr., Atlanta, Ga.), forward Greg Harrell-Edge (6-8, Sr., Vienna, Va.), guard Robert Lodge (6-4, Fr., Raleigh, N.C.) and forward Rob Williams (6-7, So., Martinsville, Va.). See page 12 of the notes for bios on the four walk-ons.

Watson Named Candidate for CLASS Award

Senior All-America candidate Travis Watson is one of 36 candidates for the second annual Senior CLASS Award as announced by the award's organizing committee. The Senior CLASS Award – an acronym for Celebrating Loyalty and Achievement for Staying in School – is presented annually to the nation's senior player-of-the-year for NCAA Division I men's and women's basketball. The award was developed in response to the recent trend of college basketball players leaving college early to turn professional.

Selection criteria is based on a number of factors, the most important being that the recipient must have exhausted his four years of eligibility and have fulfilled his commitment to his respective university. In addition, the recipient must be working toward his degree, be in good academic standing and be of sound moral character.

Ten finalists will appear on the official ballot during the national voting process in March. The winners will be announced during the respective NCAA Final Four events.

Cavalier Comeback Falls Short Against North Carolina

Virginia fell behind by as many as 19 points, but rallied to tie the game at 47-47, only to see North Carolina pull away for an 81-67 victory (Feb. 12) over UVa at the Dean E. Smith Center in Chapel Hill, N.C.

North Carolina scored the first 10 points of the game and the Cavaliers trailed by 19 points, 34-15, with 5:17 remaining in the first half. Virginia closed the first half with a 13-3 run to cut the deficit to nine (37-28) at the intermission. UVa opened the second stanza with a 19-10 run to tie the game at 47-47 with 13:14 to play (Virginia outscored UNC 32-13 to erase the 19-point deficit – 34-15 – and tie the game at 47-47). The Tar Heels answered with an 18-5 spurt to open up a 13-point lead (65-52).

Senior forward/center Travis Watson led UVa with 13 points and 15 rebounds for his 12th double-double of the season. He also added two assists, two steals and two blocked shots. Junior guard Todd Billet tallied 16 points, while sophomore guard/forward Devin Smith scored 14 points and had seven rebounds and three blocked shots. Freshman forward Derrick Byars rounded out UVa's double figure scorers with 12 points.

The Tar Heels shot 50.8 percent (31-61) from the field in the game, while UVa was only 24-63 for 38.1 percent accuracy. The Cavaliers committed 21 turnovers in the game that led to 20 UNC points. Virginia won the battle of the boards, 42-34, including an 18-10 edge on the offensive glass.

Rashad McCants and Raymond Felton led North Carolina with 21 points and five assists apiece.

UVa Wins Two Exhibition Games

The Cavaliers won both of their 2002-2003 exhibition games. Virginia posted an 84-60 victory over Big Apple Basketball (Nov. 10) and a 73-57 exhibition win over One World All-Stars (Nov. 17) at University Hall.

Against Big Apple Basketball, the Cavaliers' starting front court of senior forward/center Travis Watson, junior center Nick Vander Laan and sophomore forward Elton Brown combined for 69 points and 47 rebounds.

Watson picked up where he left off last year and recorded a double-double with a game-high 32 points and 17 rebounds. Watson connected on 14 of 22 shots from the field, including three of six attempts from three-point range. In his first game as a Cavalier, Vander Laan grabbed a game-high 24 rebounds, including 13 offensive, and added 14 points for a double-double. Brown made 10 of 20 attempts from the field en route to 23 points. He also pulled down six rebounds. Junior guard Todd Billet rounded out UVa's double digit scorers with 13 points. He also contributed five rebounds and three assists. Watson, Brown, Vander Laan and Billet combined to score 82 of UVa's 84 points.

The Cavaliers used just eight players in the game as sophomores Jason Clark, Jermaine Harper and Keith Jenifer were serving a one-game suspension for a violation of team rules. Junior Majestic Mapp, sophomore Devin Smith and freshman Derrick Byars missed the game with injuries.

In the 73-57 win over One World All-Stars, Watson registered a double-double with 16 points and 16 rebounds to lead the Cavaliers. He also blocked four shots. Billet led all scorers with 17 points and also recorded a game-high seven assists. Vander Laan and Smith rounded out UVa's double figure scorers. Vander Laan scored 12 points and added seven rebounds, two blocked shots and two assists. In his first game for the Cavaliers, Smith tallied 11 points.

One World All-Stars built a five-point lead (40-35) early in the second half, only to see the Cavaliers quickly respond with baskets by Watson, Billet and Vander Laan. UVa took the lead for good midway through the second half when sophomore forward Elton Brown converted a layup off an offensive rebound to give the Cavaliers a 51-50 lead.

Cavaliers Ink Two

University of Virginia men's head basketball coach Pete Gillen has announced the signing of two individuals to national letters of intent with Virginia. The two individuals are 6-6 Gary Forbes of Brooklyn, N.Y., and 6-3 J. R. Reynolds of Roanoke, Va.

Forbes, a guard, averaged 25 points, 11 rebounds and five assists a game as a junior during the 2001-02 season at Benjamin Banneker Academy.

Reynolds, a combination guard, started for four seasons at Roanoke Catholic High School before transferring to Oak Hill Academy for his senior year. He scored 2,237 points, made 217 three-point field goals and had 570 assists during his career at Roanoke Catholic. He was named the Most Valuable Player in the Virginia Independent Schools Division II three times.

"We are thrilled to officially have these two young men join our Virginia basketball family," Gillen said. "They are both very talented guards who can play a couple of positions. I sincerely feel they will be impact players on our team next season."

Watson Looks Toward Senior Year

Senior forward/center Travis Watson has been named to the Wooden Award Preseason All-American Basketball Team and is also a preseason Naismith Award candidate. Watson is a third-team preseason All-America selection by Street & Smith's and is rated sixth nationally at center in Lindy's preseason basketball magazine. Watson added to his already impressive career at UVa by being named to the All-ACC second team after the 2001-02 season. He led the ACC in four statistical categories last season: double-doubles (17), rebounds (9.7 rpg), offensive rebounds (3.43 pg), and defensive rebounds (6.29 pg).

At the ACC's annual Operation Basketball, Watson was selected to the conference's 2002-03 Pre-Season First Team. He received 85 votes, the most of any player. Watson was also second to Duke's Chris Duhon in the Pre-Season ACC Player of the Year voting.

Twelve Games against Tournament Teams

Of Virginia's 29 regular-season games before the 2003 ACC Tournament, 12 are against eight teams that participated in either the 2002 NCAA Tournament or the National Invitation Tournament (NIT). Two of the games are against national champion Maryland. The Cavaliers also meet league foes Duke, N.C. State and Wake Forest twice. Those teams all participated in last season's NCAA Tournament. In addition to those games, Virginia has played Michigan State, an NCAA participant and Rutgers, which earned an NIT bid.

At the Maui Invitational (November 25-27), UVa played Kentucky (NCAA) and Indiana (NCAA runners-up).

UVa is 5-4 in 2002-2003 against teams that competed in postseason play last season.
