OFFICIALS

THE GAME

Virginia stands at 14-13 overall and 5-9 in the Atlantic Coast Conference in 2002-2003. The Cavaliers have lost their last six games and are coming off a 73-59 loss to Florida State (Mar. 1) in Tallahassee, Fla. Georgia Tech stands at 12-13 overall and 5-9 in the ACC this season. In its last game, the Yellow Jackets lost to North Carolina 67-66 (Mar. 1) in Chapel Hill, N.C.

The Series vs. Georgia Tech

Each team has had a stretch of dominating the series, which Georgia Tech now leads 32-26. The Cavaliers held the lead until the Yellow Jackets passed Virginia by winning 22 of the last 29 meetings, including 11 of the last 13. Earlier this season, Georgia Tech registered an 80-60 win (Feb. 1) in Atlanta. Last season, Virginia snapped a four-game losing streak to Georgia Tech with a 69-65 victory (Jan. 22) over the Jackets in Atlanta. The Yellow Jackets earned a split in the season series with an 82-80 victory (Feb. 23) in Charlottesville. It is the first time in the history of the series (which dates back to 1947-48) that both teams won on the other team's home floor in the same season. In 2000-2001, Georgia Tech swept the regular season series with a 73-68 win (Jan. 9) in Charlottesville (Georgia Tech was the only team to defeat UVa at University Hall in 2000-2001) and a 62-56 triumph (Feb. 11) in Atlanta. The Yellow Jackets also posted a 74-69 victory (Mar. 9) over Virginia in the ACC Tournament in Atlanta.

The Cavaliers have only won one of the last five meetings against Georgia Tech in Charlottesville. Virginia's only home win in the last five meetings was an 83-65 victory (Jan. 8) in the 1999-2000 season. Despite losing four of the last five home games to Georgia Tech, UVa has won 15 of the 24 games played in Charlottesville during the series.

The Cavaliers have won three of five overtime contests in the series, but their 74-68 overtime loss to Georgia Tech in the 1998-99 season snapped a three-game extra session winning streak. The Jackets won the first overtime game in the series 72-71 in triple overtime in the 1983-84 season.

The Cavaliers opened the series with Georgia Tech by winning 10 of the first 13 games, including eight straight from 1981-1983.

These Games are Barn Burners

Even though 11 of the last 18 meetings between these two teams have been decided by at least nine points, people shouldn't be surprised if this one goes down to the wire.

Of the 45 games since the 1983-84 season, only 15 have been decided by 10 or more points. Eighteen of the games have been decided by a margin of four points or less with UVa winning 10 of them. The Cavaliers have won three of four games (won in 1987 and 1990 twice, lost in 2002) decided by two points. Five games have gone into overtime, including a triple overtime affair (1984) and a double overtime game (1995).

From 1985 to 1990 the teams played 15 consecutive games that were decided by fewer than 10 points with Virginia winning eight of those games.

Jackets Shoot Well vs. UVa

The Yellow Jackets have won 13 of the last 16 meetings vs. Virginia in the past eight seasons and a big part of those wins has been Georgia Tech's ability to shoot the basketball. In the 13 wins, the Jackets shot 47.8 percent (346-724) from the field. In the three games Georgia Tech lost to Virginia in the last eight seasons, the Yellow Jackets made only 40.1 percent (69-172) of their attempts from the field. In its last 13 wins over the Cavaliers, Georgia Tech averaged 78.3 points per game compared to 64.7 points per game in its last three losses to UVa (the Jackets have scored 65 points twice and 64 once).

In Georgia Tech's last 22 wins over Virginia dating back to the championship game of the 1990 ACC Tournament, the Yellow Jackets are shooting 47.4 percent from the field, while averaging 75.3 points.

That is in contrast to Georgia Tech's performance when Virginia wins. In Virginia's nine wins over Georgia Tech dating back to the beginning of the 1990s, the Yellow Jackets have shot 40.2 percent from the floor and scored an average of 69.8 points.

In Virginia's last nine wins against Georgia Tech, the Yellow Jackets have not shot better than 42.6 percent from the field (29 of 68 in the 1994-95 season).

Very Similar

Virginia and Georgia Tech have both been very successful at home, but have struggled away from their home courts. Georgia Tech is 11-2 at home (5-2 in ACC games), while UVa is 10-2 at home (4-2 in ACC games). UVa is 2-10 in games on opponents' home courts, while the Yellow Jackets are winless in 10 games.

Earlier This Season Against Georgia Tech

The Cavaliers got off to a quick start, taking a 14-7 lead, but Georgia Tech used an 11-2 run to take the lead for good (18-16) and went on to an 80-60 victory (Feb. 1) at Alexander Memorial Coliseum.

Junior guard Todd Billet led UVa with 19 points, including five three-point field goals, while freshman forward Derrick Byars added 11 points. Billet also handed out four assists. Senior forward/center Travis Watson led all rebounders with 11 boards.

Virginia got off to a good start, taking a 14-7 lead 5:29 into the contest. Georgia Tech responded with an 11-2 run to take the lead for good, 18-16 with 8:40 remaining in the first half. The Yellow Jackets increased their advantage to as many as 13 points in the opening stanza and led 38-28 at the intermission.

After falling behind by as many as 14 points early in the second half, the Cavaliers cut the deficit to eight, 47-39, on a three-pointer by Byars at the 15:20 mark. UVa would get no closer in the game.

Virginia shot only 36.5 percent (23-63) from the field in the game while Georgia Tech connected on 28 of 62 attempts (45.2 percent) from the field. The Yellow Jackets also held a 42-38 advantage in rebounding. UVa committed 19 turnovers in the game that led to 25 Georgia Tech points.

Georgia Tech's Marvin Lewis led all players with 25 points, while Chris Bosh had 22 points and nine rebounds.

Gillen Registers 350th Career Win

Virginia head coach Pete Gillen won his 350th career game on December 21 when his Cavaliers posted a 61-57 victory over Rutgers.

Gillen is in his 18th season as a collegiate head coach and sports a 358-190 record for a .653 winning percentage. Gillen is in his fifth season at Virginia and has posted an 84-62 record (.575 winning percentage). Gillen won the 300th game of his career when Virginia defeated then 21st-ranked North Carolina 87-85 on January 18, 2000 at University Hall.

Gillen has led his teams to postseason play 14 times in 17 seasons (nine NCAA, five NIT), including the last three seasons at Virginia. He has been selected as the conference Coach of the Year five times – all while coaching Xavier (Midwestern Collegiate Conference).

Defeating The National Champion

For the second consecutive year, the Cavaliers have defeated the defending national champion. In 2001, Duke won the national title and UVa beat the Blue Devils the following season (87-84 – Feb. 28, 2002) at home. This year, Virginia defeated 2002 NCAA champion Maryland (86-78 – Feb. 6) in College Park, Md.

Six Consecutive Losses

Virginia has dropped its last six games, marking its longest losing streak since suffering eight consecutive losses in the 1997-98 season. The Cavaliers lost eight straight games (all ACC matchups) from January 20 (vs. #25 Clemson) through February 18 (vs. N.C. State). Four of those losses were to top 25 teams.

2002-2003 UVa ACC Players of the Week

Jan. 6 – Travis Watson

Jan. 13 – Todd Billet

Feb. 10 – Travis Watson

Senior forward/center Travis Watson was tabbed the ACC Player of the Week on February 10 after recording double-doubles in UVa's wins over eighth-ranked Maryland (86-78 – Feb. 6) and N.C. State (61-58 – Feb. 9).

Watson, who earned the award for the second time this season, scored 30 points, grabbed 24 rebounds and had eight steals in the two games. He shot 50 percent (13-for-26) from the field and had six assists and one blocked shot. In UVa's win at Maryland, Watson scored 15 points and had 10 rebounds. Against N.C. State, Watson tallied 15 points and 14 rebounds.

Back-to-Back Home Losses

The Cavaliers have lost their last two home games (78-59 vs. Duke – Feb. 15 and 73-64 vs. Clemson – Feb. 18) and it stopped a streak of 74 games at University Hall since UVa has dropped back-to-back home games. The streak dated back to the 1997-98 season. The previous time Virginia was defeated in consecutive home games was during the 1997-98 season when the Cavaliers lost consecutive home games to Florida State (Feb. 4), 71-63 and North Carolina (Feb. 11), 60-45. UVa also lost to Duke (Jan. 24), 72-65 which was the first of three consecutive home losses.

He's Back

After missing 70 consecutive games spanning 1,032 days, junior guard Majestic Mapp made his long anticipated return to the Cavalier lineup against North Carolina (Jan. 11). Mapp entered the game to a standing ovation with 7:23 remaining in the first half and played just over two minutes.

Mapp had been sidelined after tearing the ACL in his right knee on August 2, 2000. He missed the entire 2000-01 and 2001-02 seasons. The last time Mapp had played for UVa was March 15, 2000 against Georgetown in the first round of the National Invitation Tournament.

Here's a look at Mapp's game-by-game statistics:

Cavalier Captains

Seniors Travis Watson and Jason Rogers, and junior Majestic Mapp are the captains of the 2002-03 Virginia basketball team.

Home Sweet Home

Like many ACC teams, the Cavaliers are enjoying great success playing in front of their home crowd despite their last two losses at University Hall. Ten of UVa's 14 victories this season have been at home. Prior to defeating Maryland (86-78 – Feb. 6), Virginia had lost its last five road games.

The Cavaliers are 10-2 at U-Hall this season and just 4-11 away from home, including 2-10 in away games.

Since the beginning of the 1999-2000 season, UVa is:
48-10 (82.8 percent) in all home games
22-8 (73.3 percent) in all home ACC games
15-30 (33.3 percent) in all away games
8-24 (25.0 percent) in all away ACC games
7-6 (53.8 percent) in all neutral site games

Watson Ties Offensive Rebound Record

Senior forward/center Travis Watson has tied the school record for career offensive rebounds with 362. Watson shares the record with Junior Burrough (1992-95). Note – offensive rebounds were not kept prior to the 1986-87 season.

A Rare ACC Road Win

Against Maryland (an 86-78 win – Feb. 6), the Cavaliers did what many ACC teams haven't been able to do this year – defeat a conference opponent on the road. Entering the UVa-Maryland game on February 6, home ACC teams had won 28 of 35 conference games and the top six teams in the league at the time (Wake Forest, Maryland, Duke, N.C. State, Virginia, and Georgia Tech) were undefeated at home – 22-0. Through games played March 2, the top four ACC teams are 27-2 in home ACC games this season.

Virginia had lost its first four ACC road contests this season and nine consecutive ACC road tilts dating back to 2001-2002.

A Top 10 Victory

In addition to earning its first ACC road win of the season and snapping a nine-game losing streak at Maryland, UVa picked up its first top-10 road victory in 10 years. With the Cavaliers' 86-78 victory over the eighth-ranked Terrapins (Feb. 6), UVa captured its first top-10 road win since defeating third-ranked Duke 77-69 on January 17, 1993 in Durham, N.C.

Scoring Slump

After scoring 85 points in back-to-back wins over Wake Forest and Florida State at the end of January, the Cavaliers have failed to reach their scoring average (73.5 ppg.) in eight of the last nine games. The only time in the last nine games UVa reached its scoring average was against Maryland (Feb. 6) in an 86-78 victory.

UVa is 2-7 in its last nine games and is averaging only 66.6 points per game. In the seven losses, Virginia is averaging 64.6 points per game.

Jenifer Suspended Indefinitely

Sophomore guard Keith Jenifer is suspended from the team indefinitely for conduct detrimental to the team. He will not practice or play in games during the suspension which began on February 3.

Jenifer started 14 games and played in the first 19 of the Cavaliers' games this season. He leads the team in assists (104) and is averaging 5.6 points and 3.5 rebounds a game.

In-State Winning Streak Snapped

The Cavaliers' had their 15-game winning streak against in-state opponents snapped with a 73-55 loss at Virginia Tech (Jan. 21). Even with the loss to Virginia Tech, UVa's record against in-state opponents in the last 26 seasons (since 1977-78) is 106-15 for an .876 winning percentage.

Among NCAA Leaders

Senior forward/center Travis Watson is ranked among the NCAA Division I leaders in rebounding for games played through February 24. Watson is 11th among all Division I players in rebounds with an average of 10.5 per game. He is currently averaging 10.3 rebounds per game (268 in 26 games).

4 • Virginia vs. Georgia Tech, March 5, 2003

No Steals

The Cavaliers did not have a steal against Ohio (Feb. 26). It is the first time UVa has not recorded a steal in a game since January 4, 1998 (vs. Wake Forest). It is the ninth known time Virginia has not recorded a steal in a game since the 1957-58 season.

No Bench Points

In UVa's 73-64 loss to Clemson (Feb. 18), the Cavaliers' five starters scored all 64 points. It marked the first game this season a Virginia player did not score a point off the bench. The previous low for points off the bench in a game this season was nine points in UVa's 61-57 win over Rutgers (Dec. 21). In Virginia's 75-71 loss at Wake Forest (Feb. 23), the Cavaliers only received nine points from players off the bench.

Against Wofford (Jan. 2), senior forward/center Travis Watson accomplished what no UVa player has been able to do in 20 years – register 20 or more points and rebounds in the same game. In the Cavaliers' 87-65 victory, Watson scored 21 points and pulled down a career-high 20 rebounds.

The last Virginia player to accomplish the feat was Ralph Sampson on Jan. 12, 1983 when he had 33 points and 21 rebounds against N.C. State.

Fewest Points

Virginia held N.C. State to 58 points in a 61-58 victory (Feb. 9), marking the fewest points scored by a UVa opponent in a conference game since the 1998-99 season. The Cavaliers held Wake Forest to 54 points in a 64-54 win at University Hall on February 3, 1999.

The 58 points ties for the second fewest points allowed in an ACC game during Pete Gillen's tenure at UVa. The Cavaliers also held Clemson to 58 points in a 65-58 win on January 17, 1999. That game was also played at U-Hall.

Five Score in Double Figures

The Cavaliers had five players score in double figures in their 85-72 win over Florida State (Jan. 29), marking the first time this season that happened. Senior forward/center Travis Watson led the way with 20 points, while freshman forward Derrick Byars had 15. Junior guard Todd Billet and sophomore forward Elton Brown both scored 14 points, and sophomore forward Jason Clark added 12.

UVa also had five players reach double figures in scoring in its 78-72 loss to Ohio (Feb. 26). Billet and junior center Nick Vander Laan both scored 15 points, while Watson had 11 points. Brown and sophomore guard/forward Devin Smith both registered 10 points.

The previous time prior to this season UVa had five players score in double figures in the same game was February 28, 2002 against Duke. Roger Mason, Jr. (22), Adam Hall (21), Chris Williams (14), Watson (12) and Keith Jenifer (10) all reached double figures in the scoring column.

The Cavaliers' 87-65 victory (Jan. 2) over Wofford marked their 200th victory over a non-conference opponent at University Hall since the building opened for the 1965-66 season. Virginia is 200-29 for an impressive .873 winning percentage all-time in University Hall against non-conference opponents.

Billet Scores 1,000th Career Point

Junior guard Todd Billet reached the 1,000 point milestone in UVa's 79-72 win over North Carolina (Jan. 11). Billet scored his 1,000th career point with a three-point field goal with 4:15 remaining in the first half. Billet tallied 24 points in the game against North Carolina. He has scored 1,224 points in his collegiate career. Billet scored 844 points in two seasons at Rutgers and has scored a team-high 380 points this season in a Virginia uniform.

Shooting 50 Percent From the Field

The Cavaliers have shot 50 percent or better in six games this season and are only 3-3 in those games (Virginia is 11-10 when it shoots below 50 percent). The three games UVa shot 50 percent and lost, it outshot its opponent (at Duke – 50.8 to 50.0, at Clemson – 59.2 to 55.4, and at Wake Forest – 52.0 to 48.1). ACC teams are 57-7 when shooting 50 percent or better in games this year.

Four Consecutive Double-Doubles

Senior forward/center Travis Watson had his streak of double-doubles in four consecutive games snapped against Duke (Jan. 15). His last double-double and 13th of the season came against Clemson (Feb. 18) as he had 14 points and 13 rebounds. He has reached double figures in double-doubles three consecutive seasons. See page 6 of the notes for a listing of Watson's double-doubles this season.

Watson has recorded four consecutive double-doubles three times in his career (he did it twice last season). The last Virginia player other than Watson to notch four consecutive double-doubles was in the 1997-98 season when Norman Nolan accomplished the feat. Nolan posted consecutive double-doubles against Clemson (Feb. 21) - 24 pts., 12 rebs., Maryland (Feb. 24) - 26 pts., 15 rebs., Florida State (Feb. 28) - 24 pts., 10 rebs., and Duke (Mar. 3) - 13 pts., 15 rebs.

Ralph Sampson is the last UVa player to have five consecutive double-doubles as he concluded his stellar career with five double-doubles in a row in the 1982-83 season. Sampson's career high for consecutive double-doubles is nine, but interestingly enough, that is not the school record. Norm Carmichael posted a school record 12 consecutive double-doubles in the 1967-68 season.

Watson has led UVa in rebounding in 20 of 27 games this season and is averaging ACC bests of 10.3 boards per game overall and 10.9 in ACC play. He is second on the team in scoring with an average of 13.2 points per game (14th in the ACC). Watson is shooting 50.6 percent (132-261) from the field (2nd in the ACC).

Free Throw Woes

The Cavaliers set a record for free throw futility in their loss to Virginia Tech (Jan. 21). UVa was just 1-6 (16.7 percent) from the free throw line marking their lowest known free throw percentage in a game since at least the 1963-64 season (and very possibly since the 1957-58 season). Virginia's previous known record for lowest free throw percentage in a game was 20.0 percent when it went 2-10 from the line against Kentucky Wesleyan on December 28, 1963.

The one made free throw vs. Virginia Tech ties for the fewest free throws made in a game. The Cavaliers also made only one free throw vs. Duke – 1-2 (Feb. 9, 1977); North Carolina – 1-1 (Mar. 7, 1982); and Wake Forest – 1-3 (Mar. 9, 1984).

UVa's six free throw attempts against the Hokies ties for the 14th fewest free throws attempted in a game. It is the fewest free throws Virginia has attempted in a game since attempting only three (two were made) against North Carolina on February 11, 1998 and six (five were made) against Georgia Tech on February 14, 1998.

Making Free Throws Down The Stretch

The Cavaliers have struggled from the free throw line this season, making just 66.3 percent (364-549) of their attempts from the charity stripe. However, UVa has been more reliable from the charity stripe in the final five minutes of games.

In the first half of games, Virginia is shooting 67.2 percent (133-198) from the line. UVa has made 65.8 percent (231-351) of its attempts in the second half of games. In the final five minutes of games, the Cavaliers have made 126 of 183 attempts for 68.9 percent. (UVa is only 105-168 for 62.5 percent in the first 15 minutes of the second half.) In its last 23 games, UVa has made 115 of 161 attempts from the foul line in the final five minutes of games for 71.4 percent.

Field Goal Percentage Defense

After allowing its last seven opponent's of the 2001-2002 season to shoot 50 percent or better from the field (and nine overall), the Cavaliers have allowed only five teams to shoot 50 percent or better from the field this season.

Last year, UVa opponents shot 44.2 percent from the field compared to 43.0 percent in 2002-2003. In ACC contests last season, Virginia's opponents shot 48.0 percent from the floor, versus 45.3 percent this season.

Billet Unkind to Former Team

He was booed all game long, but it didn't faze junior guard Todd Billet, who was making his return to Louis Brown Athletic Center and Rutgers on December 21. Billet, who played for Rutgers for two seasons before transferring to Virginia, scored a game-high 22 points in leading his new team to a 61-57 victory over the Scarlet Knights. Among his 22 points were a pair of free throws with 14 seconds remaining that broke a 57-57 tie and gave the Cavaliers the lead for good.

In two seasons at Rutgers, Billet averaged 14.6 points per game, including 16.6 per game in 2000-01. He also established a school record for three-pointers in a season with 82 in 2000-01.

Billet leads the team in scoring this season with 14.1 points per game (12th in the ACC). He is averaging a team-high 16.1 points per game in ACC play (6th in the ACC). Billet tops the Cavaliers in three-point field goals (78) and is fourth among all ACC players in free throw shooting (74-86 for 86.0 percent).

Eight Consecutive Double Figure Rebounding Games

Senior Travis Watson had his streak of eight consecutive double figure rebounding games snapped in UVa's loss to Wake Forest (Feb. 23). Dating back to the 1966-67 season, Watson's streak tied for the third longest by a UVa player. Here's a list of consecutive double figure rebounding games by a UVa player since 1966-67.

1. Norm Carmichael	1967-68	12 games
2. Ralph Sampson	1982-83	9 games
3. Travis Watson	2002-03	8 games
John Gidding	1968-69	8 games

Watson 18th All-Time Among ACC Players in Rebounding

Senior forward/center Travis Watson is tied for 18th all-time among ACC players in career rebounds. Watson has 1,062 rebounds and is tied with North Carolina's Billy Cunningham (1963-65) for 18th place. Watson needs five rebounds to move past N.C. State's Tom Burleson (1972-74) into 17th place and six to overtake Duke's Randy Denton (1969-71) for 16th. Georgia Tech's Alvin Jones (1998-01) is 15th with 1,075 career rebounds.

More Double-Doubles

Senior forward/center Travis Watson has picked up where he left off last season as he has recorded 13 double-doubles this season. With the 13 double-doubles, Watson leads all ACC players in that category. Watson has 51 in his career which trails only Ralph Sampson's school record 84 career double-doubles.

Here's a list of Watson's double-doubles in 2002-03:

- Travis Watson – 26 pts., 13 rebs. vs. Long Island (Nov. 22)
- Travis Watson – 16 pts., 14 rebs. vs. Chaminade (Nov. 25)

Watson's 51 career double-doubles are the most of any active ACC player. Watson, who recorded an ACC-best 17 double-doubles last year, also had double-doubles in both of UVa's 2002-2003 exhibition games.

Duke Ties a Record

In UVa's game against Duke (Jan. 15), the Blue Devils made 37 of 40 free throws (92.5 percent) with the 37 made free throws tying the school record for most free throws made in a game by a Virginia opponent. St. Joseph's (Pa.) made 37 free throws (43 attempts) against UVa on February 21, 1958.

Raining Threes

UVa set a season-high by making 12 three-point field goals in its 86-78 win over Maryland (Feb. 6). The 12 made threes ties for the 10th-highest single game total in school history.

The Cavaliers made 11 threes in four games this season before draining 12 against the Terrapins. Virginia has made 201 three-pointers this season and is averaging 7.44 per game (3rd in the ACC). The Cavaliers are shooting 36.9 percent (201-545) from three-point land overall and 37.6 percent (109-290) in ACC contests.

UVa's 36.9 (.36881) three-point field goal percentage is currently the second highest single season mark since the three-point field goal was instituted in the 1986-87 season (UVa shot 46.8 percent – 58-124 – in the 1982-83 season when the three-point field goal was used as an experimental rule). In 2000-2001, Virginia made a school record 36.9 (.36890) percent (204-553) of its three-point attempts.

The Cavaliers' 201 made three-point field goals are the sixth highest total in school history. The 1994-95 UVa team holds the school record with 232 made three-pointers.

Harper Reinstated

Sophomore guard Jermaine Harper was reinstated to the team December 12 after being suspended for a violation of team rules. Harper missed the Cavaliers' first five games of the season. He did not practice during the suspension.

In the 22 games Harper has played he is averaging 4.0 points and 1.5 rebounds per game. He is averaging 13.3 minutes of playing time per game. Harper made his first start of the 2002-03 season against Duke (Feb. 15) and tallied eight points and two rebounds in 25 minutes.

In UVa's win at Maryland (Feb. 6), Harper made two critical three-pointers late in the second half to help propel the Cavaliers to the victory. He also made a key three-pointer with UVa trailing by four with just over five minutes remaining in Virginia's 61-58 win over N.C. State (Feb. 9).

Smith Scores 30

Sophomore guard/forward Devin Smith scored a UVa career-high 30 points against Clemson (Feb. 18). He made 10-18 field goal attempts, including a career-best six three-pointers. Smith also had seven rebounds in 37 minutes of playing time.

Smith's previous Virginia career-best was 24 points versus Michigan State (Dec. 4). He is third on the team in scoring at 10.9 points per game. Smith is also averaging 10.8 points per game in ACC play.

Vander Laan Joins Growing List

Junior center Nick Vander Laan set a UVa career-high in scoring with 17 points in Virginia's 72-65 win over Gardner-Webb (Dec. 19). His previous UVa best was 10 points against then 19th-ranked Indiana (Nov. 27). Vander Laan's overall career-high is 23 points against Oklahoma in the 1999-2000 season while playing for Cal-Berkeley.

Vander Laan set a UVa career-best in rebounds with 11 vs. Rutgers (Dec. 21). His previous season-high was eight rebounds on two occasions. Vander Laan's overall career best rebounding game is 13 against Washington during the 1999-2000 season while playing for Cal-Berkeley.

He blocked three shots in UVa's win over N.C. State (Feb. 9) to set a career-high in that category.

He holds Virginia's single-game scoring record with 51 points against Baldwin-Wallace on December 11, 1971. Parkhill was a first-round draft selection by both the Virginia Squires (ABA) and Portland Trail Blazers (NBA) after his collegiate career.

Sampson lettered four times for Virginia from 1980-83, and was a three-time National and ACC Player of the Year. He was a four-time first-team All-America selection and a three-time first-team All-ACC selection. Sampson received three consecutive Rupp trophies, two consecutive Eastman Awards and two John R. Wooden Awards. He was the ACC Rookie of the Year in 1980. Sampson helped lead the Cavaliers to the 1980 NIT Championship and the 1981 NCAA Final Four. He was named the Most Valuable Player of the 1980 NIT. Sampson holds Virginia career records for rebounds (1,511), field goals made (899) and blocked shots (462). He led the ACC in rebounding three times and ranks fourth on UVa's career scoring list with 2,228 points. Sampson was selected by the Houston Rockets as the NBA's number one draft choice in 1983 and went on to earn NBA Rookie of the Year honors.

Byars Joins Career High Club

Freshman forward Derrick Byars became another in a long line of Cavaliers to set a career high in scoring. Byars registered career-highs in back-to-back games. Byars scored 16 points, including 14 in the second half, in UVa's 84-76 win over East Tennessee State (Dec. 17). His career-high is 37 points against James Madison during the 2000-2001 season while playing at Rutgers University. He is averaging 14.1 points per game this season (first on the team). Billet set a Virginia career-best with eight assists against Maryland (Feb. 6). His overall career high is 11 vs. Pittsburgh (Feb. 11, 2001) while playing for Rutgers.

New Career High for Clark

Sophomore forward Jason Clark scored 12 points – all in the second half – in the Cavaliers' 90-86 win over Long Island (Nov. 22) to establish a new career high. Clark equaled his career high with 12 points against Rutgers (Dec. 21) in his first start of the season. He also scored 12 points versus Florida State (Jan. 29). Clark also blocked a season-high five shots and grabbed a season-best eight rebounds vs. Rutgers. Clark's former career-best was 11 points against Duke (Jan. 27, 2002).

Clark also set a career-high with three assists against N.C. State (Feb. 9).

Brown Nets New Career High for Points

Sophomore forward Elton Brown established a new career high for points in a game when he scored 22 in UVa's 86-72 victory over Chaminade (Nov. 25). Brown, who surpassed his old career best of 20 points against Georgia Tech (Jan. 22, 2002), made eight of 13 shots from the floor and five of seven attempts from the charity stripe.

Making the Most of His Opportunities

Sophomore forward Jason Clark has only taken 74 shots this season, but he's made 53 baskets for an impressive .716 field goal percentage. He is shooting 71.8 percent (28-39) in ACC games this season. Clark has shot 50 percent or better in every game excluding the four games (Indiana – Nov. 27, East Tennessee State – Dec. 17, Wofford – Jan. 2, and North Carolina – Feb. 12) he did not attempt a field goal. Clark has been perfect from the field 10 times this season. He is shooting 65.0 percent (93-143) from the field in his career. In ACC contests during his career, Clark is 55-76 for an amazing 72.4 percent.

Billet Heating Up

In his last 15 games, junior guard Todd Billet has scored 237 points for an average of 15.8 points per game (and 216 points – 16.6 points per game in his last 13 ACC games).

Billet has started at point guard the last 11 games and averaged 4.2 assists per game. He had a UVa career-high eight assists against Maryland (Feb. 6) and dished out seven assists with no turnovers against N.C. State (Feb. 9).

Billet is averaging 14.1 points per game overall (12th in the ACC) and 16.1 points per ACC contest (6th in the ACC). On the season, Billet has made 78 three-point field goals overall (2.89 per game – 3rd in the ACC) and is averaging a league-best 3.36 three-pointers per game in conference tilts. Billet is shooting 40.2 percent from behind the arc (7th in the ACC). In ACC play, he has made 47 of 106 three-point attempts (44.3 percent – 3rd in the ACC).

Billet made seven three-pointers against Clemson (Jan. 18) which ties for the sixth highest single game total in school history.

Watson Sets Single Season Career Highs

Senior forward/center Travis Watson has set single season career highs in two categories this season – but interestingly enough – not in rebounds, points or blocked shots, but in assists and steals. Watson has handed out 58 assists to easily surpass his former best of 31 assists last season. He has come up with 36 steals (including 15 in his last nine games) this season. Watson's previous season high for steals was 32 last year.

With 268 rebounds this season, Watson is just four rebounds shy of tying his career high of 272 last year.

Brown Finds His Touch

In his last 15 games, sophomore forward Elton Brown has made 65 of 120 field goal attempts for 54.2 percent. In his last 12 ACC games, Brown has made 54 of 96 attempts from the floor (56.3 percent).

Brown is averaging 9.9 points per game overall and 10.9 points per game in ACC play. In ACC games, he is shooting 53.4 percent (62-116) from the field and 50.0 percent (108-216) overall.

Transfers Making Big Impact

Virginia's three transfers – junior guard Todd Billet (Rutgers), junior center Nick Vander Laan (California-Berkeley), and sophomore guard/forward Devin Smith (Coffeyville Community College) – have made a big impact on the team in 2002-03. The trio have combined to start 56 times and average 30.5 points and 10.8 rebounds per game. Billet and Smith have made 128 of UVA's 201 three-point field goals (63.7 percent) this season as well. Billet also leads UVA in free throw percentage (.860 – 74-86) and Smith is second (.787 – 37-47).

Billet and Vander Laan are eligible to play for the Cavaliers during the 2002-03 season after transferring to Virginia prior to the 2001-02 academic year.

Billet, a 6-0 guard from Middletown, N.J., started all 58 games and averaged 14.6 points per game in his two seasons at Rutgers. He is a three-point specialist who established the Rutgers' school record for three-pointers in a season with 82 and tied the school's single-game record when he made eight three-pointers against Lafayette during the 2000-01 season.

Vander Laan, a 6-10 center from Sacramento, Calif., averaged 7.5 points and 6.1 rebounds a game in two seasons at California-Berkeley. He was voted honorable mention Pac-10 All-Freshman following the 1999-2000 season.

The 6-5 Smith averaged 19.4 points and 6.6 rebounds per game while earning first-team Junior College All-America honors as a freshman at Coffeyville Community College in 2001-02.

Bench Scoring – 48, 47, 46, 43

Virginia's reserves have played a major role in several of the Cavaliers' wins this season. Reserves have combined to score 46 or more points in three victories this season. UVa's bench was also a key factor in UVa's 86-78 victory over Maryland (Feb. 6).

Four Cavaliers off the bench combined to score 48 of UVa's 72 points in a 72-65 victory over Gardner-Webb (Dec. 19). The 48 points are the most this season scored by players off UVa's bench. Freshman forward Derrick Byars and junior center Nick Vander Laan scored 20 and 17 points, respectively.

The previous 2002-2003 high was 47 points in an 86-72 win over Chaminade (Nov. 25). Sophomore forward Elton Brown led the way with 22 points, while sophomore guard/forward Devin Smith added 16 points.

UVa's bench came through again in a 79-75 victory over Georgetown (Dec. 28) as the four players who came off the bench combined to score 46 points. Senior forward/center Travis Watson led the way with 16 points, while Brown tallied 14 points.

Four players came off the bench to scored 43 points – half the team's total – in an 86-78 victory at Maryland (Feb. 6). Smith led all UVa scorers with 17 points, while junior guard Majestic Mapp added 11 points.

Rod Jensen Joins Coaching Staff

Watson Named Candidate for CLASS Award

Senior All-America candidate Travis Watson was one of 36 candidates for the second annual Senior CLASS Award as announced by the award's organizing committee. He is not one of the 10 finalists. The Senior CLASS Award – an acronym for Celebrating Loyalty and Achievement for Staying in School – is presented annually to the nation's senior player-of-the-year for NCAA Division I men's and women's basketball. The award was developed in response to the recent trend of college basketball players leaving college early to turn professional.

Selection criteria is based on a number of factors, the most important being that the recipient must have exhausted his four years of eligibility and have fulfilled his commitment to his respective university. In addition, the recipient must be working toward his degree, be in good academic standing and be of sound moral character.

The ten finalists will be on the official ballot during the national voting process in March. The winners will be announced during the respective NCAA Final Four events.

Virginia Falls to Florida State

Virginia took a 37-34 halftime lead, but Florida State outscored UVa 22-4 in the first 11 minutes of the second half and went on to a 73-59 victory (Mar. 1) in Tallahassee, Fla.

Junior guard Todd Billet scored 17 of his team-high 19 points in the first half. Sophomore forward Jason Clark was the only other Cavalier to reach double figures in scoring with 11 points. He also grabbed seven rebounds and recorded two steals. Senior forward/center Travis Watson pulled down nine rebounds.

The Cavaliers opened up an eight-point lead (21-13) on a three-pointer by Billet with 12:17 left in the first half. Florida State came back to take the lead, 30-27, on a three-point field goal by Tim Pickett at the 6:13 mark. Billet's fifth three-pointer of the half gave the Cavaliers a 33-32 lead and UVa took a 37-34 advantage at halftime.

The Seminoles opened the second half with a 9-0 run over the first five minutes to take a 43-37 edge. Florida State increased its lead to 15 points (56-41) with 8:54 remaining in the game.

UVa Wins Two Exhibition Games

The Cavaliers won both of their 2002-2003 exhibition games. Virginia posted an 84-60 victory over Big Apple Basketball (Nov. 10) and a 73-57 exhibition win over One World All-Stars (Nov. 17) at University Hall.

Against Big Apple Basketball, the Cavaliers' starting front court of senior forward/center Travis Watson, junior center Nick Vander Laan and sophomore forward Elton Brown combined for 69 points and 47 rebounds.

He also contributed five rebounds and three assists. Watson, Brown, Vander Laan and Billet combined to score 82 of UVa's 84 points.

The Cavaliers used just eight players in the game as sophomores Jason Clark, Jermaine Harper and Keith Jenifer were serving a one-game suspension for a violation of team rules. Junior Majestic Mapp, sophomore Devin Smith and freshman Derrick Byars missed the game with injuries.

UVa took the lead for good midway through the second half when sophomore forward Elton Brown converted a layup off an offensive rebound to give the Cavaliers a 51-50 lead.

Cavaliers Ink Two

University of Virginia men's head basketball coach Pete Gillen has announced the signing of two individuals to national letters of intent with Virginia. The two individuals are 6-6 Gary Forbes of Brooklyn, N.Y., and 6-3 J. R. Reynolds of Roanoke, Va.

Forbes, a guard, averaged 25 points, 11 rebounds and five assists a game as a junior during the 2001-02 season at Benjamin Banneker Academy.

Reynolds, a combination guard, started for four seasons at Roanoke Catholic High School before transferring to Oak Hill Academy for his senior year. He scored 2,237 points, made 217 three-point field goals and had 570 assists during his career at Roanoke Catholic. He was named the Most Valuable Player in the Virginia Independent Schools Division II three times.

"We are thrilled to officially have these two young men join our Virginia basketball family," Gillen said. "They are both very talented guards who can play a couple of positions. I sincerely feel they will be impact players on our team next season."

Watson Looks Toward Senior Year

Senior forward/center Travis Watson has been named to the Wooden Award Preseason All-American Basketball Team and is also a preseason Naismith Award candidate. Watson is a third-team preseason All-America selection by Street & Smith's and is rated sixth nationally at center in Lindy's preseason basketball magazine. Watson added to his already impressive career at UVa by being named to the All-ACC second team after the 2001-02 season. He led the ACC in four statistical categories last season: double-doubles (17), rebounds (9.7 rpg), offensive rebounds (3.43 pg), and defensive rebounds (6.29 pg).

At the ACC's annual Operation Basketball, Watson was selected to the conference's 2002-03 Pre-Season First Team.

He received 85 votes, the most of any player. Watson was also second to Duke's Chris Duhon in the Pre-Season ACC Player of the Year voting.

Twelve Games against Tournament Teams

Of Virginia's 29 regular-season games before the 2003 ACC Tournament, 12 are against eight teams that participated in either the 2002 NCAA Tournament or the National Invitation Tournament (NIT). Two of the games are against national champion Maryland. The Cavaliers also meet league foes Duke, N.C. State and Wake Forest twice. Those teams all participated in last season's NCAA Tournament. In addition to those games, Virginia has played Michigan State, an NCAA participant and Rutgers, which earned an NIT bid.

At the Maui Invitational (November 25-27), UVa played Kentucky (NCAA) and Indiana (NCAA runners-up).

UVa is 5-6 in 2002-2003 against teams that competed in postseason play last season.
