OFFICIALS

THE GAME

Virginia enters tonight's non-conference game with a 12-9 overall record and a 6-5 mark in the ACC. The Cavaliers are coming off an 81-77 overtime win over Virginia Tech (Feb. 11) at University Hall.

Longwood stands at 7-18 on the season. The Lancers have won four of their last six games and are coming off a 75-66 loss to Liberty (Feb. 13) in Lynchburg, Va.

The Series vs. Longwood

Tonight's game is the first meeting between Virginia and Longwood University in men's basketball. The Lancers are in their fourth of a five-year NCAA Division I reclassification process. Longwood began the transition from Division II to Division I in the 2002-03 season with what the NCAA calls a one-year "exploratory period". The Lancers first year of Division I status will be 2007-08.

400 Wins

Virginia's overtime victory over Virginia Tech (Feb. 11) marked UVa's 400th win all-time at University Hall. In 41 seasons (including 2005-06), the Cavaliers are 400-142 (.738 winning percentage) all-time at U-Hall.

After calling University Hall home since the 1965-66 season, the Cavaliers will move across the street to their new facility, the John Paul Jones Arena, for the 2006-07 season.

Non-Conference Wins at University Hall

Virginia is 221-31 for an impressive .877 winning percentage all-time in University Hall against non-conference opponents. The Cavaliers' 87-65 victory on Jan. 2, 2003 over Wofford marked their 200th win over a non-conference opponent at University Hall since the building opened for the 1965-66 season.

The Cavaliers have won 103 of their last 115 home games (.896 winning percentage) against non-conference opponents dating back to the 1989-90 season.

Virginia had its 11-game non-conference home winning streak stopped with a 62-60 loss to Fordham (Dec. 7) this season. UVa began another non-conference home winning streak at University Hall with a 98-59 win over Loyola (Md.) (Dec. 23) and also beat Hartford 71-62 (Dec. 31).

UVa had a 34-game home non-conference regular season winning streak snapped with an 84-69 loss to Providence College on Jan. 3, 2004. Virginia's previous regular season home loss to a non-conference opponent was Dec. 12, 1998 when the Cavaliers fell to 12th-ranked St. John's 95-68.

UVa had its 15-game home winning streak against non-conference opponents snapped with a 74-67 loss to South Carolina in the first round of the 2002 National Invitation Tournament (Mar. 13). Virginia's previous home non-conference loss was also in the NIT as the Cavaliers fell to Georgetown 115-111 in triple overtime in the first round of the 2000 NIT (Mar. 15).

Tonight's game against Longwood marks the final non-conference regular season game for the Cavaliers in University Hall.

Head Coach Dave Leitao

Dave Leitao was named the 10th head men's basketball coach at Virginia on April 16, 2005. Leitao was the head coach at DePaul University the last three seasons (2002-03, 2003-04, 2004-05). His DePaul teams competed in a postseason tournament each season. The Blue Demons participated in the NCAA Tournament in 2004 and in the National Invitation Tournament in 2003 and 2005. Leitao also spent two seasons as the head coach at his alma mater, Northeastern University (1994-95 and 1995-96).

School	Record	Years
Northeastern	22-35	'95, '96
DePaul	58-34	'03, '04, '05
Virginia	12-9	'06
6 Seasons	92-78

In six seasons as a head coach he sports a 92-78 record.

This is Leitao's first meeting against Longwood as a head coach.

Leitao has coached in 25 games against AP ranked teams and is 6-19. Against top 10 AP teams, Leitao is 0-8. He was 0-4 against ranked teams in two seasons at Northeastern, 5-11 vs. ranked opponents in three years at DePaul, and 1-4 against ranked foes at UVa.

In six season-openers, Leitao is 4-2. In addition to this year's season-opening win, Leitao won all three season openers while at DePaul and lost both openers at Northeastern. Here's a look at the results of Leitao's six season-openers:

1994-95	Northeastern lost at Duke 93-70
1995-96	Northeastern lost at Marist 73-55
2002-03	DePaul won at Northern Illinois 63-48

Leitao also earned a win in his second game at Virginia and joined four of the previous nine head basketball coaches at UVa to start out their stay at Virginia with consecutive wins. Jeff Jones (1990-91), Terry Holland (1974-75) and Gus Tebell (1930-31) each started out 2-0, while Henry Lannigan (1905-06) is the only Virginia coach to win more than his first two games. UVA won all four games against in-state opponents in the 2003-04 season. The Cavaliers defeated Virginia Tech 80-65 (Nov. 28), VMI 78-56 (Dec. 5), James Madison 90-80 (Dec. 16), and William & Mary 84-71 (Jan. 5) in 2003-04.

Virginia had its 15-game in-state winning streak snapped with a 73-55 loss at Virginia Tech (Jan. 21) in the 2002-03 season. Virginia also posted a 77-58 victory over Liberty (Dec. 30) in 2002-03. Prior to losing to the Hokies during the 2002-03 season, UVA's most recent in-state loss was a 69-64 setback to Liberty (Jan. 7) in U-Hall in the 1997-98 season.

In 2001-02, Virginia registered home victories against Virginia Tech (69-61 – Dec. 1) and VMI (93-59 – Jan. 24).

In the 2000-01 season, the Cavaliers won both of their contests against in-state opponents. UVA defeated Virginia Tech 64-48 (Nov. 24) in Blacksburg and VMI 89-70 (Dec. 4) in Lexington.

In 1999-00, Virginia was 4-0 against in-state opponents with the four victories coming against VMI 98-57 (Nov. 21) at University Hall, Hampton 102-56 (Dec. 10) at the Hampton Convocation Center, Richmond 69-65 (Dec. 21) at the Robins Center, and Virginia Tech 71-66 in overtime (Jan. 24) at the Richmond Coliseum.

In 1998-99, the Cavaliers' were 5-0 against in-state opponents defeating Hampton, Liberty, Virginia Commonwealth, VMI and Virginia Tech. In the 1997-98 season, the Cavaliers were 5-2 against in-state foes. The two losses were the most against state teams since the 1987-88 season when UVA was 1-3 vs.

state teams.

Dave Leitao has been the head coach in five games against a team from the Commonwealth and is 5-0. In addition to the four wins this season (Liberty, Richmond and Virginia Tech twice), Leitao coached DePaul to a 73-60 victory over Old Dominion on Jan. 2, 2005.

Six ACC Wins

After just nine ACC games this season, Virginia surpassed its conference win total of four from 2004-05. UVA was 4-2 after six games this season, marking the first time since the 2001-02 season it was two games over .500 in conference play (also 4-2).

The Cavaliers are currently 6-5 in the ACC and the six wins equal the team's conference win totals from the 2002-03 and 2003-04 seasons.

The last time Virginia recorded seven conference wins was in 2001-02 when the team went 7-9 in conference action.

U-Hall is Kind to Cavaliers

UVA is 9-2 at home this season, including 5-1 in the ACC, but only 2-7 in away games (1-4 in the ACC). Virginia has won its last four home games and lost its last three away games.

Cavalier Captains

Junior J.R. Reynolds and sophomore Sean Singletary are co-captains of the 2005-06 Virginia basketball team. Singletary is the first sophomore since Donald Hand in the 1998-99 season to be a team captain.

Defeating the Defending National Champion

UVA's 72-68 win over 2005 NCAA champion North Carolina (Jan. 19) marked the fourth consecutive win for Virginia over a reigning national champion.

In the 2002-03 season, the Cavaliers posted a pair of wins over Maryland (the 2002 NCAA champion) – 86-78 at Maryland (Feb. 6) and 80-78 in OT at home (Mar. 9). UVA began its current streak with an 87-84 home win over Duke (the 2001 NCAA champion) on Feb. 28, 2002.

Virginia is 8-13 all-time against the reigning national champions in 11 different seasons. In addition to four straight wins, UVA has won six of the last nine matchups.

UVA is 1-6 all-time vs. North Carolina in the year following Tar Heel national titles (0-2 in 1958, 0-2 in 1983, 0-2 in 1994, and 1-0 in 2006). In addition to UNC, Virginia is 2-0 vs. Maryland, 3-3 vs. Duke, 2-3 vs. NC State, and 0-1 vs. Cincinnati.

Back to ACC Play

The Cavaliers opened ACC play on Dec. 4 (a 63-54 loss at Georgia Tech) and played their second conference game on Jan. 7 against Clemson (a 64-58 win). The 33 days between ACC games (Georgia Tech and Clemson) is the longest stretch ever between ACC contests for Virginia. The previous longest length of time between ACC games for UVA was 31 days in the 1979-80 season – Dec. 1 (vs. Georgia Tech) to Jan. 2 (vs. Wake Forest).

Virginia also played six non-conference games between league matchups. The six games ties for the second most all-time between ACC contests (1997-98, 1996-97, 1981-82, and 1967-68). In 1979-80, the Cavaliers played eight non-conference contests between their first two ACC games.

No Steals

UVA committed only eight turnovers in its 71-51 win over Miami (Jan. 24) and the Hurricanes did not have a steal in the game. It marks the 10th time a Virginia opponent did not have a steal in a game and the first time since Feb. 26, 2003 when Ohio did not record a steal.

Cavaliers Notch Overtime Win Over Virginia Tech

J.R. Reynolds registered his first career double-double with 19 points and 12 assists, and Sean Singletary tallied 23 points to lead Virginia to an 81-77 overtime win over Virginia Tech (Feb. 11) at University Hall.

Reynolds doubled his previous career high for assists with 12 while playing a career-best 41 minutes. He recorded 12 of UVa's 14 assists in the contest. Singletary pulled down six rebounds to go along with his team-high 23 points. Adrian Joseph and Jason Cain also reached double digits with 15 and 10 points, respectively, while Cain led all players with eight rebounds.

The Cavaliers led by as many as 15 points, 36-21, with 2:55 left in the first half, but Virginia Tech used an 11-3 run to trim Virginia's lead to 39-32 at the intermission.

Virginia opened the second stanza with a 5-0 spurt to take a 44-32 lead a minute into the half. The Hokies responded with a 20-6 run to take a 52-50 edge with 11:41 to play. It marked Virginia Tech's first lead since early in the first half. The lead changed hands nine times in the final 11 minutes. A three-point-er by Singletary with 53 seconds left gave UVa a 69-67 lead, but Tech's Jamon Gordon made two free throws with 36 seconds to play to knot the game at 69-69. A driving layup by Reynolds at the end of regulation missed.

In the overtime, a Joseph three-point-er gave UVa a quick lead, but Virginia Tech scored the next six points to take a 75-72 advantage with 2:31 left. The Cavaliers responded with an 8-0 run to take an 80-75 lead with 12 seconds left. Reynolds, Singletary and Joseph each made a pair of free throws and Laurynas Mikalauskas also made a layup during the run that sealed the victory.

UVa shot 45.8 percent (27-59) from the floor and made 19-23 free throws for 82.6 percent accuracy. Tech shot 44.9 percent (31-69) from the field and was 9-11 (81.8 percent) from the free throw line. Both teams had 36 rebounds and Virginia had 12 turnovers, while the Hokies committed 11.

Gordon led Virginia Tech with 24 points and seven rebounds, while A.D. Vassallo added 19 points and seven assists.

20 Point Win

UVa's 20-point win over Miami (Jan. 24) is its largest margin of victory in an ACC contest since the end of the 2000-01 season. The Cavaliers closed their home ACC season in 2001 with a 19-point victory (84-65) over Clemson (Feb. 28). In the previous game, UVa registered a 20-point win (86-66) over then second-ranked North Carolina (Feb. 25) at home.

54.0 Percent Shooting

Virginia shot a season-high 54.0 percent (27-50) from the field against Miami (Jan. 24). It marked the first time this season UVa has shot over 50 percent in a game (the Cavaliers shot exactly 50 percent against Hartford – 25-50 on Dec. 31).

The last time Virginia eclipsed the 50 percent field goal mark was last season against Virginia Tech (Jan. 27) when it shot 50.9 percent (27-53).

Three-Point Field Goal Leaders

J.R. Reynolds has made 138 three-point field goals in his career and ranks eighth on UVa's all-time three-point field goals list. Reynolds needs four three-point field goals to tie Cory Alexander (1992-95) for seventh place with 142. Donald Hand (1998-01) and Todd Billett (2003-04) are tied for fifth with 156 career threes.

Thief

Sean Singletary is fifth in the ACC in steals with 1.90 per game. Singletary has 38 steals in 20 games this season. He has three or more steals in five games this season.

Swat

Sophomore Tunji Soroye has blocked a career-best 28 shots this season for an average of 1.33 per game. Soroye is currently ninth in the ACC in blocked shots per game. He has blocked two or more shots in nine games, including a season-high four blocks vs. Clemson (Jan. 7).

Singletary Goes for 35

Sean Singletary scored a career-high 35 points in UVa's 80-69 loss at Gonzaga (Dec. 17). The 35 points set a McCarthy Athletic Center record for the most points scored by a Gonzaga opponent. Singletary, who missed UVa's previous game against Fordham (Dec. 7) with a hip injury, made 11-20 attempts from the field (4-9 three-pointers) and 9-14 free throws. He also had a career-high tying six steals, six rebounds and four assists in 39 minutes.

Singletary's 35 points are the most scored in a game by a UVa player since J.R. Reynolds tallied 32 points vs. Miami (Mar. 10) in last year's ACC tournament. The last time a UVa player scored more than 35 points in a game was last season when Devin Smith tallied 40 points against Iowa State (Dec. 6).

Singletary scored just over half of Virginia's points in the game against Gonzaga. The last time one player scored more than half of UVa's points in a game was when Smith scored his 40 points against Iowa State last season (UVa had 79 as a team).

Ruling the Offensive Glass

Jason Cain registered an amazing 16 offensive rebounds in two games (7 vs. Georgia Tech – Dec. 4 and 9 vs. Fordham – Dec. 7). The 16 offensive rebounds ties Bryant Stith for the most offensive rebounds in back-to-back games in school history. Stith had 16 offensive boards (eight each) against Wake Forest (Mar. 1, 1989) and Maryland (Mar. 5, 1989).

Furthermore, Cain's nine offensive rebounds vs. the Rams was just one shy of the single game school mark which is shared by three players (Stith, Matt Blundin, and Travis Watson). Only one other player – Junior Burrough – has had nine offensive boards in a game (against Old Dominion on Dec. 11, 1993).

On the season, Cain has 73 offensive rebounds for an average of 3.48 per game (second in the ACC) and 42.2 percent (73 of 173) of his rebounds are of the offensive variety.

Really Raising Cain

Jason Cain recorded back-to-back double-doubles three times this season. He has six double-doubles this season (tied for fourth in the ACC) and has led Virginia in rebounding in 14 of the last 18 games.

Cain had his first career double-double in UVa's 63-54 loss to Georgia Tech (Dec. 4). The junior forward tallied then career highs of 15 points and 11 rebounds. Against Fordham (Dec. 7), Cain posted career bests with 16 points and 15 rebounds. Against Loyola (Dec. 23), he recorded 15 points and 16 rebounds with the 16 boards setting yet another career high. Against UMBC (Dec. 28), Cain tied his career high with 16 points and added 12 rebounds for his fourth double-double of the season. His fifth double-double came against Wake Forest (Feb. 4) when he tallied 13 points and 10 rebounds. For the third time this season, Cain notched back-to-back double-doubles with an 11-point, 13-rebound performance against Maryland (Feb. 7).

His former career highs of 13 points and nine rebounds came in different games against NC State last season.

Cain also blocked a career-best five shots vs. North Carolina (Jan. 19) and now has a career-high 20 blocked shots this season. His former career high for blocked shots was three vs. UMBC (Dec. 28) earlier this season.

Cain had his streak of three consecutive double digit rebounding performances (10 vs. NC State and Wake Forest, and 13 vs. Maryland) snapped against Virginia Tech when he only had eight rebounds. Over the last four games he is averaging 10.3 rebounds per game. Cain leads UVa with 173 rebounds (8.2 per game – fifth in the ACC), including 73 offensive rebounds (3.48 per game). He is fourth on the team in scoring with 8.7 points per game.

Increase in Assists

Sean Singletary averaged only 3.17 assists (19 assists) in his first six games this season. In nine of the last 14 games, Singletary has handed out six or more assists for an average of 5.3 per game (74 assists).

Singletary is currently third in the ACC with 4.65 assists per game. He is averaging 4.64 assists per ACC contest which is third among all ACC players.

Field Goal Percentage Leader

Freshman Laurynas Mikalauskas leads the Cavaliers in field goal percentage. He has made 53-89 attempts from the field for 59.6 percent accuracy. Over the last 12 games, Mikalauskas has made 34-54 attempts (63.0 percent) from the floor.

Mikalauskas turned in several outstanding performances as of late. Against North Carolina (Jan. 19), he posted a 10-point, five-rebound performance. It marked the first time he scored in double figures in an ACC game. Against Miami (Jan. 24), Mikalauskas tallied 12 points and eight rebounds. The 12 points are his ACC high, while the eight boards equal his conference best (he had eight rebounds in his ACC debut against Georgia Tech – Dec. 4). Versus NC State (Feb. 1), Mikalauskas notched 10 points and four rebounds.

Overall, Joseph is averaging 10.5 points per game while shooting 42.0 percent (79-188) from the field and 35.0 percent (36-103) from beyond the arc.

Bannister Returns to Action

After missing six consecutive games, guard T.J. Bannister returned to action for the Cavaliers against Florida State (Jan. 11) and played in five straight games before missing the NC State (Feb. 1), Wake Forest (Feb. 4), Maryland (Feb. 7), and Virginia Tech (Feb. 11) contests.

He entered the FSU game with 11:42 left in the first half and logged 18 minutes. He did not score in the game, but had five assists with just one turnover. Bannister had his most productive game of the season vs. North Carolina with seven points, three rebounds, two assists and a steal in 10 minutes. He also dished out four assists while logging a season-high 23 minutes against Miami (Jan. 24).

Bannister missed the first four games of the season and made his 2005-06 season debut against Georgia Tech (Dec. 4). He played two minutes during the first half and made his only field goal attempt. Bannister also played seven minutes against Fordham and had two assists and one rebound before missing the next six games.

First Double-Double

J.R. Reynolds recorded his first career double-double with 19 points and 12 assists against Virginia Tech (Feb. 11). Reynolds' 12 assists doubled his previous career high of six.

In addition, it marked the first double-double by a UVa player in points and assists since Donald Hand had 12 points and 11 assists against Coastal Carolina on Nov. 20, 2000. It is also the most assists by a Cavalier since T.J. Bannister handed out 12 assists against Wake Forest on Mar. 2, 2004.

Double Figures in Rebounds

Mamadi Diane pulled down a career-high 10 rebounds against Wake Forest (Feb. 4). His previous career high was seven rebounds against Georgia Tech (Dec. 4). Diane became just the second Cavalier to reach double figures in rebounds in a game this season. Jason Cain has seven double figure rebounding performances to his credit.

No Threes

UVa was 0-13 from three-point range against Georgia Tech (Dec. 4). The last time Virginia failed to make a three-pointer in a game was Jan. 31, 2004 at Wake Forest.

36, 38, 39

Sean Singletary, J.R. Reynolds and Adrian Joseph have combined to make 113 of UVa's 127 three-point field goals this season. Interestingly, Reynolds has made 39 threes, Singletary follows with 38, and Joseph has 36 threes to his credit.

Joseph only made 14 three-pointers all of last season. Singletary has set a new single season high with his 38 threes (he had 34 last season). Reynolds' all-time best in terms of three-pointers made is 51 last season.

Reynolds Breaks Out

After making only four three-point field goals (on 28 attempts) in the first seven games of the season, J.R. Reynolds drained a career-high tying five three-pointers against Loyola (Dec. 23) on seven attempts.

Including the Loyola game, Reynolds has made 35-85 (41.2 percent) three-point attempts in the last 14 games. Reynolds is now 39-113 (34.5 percent) from beyond the three-point line this season.

Reynolds snapped an 0-11 slump that spanned four games when he made his first three against Loyola with 12:53 left in the first half. His 5-7 effort from long range against Loyola also snapped a 1-20 slump over the previous five games.

In the last 14 games, Reynolds is averaging 17.7 points per game (248 points). He has scored in double figures in a career-best 15 consecutive games. Reynolds is averaging a career-best 15.6 points per game (14th in the ACC) this season.

Turnovers

UVa is averaging 14.2 turnovers per game this season. The Cavaliers committed 18 or more turnovers in four of their first five games. In the last 16 games, UVa has cut its turnovers down to 13.2 per game (211 turnovers). The most miscues UVa has made in its last 16 games is 21 vs. Virginia Tech (Jan. 15). UVa also had 19 turnovers vs. Duke (Jan. 28). In that same 16-game span, the Cavaliers have seven games in which they had 11 or fewer turnovers, including a season-low tying eight turnovers vs. Miami (Jan. 24) and NC State (Feb. 1).

The Cavaliers have averaged 12.5 turnovers per game at home and 16.0 miscues away from University Hall.

Against Northwestern (Nov. 30), UVa had only eight turnovers, including just two miscues in the second half against the Wildcats. In its previous game against Arizona, Virginia committed a season-high 24 turnovers.

28 Offensive Rebounds

UVa pulled down 28 offensive rebounds against Georgia Tech (Dec. 4) and it ties for the second highest offensive rebounds total in a game in school history. The Cavaliers also had 28 offensive boards against Virginia Tech on Jan. 25, 1989. The school record for offensive rebounds in a game is 30 vs. Towson on Dec. 3, 1994.

Virginia gave up 28 offensive rebounds to Hartford (Dec. 31). The 28 offensive boards by the Hawks is the fourth highest total by a UVa opponent ever.

Guards Lead the Way

Starting guards Sean Singletary and J.R. Reynolds are pacing the Cavaliers this season. The two guards have combined to lead UVa in scoring in 17 of 21 games.

Singletary leads UVa with 18.4 points per game and is averaging 4.7 assists per game (93 assists). Reynolds is second on the squad with 15.6 points per contest and has tallied 74 assists (3.5 per game).

Singletary has led UVa in scoring 10 times – 24 points against Arizona, 23 points vs. Northwestern, 35 points vs. Gonzaga, 22 points vs. Hartford, 27 points vs. Florida State, 16 points vs. Virginia Tech (tied with Reynolds), 18 points vs. North Carolina, 29 points vs. Miami, 18 points vs. Maryland (tied with Reynolds), and 23 points vs. Virginia Tech (second meeting).

Reynolds has led the Cavaliers in scoring nine times – 23 points against Richmond, 25 points vs. Loyola (Md.), 20 points vs. UMBC, 26 points vs. Western Kentucky, 16 points vs. Virginia Tech (tied with Singletary), 19 points vs. Duke, 16 points vs. NC State, 21 points vs. Wake Forest, and 18 points vs. Maryland (tied with Singletary).

Rebounding a Key

One of the keys to success for UVa this season is rebounding and so far Virginia has more than held its own on the glass. The Cavaliers have outrebounded 16 of their first 21 opponents and are averaging 6.5 more rebounds per game than the opposition. UVa is averaging 38.3 rebounds overall and 13.8 offensive boards per contest.

The Cavaliers have outrebounded eight of their opponents by 10 or more rebounds. In 11 ACC games, Virginia has outrebounded the opposition 418-352 for an average of +6.0 per game.

Virginia outrebounded Wake Forest (Feb. 4) by 22 rebounds (47-25 – their largest margin of the season) and the Demon

Deacons entered the game as the leading rebounding team in the ACC.

Free Throw Accuracy

UVa is shooting an impressive 75.4 percent (322-427) from the free throw line this season which ranks second in the ACC (UVa is shooting 76.5 percent – 169-211 – in ACC play). The Cavaliers have two players ranked among the leaders in the ACC in free throw shooting. Sean Singletary is sixth at 82.0 percent (91-111), while J.R. Reynolds is ninth in the conference at 79.0 percent (83-105).

Several other Cavaliers are shooting extremely well from the free throw line, but don't qualify to be listed among the ACC's leaders because they haven't made enough free throws (2.5 made per game is the requirement to be ranked).

– Mamadi Diane is shooting 83.9 percent (26-31) from the line
– Adrian Joseph is shooting 77.1 percent (27-35) from the line
– Tunji Soroye is shooting 73.3 percent (11-15) from the line

Double Figures in Last 12 Games

Sean Singletary has set a new career high by scoring in double figures in the last 12 games. His current streak began with a 22-point performance against Hartford (Dec. 31) and in his last outing, Singletary tallied 23 points against Virginia Tech (Feb. 11).

During his current scoring streak, Singletary is averaging 19.6 points per game (235 points).

After scoring in double figures in back-to-back games only once last season, Singletary scored in double digits in the first six games he played in this season before having his streak stopped when he scored only four points against Loyola (Md.). Singletary, who is averaging 18.4 points a game, scored only seven points against UMBC (Dec. 28).

In addition to scoring in double figures the last 12 games, he has reached double digits in 18 of the 20 games he has played this season.

Singletary scored in double figures in 13 games last season, but not in back-to-back games until he scored 17 vs. NC State (Mar. 2) and 11 vs. Florida State (Mar. 6).

Reynolds Free Throw Streak Snapped

J.R. Reynolds had his streak of 20 consecutive free throws made snapped when he missed his second attempt vs. Clemson (Jan. 7) with 1:30 remaining in the first half.

Reynolds' streak started when he made his last free throw vs. Loyola (Dec. 23). He was a career-best 10-10 against UMBC (Dec. 28) and then made all four attempts from the line against Hartford (Dec. 31). Reynolds also made all four attempts from the charity stripe against Western Kentucky (Jan. 2).

Reynolds' 105 attempts from the free throw line this season are a career high as are his 83 made free throws. He is shooting 79.0 percent from the line this season. Reynolds is shooting 79.1 percent from the free throw line in his career (193-244).

Impressive Start

Virginia limited its first two opponents to an average of 43.5 points per game (Liberty 44 points, Richmond 43 points) and 25.7 percent (27-105) shooting from the field. The last time UVa held its first two opponents under 50 points was way back in the 1948-49 season. In 1948-49, the Cavaliers held Lynchburg Independents to 40 points (in a 72-40 win) and Langley Field to 38 points (in a 78-38 win).

On the season, Virginia's opponents are shooting 41.9 percent (504-1,204) from the field and averaging 65.8 points per game.

The Cavaliers have held nine opponents below 40.0 percent field goal shooting this season, including four of the last eight. After allowing Florida State to shoot 60.0 percent (30-50), UVa held Virginia Tech, North Carolina and Miami to a combined 33.9 percent (61-180) shooting from the floor. Duke stopped that streak by shooting 55.3 percent (26-47) from the field against UVa on Jan. 28 and NC State followed with a 50.0 percent (27-54) effort on Feb. 1. Wake Forest became the third consecutive team to shoot 50 percent or better from the floor as it connected on 25-49 attempts for 51.0 percent. The streak of three consecutive opponents shooting 50 percent or better ended when UVa held Maryland to 39.1 percent (25-64) on Feb. 7.

The Opener

UVa's 35-point margin of victory over Liberty (79-44, Nov. 18) marked the largest in a season-opener since the 2000-01 season when the Cavaliers won by 46 points over Long Island (Nov. 17) – 96-50. The 44 points allowed by UVa are the fewest in a season opener since 1991-92 when Virginia posted a 78-43 win over William & Mary (Nov. 24).

Singletary Named ACC Player of the Week

Sophomore guard Sean Singletary was named the Atlantic Coast Conference Player of the Week on Dec. 19. Singletary scored a career-high 35 points in UVa's 80-69 loss at 10th-ranked Gonzaga (Dec. 17). In addition to the 35 points, Singletary tied his career high with six steals and added six rebounds and four assists.

Singletary, who was a five-time ACC Rookie of the Week last season, is the first UVa player to garner the ACC's Player of the Week award since Elton Brown captured the honor on Dec. 27, 2004.

Singletary is currently fourth in the ACC with 18.4 points per game.

Sean Singletary scored Virginia's final four points, including the winning basket with 2.2 seconds to play, in a 64-62 victory at North Carolina State. J.R. Reynolds' driving layup with 1.5 seconds remaining in overtime provided UVa with its margin of victory in a 79-77 win over Loyola Marymount. T.J. Bannister's jumper in the lane with 2.7 seconds left in the second overtime period gave the Cavaliers' an 80-79 win over Western Kentucky.
