OFFICIALS

THE GAME

Virginia enters tonight's Atlantic Coast Conference game with a 14-11 overall record and a 7-7 mark in the ACC. The Cavaliers are coming off a 90-64 loss to Clemson (Feb. 25) in Clemson, S.C.

North Carolina stands at 19-6 overall and 10 -4 in the ACC. The Tar Heels are ranked 13th in The Associated Press and 15th in the USA Today/ESPN Top 25 polls. UNC has won its last five games and is coming off an 81-57 win over Maryland (Feb. 26) in Chapel Hill, N.C.

The Series vs. North Carolina

North Carolina leads the all-time series with the Cavaliers 118-48 in a rivalry that dates back to the 1910-11 season. UVa won the first meeting of the 2005-06 season 72-68 (Jan. 19) in University Hall.

UNC swept the 2004-05 series, winning 110-76 (Jan. 29) in Charlottesville – snapping UVa's five-game winning streak over the Tar Heels at U-Hall – and 85-61 (Feb. 16) in Chapel Hill. It is the first time since the 1998-99 season North Carolina has swept the season series from UVa. The Tar Heels took the first meeting of the 2003-04 season 96-77 in Chapel Hill and the Cavaliers earned a split in the series with a 74-72 win (Feb. 24) in Charlottesville.

Virginia won the first meeting of the 2002-03 season 79-72 (Jan. 11) at University Hall, but the Tar Heels earned a split with an 81-67 win (Feb. 12) in Chapel Hill, which snapped UVa's four-game winning streak in the series. UVa swept the 2001-02 season series, winning 71-67 (Jan. 12) in Chapel Hill and 73-63 (Feb. 12) in Charlottesville. It marked the second time in three seasons UVa swept the season series from the Tar Heels. Virginia also swept the regular season series in 1999-00 for the first time since the 1980-81 season. (UNC, however, won the meeting in the 1981 NCAA Tournament's Final Four).

Despite losing four of the last six meetings, the Cavaliers have won eight of the last 13 contests in the series and UVa's four-game winning streak was its longest in the series since the early 1900s. The Cavaliers won five consecutive games against North Carolina from 1917-18 to 1919-20 (45-35 in 1917-18, 40-29 and 31-21 in 1918-19, 40-25 and 37-31 in 1919-20). UVa won the first eight games in the series from 1910-11 to 1915-16.

Virginia's victory in Chapel Hill in the 1999-00 season (90-76 – Feb. 20) was its first ever triumph at the Smith Center. The Cavaliers lost their previous 14 games in the Dean Dome. The win also snapped UVa's 18-game losing streak at UNC. Prior to 1999-00, the previous Virginia victory in Chapel Hill came on Feb. 3, 1981, when UVa posted an 80-79 overtime victory.

Despite Virginia's wins in 1999-00 and in 2001-02, the Tar Heels have dominated the series in games played in Chapel Hill, winning 60 of the 65 meetings. The Cavaliers are 2-18 at the Smith Center.

Virginia's wins in Chapel Hill occurred on: Feb. 24, 1911 – UVa 18, UNC 15; Jan. 25, 1973 – UVa 84, #3 UNC 78; Feb. 3, 1981 – UVa 80, #11 UNC 79 in overtime; Feb. 20, 2000 – UVa 90, UNC 76; and Jan. 12, 2002 – UVa 71, UNC 67.

North Carolina has won 13 of the last 22 games and 23 of the last 35 games between the two teams.

Shooting Lots of Three-Pointers vs. the Tar Heels

Since the 1989-90 season, the Cavaliers attempted an average of 21.5 three-point field goals (817 in 38 games) per game against North Carolina. Virginia made 269 of those 817 attempts (32.9 percent) for 7.1 made threes per game. Since the 1988-89 season, the Cavaliers have attempted 20 or more threes in a game against the Tar Heels 26 times.

Three of Virginia's top five and five of the Cavaliers' top 10 games in terms of three-point field goals attempted have come against North Carolina (four are against Clemson and one is vs. Florida State). Prior to attempting a school-record 38 three-pointers against Clemson (Jan. 15, 2000), Virginia's 32 attempts against UNC on Feb. 14, 1990 and Mar. 7, 1997 marked the Cavaliers' all-time high for three-pointers attempted in a game.

Virginia also set its school record for most three-point field goals made in the Feb. 14, 1990 game against UNC with 15. (Virginia equaled the mark of 15 threes made in a game against Hampton on Nov. 25, 1998.)

UVa vs. Ranked Tar Heel Teams

The Cavaliers have not fared well against ranked (AP Poll) North Carolina teams over the years. Virginia is 18-76 all-time against ranked UNC teams (11-58 vs. top 10 UNC teams).

Virginia is 2-3 all-time against 13th (AP Poll) ranked Tar Heel squads.

The Cavaliers are 2-35 all-time against ranked North Carolina teams in Chapel Hill.

Keys to the Game

Virginia needs to shoot the ball well tonight to help its chances to win. Since the 1989-90 season, the Cavaliers are 14-24 against North Carolina, but are 9-2 when they out-shoot the Tar Heels. The Wahoos are 5-22 when the Tar Heels out-shoot them.

Here's a look at the two teams' field goal percentages since the 1989-90 season. The winner is listed in bold.

Earlier This Season vs. North Carolina

Sean Singletary and J.R. Reynolds combined for 34 points and Laurynas Mikalauskas came off the bench to add 10 points and five rebounds to lead Virginia to a 72-68 victory over 2005 national champion North Carolina (Jan. 19) at sold out University Hall.

Singletary paced the Cavaliers with 18 points to go along with four rebounds and four assists, while Reynolds tallied 16 points, six rebounds, two blocked shots and two assists. Mikalauskas, who reached double figures in scoring in an ACC game for the first time in his career, had a pair of tip-ins among his 10 points. Jason Cain blocked a career-high five shots and also added seven points and five rebounds.

Virginia took a pair of 10-point leads during the first half, including 24-14 with 8:43 remaining. The Tar Heels outscored UVa 15-3, including a 10-0 run, from that point to grab a 29-27 lead at halftime.

North Carolina extended its lead to seven on two occasions early in the second half, including 36-29 with 17:46 left. The Cavaliers then embarked on a 10-2 run to take a 39-38 edge on a driving layup by Billy Campbell with 14:18 remaining in the contest. After UNC tied the game at 44-44, a three-pointer by Reynolds at the 10:41 mark gave the Cavaliers the lead for good, 47-44. Reynolds' three ignited a 7-0 run that gave UVa a 51-44 lead with 9:48 to go. Virginia built its lead to as many as nine points five times with the last coming with 5:14 to play (63-54). The Tar Heels cut the deficit to three, 64-61, with 2:51 to go, but UVa made 8-10 attempts from the free throw line from that point to seal the victory.

UVa made 23-29 free throw attempts for 79.3 percent, while North Carolina was only 10-14 (71.4 percent). Virginia only shot 37.9 percent (22-58) from the field, but held UNC to 36.2 percent

(25-69) accuracy from the floor. The Cavaliers blocked a season-high 12 shots and committed only 10 turnovers. The Tar Heels held a 45-37 edge in rebounds.

Tyler Hansbrough led UNC with 18 points and 10 rebounds, while David Noel added 14 points and 10 boards.

Head Coach Dave Leitao

Dave Leitao was named the 10th head men's basketball coach at Virginia on April 16, 2005. Leitao was the head coach at DePaul University the last three seasons (2002-03, 2003-04, 2004-05). His DePaul teams competed in a postseason tournament each season. The Blue Demons participated in the NCAA Tournament in 2004 and in the National Invitation Tournament in 2003 and 2005. Leitao also spent two seasons as the head coach at his alma mater, Northeastern University (1994-95 and 1995-96).

In six seasons as a head coach he sports a 94-80 record.

Leitao is 1-1 all-time vs. North Carolina as a head coach.

Leitao has coached in 26 games against AP ranked teams and is 7-19. Against top 10 AP teams, Leitao is 0-8. He was 0-4 against ranked teams in two seasons at Northeastern, 5-11 vs. ranked opponents in three years at DePaul, and 2-4 against ranked foes at UVa. Virginia's 72-58 win over 11th-ranked Boston College (Feb. 21) marked the highest ranked opponent a Leitao coached team has defeated. The previous highest ranked opponent Leitao beat was 13th-ranked Cincinnati – 68-65 (Mar. 4, 2004) while he was the head coach at DePaul.

In six season-openers, Leitao is 4-2. In addition to this year's season-opening win, Leitao won all three season openers while at DePaul and lost both openers at Northeastern. Here's a look at the results of Leitao's six season-openers:

1994-95	Northeastern lost at Duke	93-70
1995-96	Northeastern lost at Marist	73-55
2002-03	DePaul won at Northern Illinois	63-48

A new era of Virginia basketball began on Nov. 18 when Dave Leitao made his Virginia coaching debut. The Cavaliers rolled to a 79-44 victory over Liberty. New UVa Coaches in Home ACC Debut

Dave Leitao made his ACC home game coaching debut against Clemson (Jan. 7) – a 64-58 win. He is only the third of seven UVa coaches to win their first home ACC game. Billy McCann was the first UVa coach to win his home ACC debut in the 1957-58 season (a 66-61 win over Wake Forest – Dec. 14). In 1990-91, Jeff Jones was the second UVa coach to win his first home ACC game (an 81-64 win over #8 Duke – Jan. 5).

Virginia Falls at Clemson 90-64

Clemson scored 36 points off a season-high 29 Cavalier turnovers and posted a 90-64 victory over Virginia (Feb. 25) in Clemson, S.C.

Sean Singletary led UVa with a game-high 25 points and he also tallied team highs of six rebounds, four assists and four steals. He also had nine turnovers. J.R. Reynolds was the only other Cavalier in double figures in scoring with 16 points. Reynolds made 6-9 field goal attempts, including both three-point tries.

UVa tied the game just once and that was at 2-2 on a Jason Cain layup. The Tigers then went on a 30-5 run to open up a 32-7 lead with 10:44 remaining in the first half. Virginia used a 13-5 run to close within 37-20 with 7:23 remaining in the opening half. By the end of the first half, UVa trimmed the deficit to 11 and trailed 46-35 at the intermission.

Clemson's Shawn Robinson opened the second half with a three-pointer, but UVa responded with a Singletary layup and a three-pointer by T.J. Bannister to pull within nine, 49-40, three minutes into the second stanza. The Tigers answered with a 9-0 run to extend their lead to 18 (58-40) with 13:56 to go. UVa never got closer than 15 the rest of the game.

Virginia shot 43.8 percent (21-48) from the field, while Clemson made 32-61 attempts from the field for 52.5 percent accuracy. The Cavaliers made 77.3 percent (17-22) of their free throw attempts. The Tigers held a 34-32 edge in rebounds and committed 16 turnovers to UVa's 29 – 14 of which were Clemson steals.

Robinson led five Clemson players in double figures with 22 points, while Akin Akingbala had 14 points.

Seven ACC Wins

After just nine ACC games this season, Virginia surpassed its conference win total of four from 2004-05. UVa was 4-2 after six games this season, marking the first time since the 2001-02 season it was two games over .500 in conference play (also 4-2).

The Cavaliers are currently 7-7 in the ACC and it is UVa's most ACC wins since 2001-02 when the team went 7-9 in conference action. UVa has not won more than seven ACC games since the 2000-01 season when it went 9-7. Virginia was also 9-7 in 1999-00.

Virginia's overtime victory over Virginia Tech (Feb. 11) marked UVa's 400th win all-time at U-Hall. The Cavaliers picked up their 401st win at U-Hall against Longwood (Feb. 15) and registered win number 402 vs. then 11th-ranked Boston College (Feb. 21). In 41 seasons (including 2005-06), the Cavaliers are 402-142 (.739 winning percentage) all-time at U-Hall.

After calling University Hall home since the 1965-66 season, the Cavaliers will move across the street to their new facility, the John Paul Jones Arena, for the 2006-07 season.

U-Hall is Kind to Cavaliers

UVa is 11-2 at home this season, including 6-1 in the ACC, but only 2-9 in away games (1-6 in the ACC). Virginia has won its last six home games and lost its last five away games. UVa is 6-1 in ACC games at U-Hall this season, its most conference wins at home since 2000-01 when the Cavaliers were 7-1.

Defeating the Defending National Champion

UVa's 72-68 win over 2005 NCAA champion North Carolina (Jan. 19) marked the fourth consecutive win for Virginia over a reigning national champion.

In the 2002-03 season, the Cavaliers posted a pair of wins over Maryland (the 2002 NCAA champion) – 86-78 at Maryland (Feb. 6) and 80-78 in OT at home (Mar. 9). UVa began its current streak with an 87-84 home win over Duke (the 2001 NCAA champion) on Feb. 28, 2002.

Virginia is 8-13 all-time against the reigning national champions in 11 different seasons. In addition to four straight wins, UVa has won six of the last nine matchups.

UVa is 1-6 all-time vs. North Carolina in the year following Tar Heel national titles (0-2 in 1958, 0-2 in 1983, 0-2 in 1994, and 1-0 in 2006). In addition to UNC, Virginia is 2-0 vs. Maryland, 3-3 vs. Duke, 2-3 vs. NC State, and 0-1 vs. Cincinnati.

Back to ACC Play

The Cavaliers opened ACC play on Dec. 4 (a 63-54 loss at Georgia Tech) and played their second conference game on Jan. 7 against Clemson (a 64-58 win). The 33 days between ACC games (Georgia Tech and Clemson) is the longest stretch ever between ACC contests for Virginia. The previous longest length of time between ACC games for UVa was 31 days in the 1979-80 season – Dec. 1 (vs. Georgia Tech) to Jan. 2 (vs. Wake Forest).

Virginia also played six non-conference games between league matchups. The six games ties for the second most all-time between ACC contests (1997-98, 1996-97, 1981-82, and 1967-68). In 1979-80, the Cavaliers played eight non-conference contests between their first two ACC games.

No Steals

UVa committed only eight turnovers in its 71-51 win over Miami (Jan. 24) and the Hurricanes did not have a steal in the game. It marks the 10th time a Virginia opponent did not have a steal in a game and the first time since Feb. 26, 2003 when Ohio did not record a steal.

Cavalier Captains

Junior J.R. Reynolds and sophomore Sean Singletary are co-captains of the 2005-06 Virginia basketball team. Singletary is the first sophomore since Donald Hand in the 1998-99 season to be a team captain.

20 Point Win

UVa's 20-point win over Miami (Jan. 24) is its largest margin of victory in an ACC contest since the end of the 2000-01 season. The Cavaliers closed their home ACC season in 2001 with a 19-point victory (84-65) over Clemson (Feb. 28). In the previous game, UVa registered a 20-point win (86-66) over then second-ranked North Carolina (Feb. 25) at home.

54.0 Percent Shooting

Virginia shot a season-high 54.0 percent (27-50) from the field against Miami (Jan. 24). It marked the first time this season UVA shot over 50 percent in a game (the Cavaliers shot exactly 50 percent against Hartford – 25-50 on Dec. 31). Virginia also connected on 52.1 percent (25-48) of its attempts from the field against Boston College (Feb. 21).

Closing in on 1,000

J.R. Reynolds is quickly approaching the 1,000-point milestone. Reynolds has scored 991 points in his career and needs nine to reach the 1,000-point plateau. Thirty-nine Cavaliers have scored 1,000 points during their career. The last player to score his 1,000th career point was Devin Smith, who reached the milestone last season.

Three-Point Field Goal Leaders

J.R. Reynolds has made 149 three-point field goals in his career and is in seventh place on UVA's all-time three-point field goals list. Reynolds needs seven more three-point field goals to tie Donald Hand (1998-01) and Todd Billett (2003-04) for fifth place with 156 career threes.

Thief

Sean Singletary is sixth in the ACC in steals with 1.88 per game. Singletary has 45 steals in 24 games this season. He has three or more steals in six games this season.

Swat

Sophomore Tunji Soroye has blocked a career-best 35 shots this season for an average of 1.4 per game. Soroye is currently fifth in the ACC in blocked shots per game. He has blocked two or more shots in 11 games, including a season-high four blocks vs. Clemson (Jan. 7) and Longwood (Feb. 15).

Singletary Goes for 35

Sean Singletary scored a career-high 35 points in UVA's 80-69 loss at Gonzaga (Dec. 17). The 35 points set a McCarthy Athletic Center record for the most points scored by a Gonzaga opponent. Singletary, who missed UVA's previous game against Fordham (Dec. 7) with a hip injury, made 11-20 attempts from the field (4-9 three-pointers) and 9-14 free throws. He also had a career-high tying six steals, six rebounds and four assists in 39 minutes.

Singletary's 35 points are the most scored in a game by a UVA player since J.R. Reynolds tallied 32 points vs. Miami (Mar. 10) in last year's ACC tournament. The last time a UVA player scored more than 35 points in a game was last season when Devin Smith tallied 40 points against Iowa State (Dec. 6).

Singletary scored just over half of Virginia's points in the game against Gonzaga. The last time one player scored more than half of UVA's points in a game was when Smith scored his 40 points against Iowa State last season (UVA had 79 as a team).

ACC Legend

Former Cavalier great Curtis Staples (1995-98) has been selected as Virginia's ACC Legend and will be honored at this year's ACC Men's Basketball Tournament in Greensboro. Staples will be honored at the annual ACC Basketball Legends Brunch which will be held on Saturday, March 11 beginning at 10 a.m.

Staples held the all-time three-point field goals made mark in ACC and NCAA history until Feb. 14 when Duke's J.J. Redick broke his records. Staples made a total of 413 three-pointers during his four-year career at Virginia. A third-team All-ACC selection in 1998, he started 97 of 122 total games during his college career.

As a senior, he led the nation in three-point field goals per game and averaged 18.1 points per game. He led the ACC in three-point field goals per game all four seasons of his career, becoming only the third player in ACC history to lead the conference in a statistical category for four consecutive years.

No Threes

UVA was 0-13 from three-point range against Georgia Tech (Dec. 4). The last time Virginia failed to make a three-pointer in a game was Jan. 31, 2004 at Wake Forest.

Ruling the Offensive Glass

Jason Cain registered an amazing 16 offensive rebounds in two games (7 vs. Georgia Tech – Dec. 4 and 9 vs. Fordham – Dec. 7). The 16 offensive rebounds ties Bryant Stith for the most offensive rebounds in back-to-back games in school history. Stith had 16 offensive boards (eight each) against Wake Forest (Mar. 1, 1989) and Maryland (Mar. 5, 1989).

Furthermore, Cain's nine offensive rebounds vs. the Rams was just one shy of the single game school mark which is shared by three players (Stith, Matt Blundin, and Travis Watson). Only one other player – Junior Burrough – has had nine offensive boards in a game (against Old Dominion on Dec. 11, 1993).

On the season, Cain has 79 offensive rebounds for an average of 3.16 per game (third in the ACC) and 40.5 percent (79 of 195) of his rebounds are of the offensive variety.

Really Raising Cain

Jason Cain recorded back-to-back double-doubles three times this season. He has six double-doubles this season (tied for seventh in the ACC) and has led Virginia in rebounding in 15 of the last 22 games. Cain has recorded double figures in rebounds eight times this season.

Cain had his first career double-double in UVA's 63-54 loss to Georgia Tech (Dec. 4). The junior forward tallied then career highs of 15 points and 11 rebounds. Against Fordham (Dec. 7), Cain posted career bests with 16 points and 15 rebounds. Against Loyola (Dec. 23), he recorded 15 points and 16 rebounds with the 16 boards setting yet another career high. Against UMBC (Dec. 28), Cain tied his career high with 16 points and added 12 rebounds for his fourth double-double of the season. His fifth double-double came against Wake Forest (Feb. 4) when he tallied 13 points and 10 rebounds. For the third time this season, Cain notched back-to-back double-doubles with an 11-point, 13-rebound performance against Maryland (Feb. 7).

His former career highs of 13 points and nine rebounds came in different games against NC State last season.

Cain also blocked a career-best five shots vs. North Carolina (Jan. 19) and now has a career-high 23 blocked shots this season. His former career high for blocked shots was three vs. UMBC (Dec. 28) earlier this season.

Cain leads UVA with 195 rebounds (7.8 per game – fifth in the ACC), including 79 offensive rebounds (3.16 per game). He is averaging 8.0 rebounds per ACC contest (fifth in the ACC). Cain is fourth on the team in scoring with 8.0 points per game.

Increase in Assists

Sean Singletary averaged only 3.17 assists (19 assists) in his first six games this season. In nine of the last 18 games, Singletary has handed out six or more assists for an average of 4.9 per game (89 assists).

Singletary is currently fourth in the ACC with 4.5 assists per game. He is averaging 4.43 assists per ACC contest which is second among all ACC players.

Field Goal Percentage Leader

Freshman Laurynas Mikalauskas leads the Cavaliers in field goal percentage. He has made 63-108 attempts from the field for 58.3 percent accuracy. Over the last 16 games, Mikalauskas has made 44-73 attempts (60.3 percent) from the floor.

Mikalauskas turned in several outstanding performances as of late. Against North Carolina (Jan. 19), he posted a 10-point, five-rebound performance. It marked the first time he scored in double figures in an ACC game. Against Miami (Jan. 24), Mikalauskas tallied 12 points and eight rebounds. The 12 points are his ACC high, while the eight boards equal his conference best (he had eight rebounds in his ACC debut against Georgia Tech – Dec. 4). Versus NC State (Feb. 1), Mikalauskas notched 10 points and four rebounds.

*UVA's game against UMBC (Dec. 28) is included as an away game. Diane had 16 points (6-11 field goals), three rebounds, three steals, one assist and one blocked shot with no turnovers.

Ditto for Joseph

Adrian Joseph is averaging 12.9 points per game at home (13 games), but is averaging only 7.5 points per game away from U-Hall (12 games). Joseph is shooting 43.9 percent (58-132) from the field and 41.3 percent (31-75) from three-point range at home. Away from U-Hall, Joseph is shooting only 38.5 percent (35-91) from the field and 26.7 percent (12-45) from three-point territory.

Overall, Joseph is averaging 10.3 points per game while shooting 41.7 percent (93-223) from the field and 35.8 percent (43-120) from beyond the arc.

Bannister Returns to Action Again

T.J. Bannister has played in the last four games after missing a total of 14 games this season.

Bannister did not play in the first four games of the season and made his first appearance of the 2005-06 campaign against Georgia Tech (Dec. 4). He played two minutes during the first half and made his only field goal attempt. Bannister also played seven minutes in UVA's next game against Fordham (Dec. 7) and had two assists and one rebound before missing the next six games.

After missing the six games, Bannister returned to action for the Cavaliers against Florida State (Jan. 11) for the first of five consecutive games he played in. He did not score against the Seminoles, but had five assists with just one turnover. Bannister had his most productive game of the season vs. North Carolina (Jan. 19) with seven points, three rebounds, two assists and a steal in 10 minutes.

Bannister made his third return to UVA's lineup against Longwood (Feb. 15) and has played the past four games.

On the season, Bannister is averaging 2.7 points and 1.3 rebounds per game. He has handed out 24 assists in 11 games for 2.2 assists per game.

First Double-Double

J.R. Reynolds recorded his first career double-double with 19 points and 12 assists against Virginia Tech (Feb. 11). Reynolds' 12 assists doubled his previous career high of six.

In addition, it marked the first double-double by a UVA player in points and assists since Donald Hand had 12 points and 11 assists against Coastal Carolina on Nov. 20, 2000. It is also the most assists by a Cavalier since T.J. Bannister handed out 12 assists against Wake Forest on Mar. 2, 2004.

Double Figures in Rebounds

Mamadi Diane pulled down a career-high 10 rebounds against Wake Forest (Feb. 4). His previous career high was seven rebounds against Georgia Tech (Dec. 4). Diane became just the second Cavalier to reach double figures in rebounds in a game this season. Jason Cain has eight double figure rebounding performances to his credit.

43, 45, 50

Sean Singletary, J.R. Reynolds and Adrian Joseph have combined to make 138 of UVA's 157 three-point field goals (87.9 percent) this season. Interestingly, the three-pointers made are pretty evenly distributed as Reynolds has made 50 threes, Singletary follows with 45, and Joseph has 43 threes to his credit. Singletary and Joseph have attempted 125 and 120 threes, respectively, while Reynolds has attempted 135.

Joseph only made 14 three-pointers all of last season. Singletary has set a new single season high with his 45 threes (he had 34 last season). Reynolds is just one three shy of his all-time best in terms of three-pointers made (51 last season).

Reynolds Breaks Out

After making only four three-point field goals (on 28 attempts) in the first seven games of the season, J.R. Reynolds drained a career-high tying five three-pointers against Loyola (Dec. 23) on seven attempts.

Including the Loyola game, Reynolds has made 46-107 (43.0 percent) three-point attempts in the last 18 games. Reynolds is now 50-135 (37.0 percent) from beyond the three-point line this season.

Reynolds snapped an 0-11 slump that spanned four games when he made his first three against Loyola with 12:53 left in the first half. His 5-7 effort from long range against Loyola also snapped a 1-20 slump over the previous five games.

In the last 18 games, Reynolds is averaging 18.1 points per game (326 points). He has scored in double figures in a career-best 19 consecutive games. Reynolds is averaging a career-best 16.2 points per game overall (11th in the ACC) and 16.5 per conference game (11th in the ACC) this season.

Diane Snaps a Slump

Mamadi Diane made 3-4 three-point field goal attempts against Boston College (Feb. 21) to snap a three-point draught.

Diane had missed his last 11 three-point attempts and was just 1-19 from long range in his last 10 games before making the three treys vs. BC. The three three-pointers made are a career high for Diane.

Turnovers

UVa is averaging 14.8 turnovers per game this season. The Cavaliers committed 18 or more turnovers in four of their first five games. In the last 20 games, UVa has cut its turnovers down to 14.1 per game (282 turnovers). UVa has committed 17 or more turnovers in a game during that span only five times (The Cavaliers had a season-high 29 turnovers against Clemson – Feb. 26). In that same 20-game span, the Cavaliers have seven games in which they had 11 or fewer turnovers, including a season-low tying eight turnovers vs. Miami (Jan. 24) and NC State (Feb. 1).

The Cavaliers have averaged 12.6 turnovers per game at home and 17.1 miscues away from University Hall.

Against Northwestern (Nov. 30), UVa had only eight turnovers, including just two miscues in the second half against the Wildcats. In its previous game against Arizona, Virginia committed 24 turnovers.

28 Offensive Rebounds

UVa pulled down 28 offensive rebounds against Georgia Tech (Dec. 4) and it ties for the second highest offensive rebounds total in a game in school history. The Cavaliers also had 28 offensive boards against Virginia Tech on Jan. 25, 1989. The school record for offensive rebounds in a game is 30 vs. Towson on Dec. 3, 1994.

Virginia gave up 28 offensive rebounds to Hartford (Dec. 31). The 28 offensive boards by the Hawks is the fourth highest total by a UVa opponent ever.

Guards Lead the Way

Starting guards Sean Singletary and J.R. Reynolds are pacing the Cavaliers this season. The two guards have combined to lead UVa in scoring in 21 of 25 games. The duo is averaging 34.5 points per game.

Singletary leads UVa with 18.3 points per game and is averaging 4.5 assists per game (108 assists). Reynolds is second on the squad with 16.2 points per contest and has tallied 82 assists (3.3 per game).

Singletary has led UVa in scoring 12 times – 24 points against Arizona, 23 points vs. Northwestern, 35 points vs. Gonzaga, 22 points vs. Hartford, 27 points vs. Florida State (first meeting), 16 points vs. Virginia Tech (tied with Reynolds), 18 points vs. North Carolina, 29 points vs. Miami, 18 points vs. Maryland (tied with Reynolds), 23 points vs. Virginia Tech (second meeting), 20 points vs. Longwood, and 25 points vs. Clemson (second meeting).

Reynolds has led the Cavaliers in scoring 11 times – 23 points against Richmond, 25 points vs. Loyola (Md.), 20 points vs. UMBC, 26 points vs. Western Kentucky, 16 points vs. Virginia Tech (tied with Singletary), 19 points vs. Duke, 16 points vs. NC State, 21 points vs. Wake Forest, 18 points vs. Maryland (tied with Singletary), 18 vs. Florida State (second meeting), and 28 points vs. Boston College.

Rebounding a Key

One of the keys to success for UVa this season is rebounding and so far Virginia has more than held its own on the glass. The Cavaliers have outrebounded 18 of their first 25 opponents and are averaging 5.6 more rebounds per game than the opposition. UVa is averaging 37.6 rebounds overall and 13.2 offensive boards per contest.

The Cavaliers have outrebounded eight of their opponents by 10 or more rebounds. In 14 ACC games, Virginia has outrebounded the opposition 515-450 for an average of +4.6 per game.

Virginia outrebounded Wake Forest (Feb. 4) by 22 rebounds (47-25 – their largest margin of the season) and the Demon

Deacons entered the game as the leading rebounding team in the ACC.

On the season, UVa is 10-8 when it outrebounds the opposition, and 3-3 when it is outrebounded. The Cavaliers are 1-0 when they tie their opponent in rebounds in a game.

Free Throw Accuracy

UVa is shooting an impressive 75.6 percent (379-501) from the free throw line this season which ranks second in the ACC (UVa is shooting 76.5 percent – 212-277 – in ACC play). The Cavaliers have two players ranked among the leaders in the ACC in free throw shooting. Sean Singletary is fifth at 83.6 percent (107-128), while J.R. Reynolds is ninth in the conference at 80.0 percent (100-125).

Two other Cavaliers are shooting extremely well from the free throw line, but don't qualify to be listed among the ACC's leaders because they haven't made enough free throws (2.5 made per game is the requirement to be ranked).

– Mamadi Diane is shooting 83.8 percent (31-37) from the line
– Adrian Joseph is shooting 76.3 percent (29-38) from the line

Double Figures in Last 16 Games

Sean Singletary has set a new career high by scoring in double figures in the last 16 games. His current streak began with a 22-point performance against Hartford (Dec. 31) and in his last outing, Singletary tallied 25 points against Clemson (Feb. 25).

During his current scoring streak, Singletary is averaging 19.3 points per game (308 points).

After scoring in double figures in back-to-back games only once last season, Singletary scored in double digits in the first six games he played in this season before having his streak stopped when he scored only four points against Loyola (Md.). Singletary, who is averaging 18.3 points a game, scored only seven points against UMBC (Dec. 28).

In addition to scoring in double figures the last 16 games, he has reached double digits in 22 of the 24 games he has played this season.

Singletary scored in double figures in 13 games last season, but not in back-to-back games until he scored 17 vs. NC State (Mar. 2) and 11 vs. Florida State (Mar. 6).

Reynolds Free Throw Streak Snapped

J.R. Reynolds had his streak of 20 consecutive free throws made snapped when he missed his second attempt vs. Clemson (Jan. 7) with 1:30 remaining in the first half.

Reynolds' streak started when he made his last free throw vs. Loyola (Dec. 23). He was a career-best 10-10 against UMBC (Dec. 28) and then made all four attempts from the line against Hartford (Dec. 31). Reynolds also made all four attempts from the charity stripe against Western Kentucky (Jan. 2).

Reynolds' 125 attempts from the free throw line this season are a career high as are his 100 made free throws. He is shooting 80.0 percent from the line this season. Reynolds is shooting 79.5 percent from the free throw line in his career (210-264).

The Opener

UVa's 35-point margin of victory over Liberty (79-44, Nov. 18) marked the largest in a season-opener since the 2000-01 season when the Cavaliers won by 46 points over Long Island (Nov. 17) – 96-50. The 44 points allowed by UVa are the fewest in a season opener since 1991-92 when Virginia posted a 78-43 win over William & Mary (Nov. 24).

Impressive Start

Virginia limited its first two opponents to an average of 43.5 points per game (Liberty 44 points, Richmond 43 points) and 25.7 percent (27-105) shooting from the field. The last time UVa held its first two opponents under 50 points was way back in the 1948-49 season. In 1948-49, the Cavaliers held Lynchburg Independents to 40 points (in a 72-40 win) and Langley Field to 38 points (in a 78-38 win).

On the season, Virginia's opponents are shooting 42.2 percent from the field and averaging 66.5 points per game.

The Cavaliers have held 11 opponents below 40.0 percent field goal shooting this season, including six of the last 12. After allowing Florida State (Jan. 11) to shoot 60.0 percent (30-50), UVa held Virginia Tech, North Carolina and Miami to a combined 33.9 percent (61-180) shooting from the floor. Duke stopped that streak by shooting 55.3 percent (26-47) from the field against UVa on Jan. 28 and NC State followed with a 50.0 percent (27-54) effort on Feb. 1. Wake Forest became the third consecutive team to shoot 50 percent or better from the floor as it connected on 25-49 attempts for 51.0 percent. The streak of three consecutive opponents shooting 50 percent or better ended when UVa held Maryland to 39.1 percent (25-64) on Feb. 7.

Singletary Named ACC Player of the Week

Sophomore guard Sean Singletary was named the Atlantic Coast Conference Player of the Week on Dec. 19. Singletary scored a career-high 35 points in UVa's 80-69 loss at 10th-ranked Gonzaga (Dec. 17). In addition to the 35 points, Singletary tied his career high with six steals and added six rebounds and four assists.

Singletary, who was a five-time ACC Rookie of the Week last season, is the first UVa player to garner the ACC's Player of the Week award since Elton Brown captured the honor on Dec. 27, 2004.

Singletary is currently fifth in the ACC with 18.3 points per game.

Cavaliers Open Season Strong

Virginia opened the 2005-06 season with a pair of victories, marking the seventh consecutive year UVa started out the season 2-0. UVa won its season-opener 79-44 over Liberty (Nov. 18) and then registered a 59-43 victory at Richmond (Nov. 22). The Cavaliers had their two-game winning streak snapped with an 81-51 loss at ninth-ranked Arizona Nov. 27.

Cavaliers Improve to 4-2 in ACC/Big Ten Challenge

With a 72-57 victory over Northwestern (Nov. 30), Virginia improved to 4-2 in the ACC/Big Ten Challenge. The Cavaliers also helped the ACC win the series for the seventh consecutive year as ACC schools won six of 11 contests. The ACC's cumulative record in the Challenge is 40-24.

The three players are 6-6 forward Will Harris from Corona, N.Y.; 6-8 forward Johnnie Lett of Mobile, Ala.; and 6-9 forward Jamil Tucker of Gary, Ind.

Shiembob Shines

In seven minutes vs. UMBC, Shiembob had a career-high four points while making both attempts from the field. Against Hartford, Shiembob equalled his career best with four points (2-3 shooting from the field) and also tallied a career-high two rebounds (both offensive). He also had an assist and a steal while playing a career-high 16 minutes.

Shiembob has played in 10 games this season. He had four points, two rebounds and one assist in five minutes in the win over Longwood (Feb. 15).

Two Players Join Virginia Squad

Deasey is a 6-0 guard from Wynnewood, Pa. He lettered three times in basketball at Episcopal Academy and was the team captain his senior season.

He averaged 18.5 points and 6.9 rebounds a game as a senior and earned Virginia League of Independent Schools first-team All-State honors. He finished his career at St. Christopher's as the school's career leader in rebounds (582) and ranked fourth in scoring (1,097 points). Shiembob was the team's captain as a junior and a senior.

UVa Guards Make Game-Winning Plays

Three returning guards for the Cavaliers provided game-winning heroics during the 2004-05 season. Sean Singletary scored Virginia's final four points, including the winning basket with 2.2 seconds to play, in a 64-62 victory at North Carolina State. J.R. Reynolds' driving layup with 1.5 seconds remaining in overtime provided UVa with its margin of victory in a 79-77 win over Loyola Marymount. T.J. Bannister's jumper in the lane with 2.7 seconds left in the second overtime period gave the Cavaliers' an 80-79 win over Western Kentucky.

Singletary and Reynolds Earn ACC All-Freshmen Honors

Virginia has had a player earn All-ACC Freshmen honors each of the last two seasons.

Sean Singletary was named to the All-ACC Freshmen Team in 2005 after earning ACC Rookie of the Week honors five times. He averaged 10.5 points, 3.9 assists, 3.0 rebounds and 29.9 minutes played a game, and was the only UVa player to start all 29 games during the 2004-05 season.

J.R. Reynolds was named to the All-ACC Freshmen Team in 2004. He averaged 9.4 points, 1.7 rebounds, 2.0 assists and 24.7 minutes played a game during the 2003-04 season.

Virginia Assistants have Head Coaching Experience

Two members of University of Virginia men's head basketball coach Dave Leitao's coaching staff have head coaching experience at the Division I level.

Rob Lanier was the head coach at Siena College the last four years (2001-05). During his four years as Siena's head coach, the Saints participated in one NCAA Tournament and one National Invitation Tournament (NIT).

Siena won the Metro Atlantic Athletic Conference (MAAC) Tournament Championship in 2002 to earn a spot in the NCAA Tournament. The Saints defeated Alcorn State in the NCAA Tournament opening round game before losing to eventual national champion Maryland.

During the 2002-03 season, Lanier led Siena to a 21-11 record and a third-place finish in the MAAC with a 12-6 record. The Saints earned a berth in the NIT where they defeated Villanova and Western Michigan before losing to Alabama-Birmingham.

Steve Seymour was the head coach at Drexel University for two years (1999-2001). Drexel compiled a 21-15 record in the America East Conference during his two years as head coach. He later served as an assistant coach at Siena during Rob Lanier's first three years as head coach of the Saints.

Brown Named Strength and Conditioning Coach

Shaun Brown, the head strength coach of the Toronto Raptors of the National Basketball Association the last two years, was named strength and conditioning coach for the University of Virginia men's basketball program on October 13.

Brown has 17 years of experience at the professional and collegiate levels. Before joining the staff of the Toronto Raptors, he was the head strength coach for the Boston Celtics from 1997-2003.

From 1992-97, Brown was the head strength coach for men's basketball at the University of Kentucky. During his time at Kentucky, the men's basketball team won the 1996 NCAA Championship.

"The hiring of Shaun Brown continues to move our program in the right direction and helps us provide the best possible student-athlete experience," said UVa men's head basketball coach Dave Leitao. "Shaun comes to Virginia with credentials that speak for themselves. He has been a part of a national championship program, and has successfully trained athletes at the professional and collegiate levels."

Evan Marcus is Virginia's head strength coach and director of the McCue Center weight room. Ed Nordenschild (head strength coach for Olympic sports), and assistant coaches Bill Miller, Shad Pospahala and Lorenzo Rivers assist Marcus. Nordenschild will continue his work with the UVa women's basketball team.
